Some early History
From 1870 to 1883 compiled by

H. B. Kelly

This area was first established as Peketan county in 1860. In 1865 Peketan was abolished, and what is now McPherson was made a portion of Marion county, which extended from the west line of Chase county to the western boundary of Kansas. On March 1, 1870, McPherson county was formerly organized with 738 inhabitants. The county seat was designated as Sweadal, on section 30, township 17 and range 3.

In the year 1855, Fuller's Ranch, the first location made by a white man in the county was established at Old Empire. The first white women in McPherson county were Clara and Norma Noma, who resided at Fuller's Ranch in 1856. The second white settler in the county was Isaac Sharp, who settled as a trader on the Maxwell estate, in 1859, on the creek that now bears his name. The first death of a white person in the county occurred on Sharp's creek in 1859, and was the mother of Isaac Sharo. Mrs. Maxwell was the first permanent female resident and resided on Sharp's creek in 1866. In the year 1865, was built on Little River what is now known as Stone Corral, by a man named Wheeler. In 1866, Lieutenant Colonel Custer garrisoned the west line of the county with his famous Seventh Cavalry. In January, 1866, Milton and Jeff Harper and S. Delano settled on Sharp's creek. April, 1866, brought Solomon and David Stephens who settled on the Smoky river near where Marquette is now situated. Ten Swedes settled near Lindsborg in May 1867. The same year J. F. Hughes, J. M. Claypool and H. Weber settled on the Smoky. The Tolles and Reeses settled on Gypsum creek in May, 1867. Sharp's creek and Smoky received quite an influx of settlers during May, 1866, being D. B. Ray, Robert Minnes, E. R. Falley and J. G. Maxwell and family. In 1868 the Swedish colony with P. F. Lindh at the head located on the Smoky river near Marquette, and the Chicago Swedish colony located Lindsborg. The southern portion of the county, on Turkey creek was settled in the spring of 1870, by James Finan, John Savage, James Geary, S. Parrott, and quite a number of French settlers. In 1871, a large settlement from Ohio known as the soldier colony of Ashtabula, located and gave the name to King City. The officers of this colony were, president, E. L. King, vice president, John W. Hill, secretary, J. U. Fellows, treasurer, J. R. Williams. The agents of the company traversed nearly the entire state before selecting their location in McPherson county. The colony numbered about fifteen families, besides others from Indiana. King City improved for some time and was a candidate for county-seat honors, but after the seat of government was located at McPherson in 1873, the former town gradually died and about all that remains there now is a post office. In September, 1873, the Menonites first settled in the county upon large tracts of land which they purchased of the A. T. & S. F. Ry. Co. and at present are the principal owners of all that land in two tiers of townships in the southern part of the county. A son of Congressman Phillips was found frozen to death on the Smoky in 1867. The Pawnee Indians gave the settlers considerable trouble in 1867, and killed a man named R. Temple on Gypsum creek, at or near where Eureka cemetery now is.

Again in 1868, the settlers were subjected to Indian depredations, though no lives were lost. In September of this year a band of Osages while raiding the country carried off Mrs. Bassett, and a child but a few days old. Owing to the weakness of the mother she was left on the prairie by her captors, where she was found by her husband and others in pursuit, in an almost famished condition. For protection against the Indians a military company was formed in the spring of 1870, Captain L. N. Holmberg, First Lieutenant Sol. Stephens, Second Lieutenant G. W. Shields. The first post office was at Sweadal, on L. N. Holmberg's farm, 1868. The first marriage ceremony performed in the county was for Mr. Lindstrum and Miss Larson. Solomon Stephens and L. Holmberg were the first two justices of the peace in the county by appointment. In 1868, the season was droughty and a herd of buffaloes thirty miles in length drank the Smoky river dry. Andrew Brown, the first white child born in the county, put in appearance, on Sharp's creek August 19, 1869. Louis Stephens, second white child born in the county, claimed attention September 4, 1869. School district No. 1, was organized in Gypsum creek township in 1870. E. W. Broomfield was murdered near Inman lake, where his body was found in 1870. C. Norris, of Turkey creek, was killed by James Savage in 1871. Robert Keiser poisoned his wife and her paramour in 1872. County Commissioner James Weir was drowned in Turkey creek in October, 1872. The last buffalo was killed in the county by W. C. Grandy in 1875. Fleming Maize sold 160 acres of land to the county in June, 1875, for a poor farm. March, 1875, the county treasury was robbed of $3,225.44, and the county commissioners resolved to purchase a safe.
