GEORGE H. PICKER

The subject of this sketch was born in Lincolnshire, England on the 15th of April, 1850, and died at his home near Coffeyville, Montgomery, county, Kansas, October 16th 1901. His parents came to America in 1852, settling at Fremont, Ohio, where they lived until 1865, when they moved to Auburn, Ind.

Mr Picker learned his trade while in Auburn, that of Brick-mason stonemason and plasterer. In 1872 he married Miss Lucy Jones who, with one adopted daughter, still survives him. In 1877 they moved to Kansas, settling on a farm near Coffeyville, where they lived until his death.

Mr. Picker was a contractor and builder and worked at his trade and was also quite an extensive farmer. He was connected with the Coffeyville Vitrified Brick and Tile Company and was a member of the Coffeyville Camp No. 665, M W.A. He was a good citizen and neighbor, and in his death the community lost a good man. He was generous to a fault and was loved and respected by all who knew him.

EARLY CITIZENS OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY, KANSAS

The following is a reprint from biographies which appeared in the History of Montgomery, County, Kansas published by L. Wallace Duncan, Iola, Kansas 1903.

THOMAS J, BOOTH

A citizen whose interests have been so diversified, whose business connections so substantial and whose character comparatively so unique, can not fail to prove of interest to the peruser of local history and should have a place in the detailed affairs of the locality which it is the purpose of this volume to record. Thomas J. Booth was in Montgomery county almost from the beginning and from a beardless boy to a man in the afternoon of life, his history has been interwoven with that of the moving spirits in the everyday affairs of the county and presents a record of successes which indicate, unmistakably a genius for grappling with men and affairs.

A pioneer of the county, Mr. Booth dates his advent here at 1870, when he accompanied his father's family from DesMoines county, Iowa, and settled on the raw prairie near White Post school house, six miles west and a little north of Independence. The father was Milton Booth who died after eight years of residence in the county, at senenty years old. Bedford county, West irginia was the latter's native place and, while he was of English extrac--tion, he was far removed from his original British ancestor, who was his paternal grandfather. From West Virginia he came out to Adams county, Illinois, where his family was born. His second wife was Agatha Adams, who died in Des Moines, Iowa, being the mother of the following: Ellen, wife of Jonas Pickler, of Montgomery county, Kansas; Fred, of Darby, Montana; Minnie, deceased; Thomas J., of this record; and Henry and Charles, deceased. By his first marriage there were four children: James, of Pueblo, Col.; Mrs usan Burnett, of Red Oak, Iowa and Marquis and Virginia deceased.

In Iowa and in Kansas our subject acquired a liberal education in the common schools. He taught country school for a time, as an introduction to the serious side of life, and then, as a junior member of the firm of Shoemaker and Booth, engaged as a cattle dealer and shipper for nine years. This business gave him a wide acquaintance over Southern Kansas and he knew personally nearly every permanent settler in Mnntgomery county. With the business of farming, and stock raising and as a feeder and shipper he was connected until 1894, when he became interested in mercantile pursuits, displaying the same aptness and adaptation for the new business as for the old. In 1894 he organized the Union Implement Company of Independence, of which he is Secretary and Treasurer and active manager. This, with other important business interests in the county, employs him fully and warrants his characterization as one of the busy men of Independence.

In the month of October---23---1879, Mr. Booth married Amanda, a daughter of William Peebler, who settled in Montgomery county the same year with the Booths. In April, 1901, Mrs. Booth died, leaving three children as follows: Clyde, of Darby, Montana; Nellie, bookkeeper for the Union Implement Company, and Ethel.

Mr Booth is connected with many secret and insurance orders and besides being a member of both Woodmen orders he is an Elk and a high Mason. He belongs to the Blue Lodge, the Chapter Commandry, the Shrine and the Consistory at Wichita, 32d degree. He is a Republican, without apology for his faith, and is an active spirit in the promotion of enterprises looking to the public weal as well as to his legitimate personal gain. He is not tied to formalities and in sympathy with Straight-jacketism on many lines but believes in a reasonable liberality of thought and action consistent with the duties of a good citizen. He is endowed with a wide streak of good nature, looks for the good side of all things and is universally popular as a citizen of the county.
