HISTORY OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY, KANSAS 1909

NOAH E. BOUTON

The honored citizen and worthy townsman whose name heads this review came as a pioneer to Montgomery county in 1870. He was then but twenty years old and he settled three miles northeast of where Cherryvale was afterward located. Here he cast his maiden vote and struck the initial licks of his long and honored career in the county. For thirty years he was occupied with the reduction and improvement of his homestead and then sold it and invested in the farm on which he resides, four miles north of the metropolis of Cherry township.

November 29, 1849, Noah E. Bouton was born in Delaware county, New York. His father was Noah E. Bouton and his mother Mary Todd, both natives of the same county in New York. The father was an iron moulder, and also a carpenter, and, in 1871, came to Labette county, Ks., where he passed away at eighty-seven years old. His wife, who died early in life, bore him fifteen children, only five of whom now survive, namely: Deborah Smalley, of Wilson county, Ks.; Mrs Sarah Hinkley, Mrs Adaline Whitbeck, Mrs Josephine Stockdale, and Noah E., the subject of this article.

The loss of his mother in his childhood caused Noah E. Bouton to make his home with his oldest sister while growing up. He learned the carpenter trade on the approach of manhood and began life a mechanic. He acquired a country school education in Kankakee county Illinois, to which place he went in 1850, along with the family. July 4, 1867, he was married to Elizabeth Phares, a lady born in Tipton county, Indiana. Two years after their marriage Mr and Mrs Bouton turned their steps toward the untamed prairies of Kansas and established themselves in Montgomery county. Here Mrs Bouton died in 1875, at twenty eight years of age, without issue. August 27, 1876, he married Lucy V. Yeager, who came to Kansas in 1869 from her birthplace in Iowa. She was a daughter of A.B. and Adda Yeager, the present Deputy Probate Judge of Montgomery county. The Yeager children were four in number; Edward C., Clara T., Mrs Bouton, and Frank deceased.

Mrs Bouton's residence on the frontier near the lines of Montgomery and Labette counties brought her into close proximity to the notorious Bender family. She knew John and Kate well and familiar with their turnout as it passed to and fro past the Yeager home to Cherryvale. When the gory discovery was finally made in the Bender orchard, Mr and Mrs Bouton were on the ground and saw the bodies of their victims exhumed.

When Mr. Bouton came to Montgomery county the claim which he took was widely separated from civilization.

Independence was their trading point and it contained no semblance of a town for a year afterward. Erie was the point where he went to mill and he occasionally hauled stuff from St. Scott and Humboldt.

In the politics of the county Mr. Bouton has ever taken a lively interest. He has frequently been honored with public office, being elected Trustee of Cherry township three terms, county commissioner by election from 1886 to 1893 and Probate Judge of the county from 1895 to 1897. He is a radical Republican and a popular party man.

Mr and Mrs Boutons family consisted of six children, namely Adda L. and Charles both deceased; Amanda E, wife of Guy B Dartness, of Cherryvale, Hibbard, deceased; Freddie O. and Olla Bell.

LEWIS A RUNDELL

In this utilitarian age when the trend of population is so largely toward the great cities, it is gratifying to note the success of those young men who have resisted the temptation to leave the farm and are engaged in the noble occupation from whose ranks have risen some of the greatest men which this country has produced. All honor to them: and may they so instill into the minds of their progeny a love for the soil that the tinsel of city life will have but the effect of turning their minds the more contentedly to furrow and field. The gentleman whose name initiates this paragraph is a product of Montgomery's schools and rural society and is a fit representative of that stirring and energetic young manhood for which the county is famous.

Mr Rundell was born in Charleston, Mo, in the year 1871, and is the son of one of the county's most respected yeomen, Mr Levi E Rundell and his wife, nee Miss Mary King. The father was born in the State of Mississippi, Sept 4, 1831. Having lost his parents early in life, Mr. Rundell, at the age of fifteen years, went up the river to Madison Co., Illinois, where he engaged in farming for a period of some twenty years. It was here that he met and married his wife. They later moved to Charleston, Mo., and in 1874, located a mile and a half east of Independence, near where they now reside. Levi Rundell is a man whose citizenship at all times has lacked nothing of those essential qualities necessary in the framework of a peace-loving and law-abiding community and his friends in the county are legion.

Lewis, the son, is "a chip off the old block," and is daily proving his right to the good will which is his by inheritance. He was given a good district school education and when he came to years of discretion began farming on his own account. In 1899, he purchased the farm he now cultivates. It lies 4 1/2 miles east and 1 mile south of Independence and consists of 220 acres of as good farming land as may be found in the county. He is fast bringing this farm into a high state of cultivation and as time passes is adding substantial improvements. No young farmer of the county has a brighter financial outlook, and none stands higher in the general estimation.

Marriage was entered into by Mr Rundell in 1895. Mrs Rundell was Hester Madden, and she is the daughter of John and Keturah (Matsler) Madden, respected farmers of the county. She is the mother of these bright and healthy children whose respective names are: Levi, seven; Lewis, four; and Lloyd, one year of age.

In religious belief Mr and Mrs Rundell are Methodists, being workers in and liberal supporters of that denomination, while in political matters the party founded by the greatest of all statemen, Thomas Jefferson, receive the suffrage of our honored subject.

G. Maire

On November 28, '1844 A.D. in the public building of the ninth arrondissement (borough) of Paris. Marriage decree of Mr. Jean Louis Nolsch, pastry-maker's assistant, 33 years old, living in Paris (on the) Rue des barrez /TAPE/ born at Goepplinguel(?) (Wurtemberg) on the 8th of September, 1811, major son of Jean Paul Nolsch, baker, and of Elizabeth Marguerite Gerber, his wife, absent without news.

And of Miss Anne Marie Reitter, laundress, 24 years old, living at the above-mentioned Rue des barrez, No. 22, born at Ribeauville (hautrhin) on December 17, 1819, major daughter of Andre Reitter, shoeing-smith, and of Anne Marie Walter, his wife, living at the said place, and having consented to this marriage following (the) decree passed before Mr. Pfohl, notary, at the same place on October 11 last. In accordance with the directive of the Council of State of the 4th of Thermidor to the 13th, the groom and the four witnesses of his marriage have affirmed under oath, in our hands, that he finds it impossible to represent the consent of his father and mother() a notary decree testifying to their absence, their last domicile having been /MARGIN/

The decrees produced (SOMETHING ABOUT "ABOVE AND BEYOND THE DOWRY" IS OBSCURED BY MARGIN) and annexed are: taken from the register of the banns of marriage, made and posted without opposition at this Mayoral (Building) on the 17th and 24th of this month, the decrees attesting to the births and consent above-mentioned, from those documents as well as from Chapter 6 of the first book of the Civil Code concerning the legitimate rights and duties of spouses, it has presently been /TAPE/ by me, Officer of the Civil State. The present spouses have declared in loud and intelligible voice taking in marriage, the one, Anne Marie Reitter, the other, Jean Louis Nolsch, in the presence of Messers., first, Georges Stahl, former baker, 56 years old, living at Allee des Veuves, No. 2, cousin of the groom; second, Georges Gicker, baker, 32 years old, rue Bethisy No. 18, friend; third, Pierre Cottin,*29 years old, living at Rue des barrez St. Paul 16th, (No.) 12, friend; fourth, Julien Devicque, painter, 23 years old, living at Rue du Faubourg du Roule, No. 32, friend. /TAPE/ I, adjunct mayor of the ninth arrondissement of Paris, have publically pronounced that, in the name of the law, the spouses are united in marriage. After the reading of this decree made to the parties and witnesses, they have signed with me, with the exception of the bride who has declared her inability to sign.

Thus signed: Nolsch, Stahl, Gicker, Cottin, Devicque, and Morel d'Arleux /TAPE/

For Conformed Sending, delivered on December 7, 1847

The Mayor

NOTES

- Repairs to the original, and right-hand margins on the copy, have obscured several words
- Proper names (names of streets, city names) in the document are difficult to verify. Your guess is as good as mine.
- Notations in the left margin, where legible, were incorporated into translation.
- line 33 should read: "... Pierre ~~Cottin~~, baker, 29 years old..."
- line 2, the groom's name is JEAN LOUIS NÖLSCH, as in lines 29-30
- line 15: Thermidor is a month of the revolutionary calendar. The council was evidently in session from the 4TH to the 13TH of the month.
- lines 6 & 10 - "major" refers to being of legal age
- - line 10 - "hautrhin" is the Upper Rhine area, presumably
- line 41 - the French usage indicates that the bride was illiterate: "who has declared not to know how."
- line 36 - the obscured words are probably "APRÈS QUOI" : "after which,"
- line 43 - the obscured word may be: ADJUVANT
- - line 18 - the ellipsis ( ) in the translation would appear to be filled by: "there is a notary decree..."
- - line 44 could read: "For Conformed Processing", which is better
- - line 7: "without news" is a guess - the margin obscured the last word which looks like NOUVELLE, but probably isn't.
