SOUND FAMILIAR

The amount of labor required to collect and arrange the material for this record will hardly be appreciated by one not having experience in the same line. Aside from the perusal of numerous genealogical works, local histories, biographies, and journals, that might throw light on the subject and the personal examination of records, hundreds of letters have been written, and the material facts in the answers extracted and systematically arranged for publication. Frequently several letters would have to be written to the same person, in order to extract the desired information from someone who took little interest in the subject. Others, not fully understanding the purpose of the inquiries, would at once conclude that some property or some large estate coming to the HAMBLETON family was involved, and would write to know its location, value, etc.

This was taken from the Genealogical Record of the HAMBLETON Family of Bucks Co. Pa. written by Chalkley Hambleton in 1887 Submitted by Leuwanna Williams.

FIRST CHURCH IN JACKSON TOWNSHIP, HANCOCK CO. INDIANA

Submitted by Violet DeGroot

For several years prior to any regular church organization there seems to have existed among the settlers a co-operation in spiritual matters, although they differed somewhat in their religious beliefs. They erected a rude log house for worship and named it "The Union Meeting House." It stood a few rods south of the present church. Like many of the early places of worship it was built of unhewn logs, with clapboard roof, and puncheon floor. The doors were hung on wooden hinges, and the seats, without backs, were made of puncheon with heavy wooden pins for legs. The house was heated in cold weather by burning charcoal in an open space in the puncheon floor at either end of the room. The charcoal was obtained by burning, during the summer or autumn months, large piles of wood covered with a thin layer of earth.

Realizing the need of a permanent church organization, a council of elders was called to "constitute a church in Gospel order." The council met at the house of Daniel Priddy, September 8, 1839. It was presided over by Elders John Walker and Peter Reder, and the following named persons: Aaron Powell, Elizabeth Powell, Sisom Siddle, Elizabeth Siddle, Lemuel Perrin, and Charlotte Tygart, who, "upon being examined and found in the faith of the Gospel were constituted a legal church of Jesus Christ."

The minutes also show that: "The church in council being regularly organized covenant our faith to be as follows, to wit: we believe the Old and New Testament to be the Word of God and of Divine authority and the only true and infallible rule of faith and practice of all Christians to follow. As such we take the Word of God for our man of council which is able through faith in Jesus Christ to make us wise unto salvation."

Thus was formed a nucleus of men and women with avowed principles of faith and practice which attracted kindred spirits, and in a few years such men as Samuel Smith, Jordan Lacy, Meredith Walker, John Level, John Street, Peter Furman, Hardy Wells, Aaron Powell, John B. Simmons, Elbert Wales, and a number of others with their families united by obedience and letter with the little band already organized.

The records of the church also show with what degree of care the members sought to carry out the injunction, "Let everything be done in decency and good order." The officers, for instance, were chosen not as "lords over God's heritage, but as servants of the church." On February 13, 1841, the members sitting as a council "say that the church at Union Meeting House shall be called the Reformed Baptist Church of Christ."

ON HISTORY OF MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCHES OF HUNT COUNTY, TEXAS

Rev. Stephen Marshall was born near Purdy, McNary County, Tennessee, October, 13, 1822. His father died when he was a small boy; after that his mother moved to Mississippi and settled in Kemper County. In 1839 he went to Marion County, Arkansas. On October 7th, 1840 he married Miss Cyrena Keith and the same year both professed faith in Christ and were baptised by Rev. G.W. Baines, Sr. for that faith in God, Brother Marshall ever cherished the warmest love, and often spoke of his ability as a preacher and of his many noble qualities as a Christian gentleman.

In 1845, he moved to Titus County, Texas, and settled near Mt. Vernon. The following year he was licensed to preach by the Church of which Rev. Charley Hones was pastor. The church became divided in sentiment upon the mission question. Hones and a small minority went to the anti-missionaries while Marshall and the others held to the faith of our fathers.

In 1849, he moved to Hunt County and united with the Bethlehem Church, eight miles east of Greenville, by which he was ordained to the full work of the ministry the same year. In 1854, he moved to a settlement of Indian Creek, long known as Pilgrim, now Pike. He united with Shiloh Church, which was ten miles from his home, and four miles north of where the town of Leonard now stands, of which he became the self-sacrificing pastor. It was not the custom then to pay pastors for their services and often when his horses were needed to plow his field, he would walk to his appointment. When there were enough people in his own neighborhood to make a small congregation, he would walk to his appointments or have them in his own house. He would hold protracted meetings during which he would furnish bread, beef and coffee for all who came from a distance and camped on the ground.

In 1866, he organized Pilgrim Church of 40 members where he faithfully served as pastor and near the house which he helped to build, and in which he preached. His body now calmly lies and softly sleeps. He was the first man that preached the gospel in the Wild Cat thicket, and during the dark days that immediately followed the close of the late war. When the feud between the Lee and Peacock parties raged with relentless fury, and it was unsafe for men to pass, he remained steadfastly at his post. One of his favorite maxims was, "Always do your duty, and leave results with God."

ON HISTORY OF MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCHES OF HUNT COUNTY
TEXAS cont.

On certain occasions one of his granddaughters who was visiting him did not want to go to church because she was not dressed as finely as some other girls. He mildly rebuked her and said, "Go to church, my child, to learn of God, not to show your clothes." And in after years when his afflictions were too great for him to attend church, he was on a visit to that same granddaughter, and would not let her remain at home on his account, said that he would rather stay alone than have any one neglect his duty to God.

He never worried over misfortunes, believing that all things that befall us in the way of divine providence. "work together for good to them that love God." Affectionate and warm hearted by nature, he was a tender and loving husband, a kind father, a generous neighbor, and a faithful Christian. He was pastor of Shiloh Church twelve years; Little Jordan, four; Boisd'arc, six; Pilgrim, six; Prosperity, five; and of other churches in other counties.

His first wife died, and on June 6th, 1880, he married Mrs. N.E. Weathers, a devoted Christian woman, who was a valuable helpmate, and a great comfort to him in the last years of his pilgrimage. His death bed was a scene of triumph. His doctor, wife, and children, who came from different parts of the state were gathered around him. He made his will, which was perfectly satisfactory to all parties, paid his doctor's bill, and then said, "Now I don't want you to weep and mourn when I am gone. My life is of no importance here now. I have finished my course and shall rest in the Paradise of God until the resurrection of the just, when I shall rise in a glorified body and appear before the judgement seat of Christ, not to be judged, but to receive a crown of righteousness which the Lord the Righteous judge shall give me in that day. Prepare to meet me there." He then offered up his last prayer and fell asleep in Jesus, October 14th, 1887.

Submitted by- Kathy Fairey, great-great- granddaughter to Rev. Stephen Marshall.

NOTE: The doctor mentioned above was most likely the Marshall family Physician-Dr. Harrison Morrow (also Stephen Marshall's son-in-law).
