This issue of the Descender is dedicated to the VARIOUS VARIETIES of GENEALOGISTS.

As genealogist you think you have problems trying to trace your family tree back over the ages. Looking back say some 75 years ago you've got it easy today. Thousands upon thousands of books have been published since that time providing family histories, government records, censuses, church records and many other documents. At that point it was a matter of digging through these page by page. Some could be obtained on inter library loan. Others you had to travel long distances to find them in some archives or library. Today many of these hard to find records can now be accessed on the Internet through the Mormon archives, which are being expanded daily. Each day the Internet search capabilities continues to expand.

Lets face it you have it easy. From all this you might expect every thing to get easier and easier. But, and that's a "BIG BUT", there is a developing undercurrent that may create all kinds of hair pulling for some genealogist a century from now. The legislature in Oklahoma passed a law allowing a child's name entered on its birth certificate to be anything the mother or parents desire and its given name does not need to be that of either parent. One good thing is that the birth certificate does have the mother's name, as there is no question about that interrelationship. On the other hand the father may be of question or even unknown. In the resent controversy of Anna Nicole Smith, DNA solved the problem legally but not on her daughter's birth certificate. Some 10 years back reportedly 60% of the students in the Caney School System were living with only one of their parents or with other family members such as grandparents. In some cases the children's given name was not that of whom they were living with. Divorce and remarriage are also contributors to this problem. In some cases one or more children will have different surnames. In the 1980's when I and my wife were teaching 3rd/4th grade Sunday School Classes in introducing the Book of Genesis we would use a short family lineage chart to illustrate the Biblical lineage as set out in the Bible. I would guess that 20% of the students did not know who their grandparents were on one side of their family or the other. Some had never seen their grandparents.

Today this undercurrent is growing. Single parents are becoming more common. In the same vain families of unmarried parents are rapidly increasing. Recent statistics show that for Afro-Americans this is as high as 80% of couples living together. Further complicating this undercurrent is that of mixed racial marriages. Families where either the mother or the father are illegal immigrants will provide an even more difficult problem if not untraceable.

Going a step further, there are the cases of families with two legal or illegal married male or two female parents. These of course are adopted parents or in the case of the females embryo implants.

OH! The wicked web we mortals weave. Ye, O' Editor

Library to reopen

The newly-expanded and newly-renovated Independence Public Library, 220 E. Maple, is set to open to the public during a grand opening ceremony from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., on Saturday, Feb. 10. The library, which was built in about 1910, received a much-needed expansion while the older facility received a facelift. The public is invited to grand opening, which will include music, book authors and kids' games. A ribbon cutting featuring area dignitaries will begin at 10 a.m. (Photo by Andy Taylor)

The Independence Public Library had its dedication on Saturday, February 10, 2007. It is a lovely new building. It is amazing how the new and the old building were joined together.

The important part for the genealogist is the Kansas Room. It is in the old Carnegie Library on the main floor and it looks so nice. The floors under the carpet were made to shine so beautifully. It is in two rooms, which makes it a little difficult to watch but it can be done.

To get to the Kansas Room you must go into the new library, the stairs or the elevator will be to the right of the entrance, go to the second floor and go toward the center and to the right you will see the Kansas Room sign.

We, who do genealogy research are grateful to be given these lovely rooms to research in. We thank Mr. Pete Daniels the library director for remembering us.

Whereas Jackson Raney of Montgomery County, Maryland, has deposited in the GENERAL LAND OFFICE of the United States a Certificate of the REGISTER OF THE LAND OFFICE at Washington, D.C., whereby it appears that FULL PAYMENT has been made by the said Jackson Raney according to the provisions of the Act of Congress of the 24th of April, 1820, entitled "An Act making further provision for the sale of the Public Lands," for and the Act of the 15th of July, 1870, for the South East quarter of Section Seven in Township Thirty four South, of Range Sixteen East, in the District of Georgia formerly subject to sale at Mount Airy now Independence, Maryland, containing one hundred and sixty acres, according to the Official Plat of the Survey of the said lands, returned to the GENERAL LAND OFFICE by the SURVEYOR GENERAL, which said Tract has been purchased by the said Jackson Raney,

John, know ye, That the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in consideration of the premises, and in conformity with the several Acts of Congress in such case made and provided, HAVE GIVEN AND GRANTED, and by these presents DO GIVE AND GRANT, unto the said Jackson Raney, and to his heirs, the said Tract above described; to have and to hold the same, together with all the rights, privileges, immunities, and appurtenances, of whatsoever nature, thereto belonging, unto the said Jackson Raney, and to his heirs and assigns forever.

In testimony whereof, J. Mygier S. Grant, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, have caused these letters to be made Patent, and the Seal of the GENERAL LAND OFFICE to be hereunto affixed.

BY THE PRESIDENT, J. Mygier S. Grant
By J. H. ... Secretary

RECORDED, Vol. 4, Page 176

Recorder of the General Land Office

Note: You will note that this Land Certificate is signed by 'U. S. Grant'. This is not his signature but it is a person in the US Department Interior who was a proxy authorized to sign his name. It would have been impossible for the President of the United States to sign each of the thousands of land certificates issued daily during this period of time. It would have been almost a full 24 hour, 7 day a week job.

RANEY FAMILY HISTORY

WORK KEEPS HER YOUNG—Mrs. Mary Raney, 82, explains how to make the onion bulbs larger by flattening the long stems with a hoe.

She is standing among the potato plants. She plants and tills her garden, almost an acre large, without help. She says work keeps her young.

The term beautiful people means something when you meet Mary Raney.

Her bright, blue eyes and clear, virtually unlined complexion belie her years.

She appears more active and alert than people far younger than she.

Mrs. Raney was born in 1890. A vibrant woman of pioneer stock, she plants a garden almost an acre in size yearly, keeps chickens and fishes. And she won't quit driving, she says, until they haul her off to the cemetery.

Although full of anecdotes which would enrich any history class, she reads the newspaper daily, and has some interesting reflections on the world today.

In her garden, thriving in the hot Kansas sun, she walked among the rows of potatoes, onions, corn, peas, dill, lettuce, tomatoes, turnips and horseradish.

The original seed peas for the pea plants were carried from Illinois to Kansas in 1867 by her parents-in-law, although the mother plants, in Illinois, were years older.

She got those seed peas when she was "15 or 16" when the Raney's were just neighbors.

She married the Raney boy in 1908.

She told the secret of choosing the seed peas for next year's crop. Just before they turn white, she said, plucking one or two.

Proud of her garden, she explained how she planted the rows to allow room for the hoe.

All the rows were planted by hand. She had no help.

"A weed," she exclaimed, jerking it up by the roots. "Now don't you go telling I got a weed," she grinned.

She works in the garden from 8 a.m. until noon, then goes fishing. Or shops in town.

"Work keeps me young," she smiled. "Yes, mam, I'm not kidding. I'd die right now if I had to give up working."

But don't look at my house, she smiled. I don't keep house. She sat in the parlor, talking of some of the family history. Her eyes sparkle, she is witty and warm.

"That chair belonged to my grandfather," she said, nodding in the direction of a wicker rocker. "My dad courted my mother on that chair."

Her grandfather on her mother's side, McCaleb Nash, died from being almost starved in a Confederate prison camp.

He was captured by the Confederate forces nine miles out of Nashville, she said. "I've got a letter written Feb. 22, 1862, from my grandfather to Ben Morgan, my grandmother's brother. He was farming the place while Granddad was at war."

The letter has been read in the high school history classes of Coffeyville by one grandson, great-grandson and great-great-grandson of that man. The letter told of skirmishes around Nashville, and instructed Morgan to watch out for Nash's wife, and not let her get out in the mud when she went to feed the animals.

"He stayed 40 days in that camp," she said. "The Yankees traded 250 men for him, and he died right after being traded. They sent him home in a metallic coffin; my mother remembered rubbing her hands on it."

She said she has letters from relatives or friends from every war—from the Civil War, Spanish American War, World War I, World War II, Korea and Vietnam.

When Grandfather Nash died, she said, the family came to Kansas.

"There was no Coffeyville whatever. Just a store in Parker."

It was the same when the Raney family came to Kansas.

He (Raney) got a deed from President Grant that he and his heirs would have the acres of land forever that they had settled on. It was out where the air field is now, said Mrs. Raney, and Uncle Sam took it.

She brought out an old ledger book, dated 1899, with items bought at the time. It includes the birth dates and deaths of the family.

The items included lye, shoes for 75 cents, bucket of molasses, tea, tobacco—always tobacco, smiled Mrs. Raney—100 pounds of flour for $2.75, coffee, bushel of potatoes for 40 cents, 100 pounds of beans for $1 and bourbon for 75 cents a quart.

Turning through the old book, she pointed out a wagon for $65, and sod plow for $18.25, Castor oil, quinine, turpentine and syrup of squills.

A one room log cabin was built with lumber, and nails costing $201. And the book included 3,000 pounds of barb wire to fence the place.

Closing the book, she began to tell of her father, A.B. Carpenter, who was known as Paul Revere up north of Independence, where they lived, she said.

"A cloudburst hit up at Elk City and the Elk River overflowed," she said. "The water came in 10 and 12 foot rolls and there was such a roar. My father warned seven families and saved their lives. He rode on horseback, hollering 'Run for your lives!' He opened the gates to let the stock out so they could swim to safety."

One man, she laughed, told my father, "I'll kill you if you let the stock out."

Did he? "You bet he did!" And that family just went upstairs in the house. All the others stayed at our house. We lived about a mile from the river.

"After the flood receded," she said, "my father rode over and got the family from the upstairs of the house, and found the man in the top of a tree. My father asked if he was still wanting to kill him, and he said he was never happier to see anyone in his life."

Her father was buried in Elmwood Cemetery years later. Her mother was the third person to be buried in Fairview Cemetery. And her mother-in-law is buried in Kallach Cemetery.

"I helped clear Kallach Cemetery," she said. "It was all grown over."

"The Farm Bureau at that time sent me to Parsons to get a garden lesson. My project was to clean up a yard."

"I decided to clean up the cemetery, and the others wanted me to clean a yard, but I told them 'I'm head cheese of this project.'"

"I went down to The Journal, and told them what I was going to do. They put a piece in the paper about it."

"I took up a collection, put up tombstones, filled in old graves, and cleaned it up."

She won first prize for her project, she remembered—$15.

Then, she continued, a man bought the land on both sides of the cemetery. He put up a fence, and a gate and padlocked it.

"I went over there and lifted the padlock and went into the cemetery. The man told me he was going to shoot me."

"Just before Decoration Day a lawyer called the man and told him to take that padlock off."

"Some of the people with kinfolk buried there wanted to cut up his fence at night but I said no, let's do it the right way. It took me two years."

"I got a petition with 75 names, only two wouldn't sign it. And we got that gate open. That night, there wasn't one who wasn't dead who didn't do a dance."

With a lovely smile and flashing blue eyes, she pondered some thoughts on today.

Work—if I'd sit and not do anything, I wouldn't be worth a tinker's dam.

Welfare—It's the damn welfare's fault. Let 'em work or starve. That's what I had to do. My husband and I worked for board and $10 a month, for both of us. I managed to save $1,000 and buy our own home. There are too many on welfare that could work. If we stopped taking care of those welfare people, we'd all have more money to take home.

Education—You've got to have a high school education. But a lot of young people go to college because they can. Or to get away from home. And perseverance pays off. But college isn't for everybody.

College riots—A disgrace to God. I think punishment would put a stop to it.

Aging—You're as old as you feel. I don't feel like I'm 82. But those who sit around and do nothing are old, even if they're young.

Reading—I read a lot. Good stories. I used to go into town once a week in 1897 to pick up the Journal. I still read it every day. But I think trash and sex ought to be taken out of newspapers and television.

Television—It's a lot of company and there are lots of good programs. I like "Bonanza" and the "High Chaparral," but mostly I watch the news, sports and weather. But some things shouldn't be shown on TV. Some of the things are no good for kids. They learn too much too soon.

Man on the Moon—We've been there once and that's enough. We can do more good for poor people with the money.

Today's youth—I don't think some of them want to learn. And they won't listen. If kids talk back, I believe they ought to be slapped in the mouth. Today's youth are so different. You never heard of them stealing, robbing or breaking in and tearing up places when I was a girl. That's the parents' fault. They give them money and everything. They don't have enough to do. But don't get me wrong, not all kids are like that.

Money—It's not what you earn, it's what you save.

America—The good people never open their mouths. They work.

KILLS HIMSELF AT LENAPAH

A. J. RANEY ENDS HIS LIFE WITH A BULLET.

Suicide Took Place Early Sunday Morning—A Well Known Citizen Gone.

A. J. Raney, a well known and highly respected citizen of this section, committed suicide early Sunday morning at his place two and one-half miles east of Lenapah and fourteen miles southeast of Coffeyville. Mr. Raney was living on a place, he rented from J. Randolph Wells and it was there that he shot himself. He was found at daylight and had evidently been dead but a short time. The weapon used was a revolver, and the bullet went through his heart and lung, coming out on the left side of his back.

The only cause known for the suicide was his ill health. For some time he had been unable to sleep and it is thought that he had become desperate and decided to end his troubles by death.

Mr. Raney was well known and highly respected in Coffeyville. He lived for many years on an eighty-acre farm a few miles northeast of town and was considered a well-to-do farmer. Then he sold one-half of his land and went to the Territory, where he rented a place from J. R. Wells east of Lenapah. He leaves a wife and four children, one of whom, Miss Julia Raney, is now in the city. He also had a brother in Chautauqua county.

Great Advice, It's All True!

If a dog was the teacher you would learn stuff like:

When loved ones come home, always run to greet them.

Never pass up the opportunity to go for a joyride. Allow the experience of fresh air and the wind in your face to be pure ecstasy.

When it's in your best interest, practice obedience. Let others know when they've invaded your territory.

Take naps.

Stretch before rising. Run, romp, and play daily.

Thrive on attention and let people touch you.

Avoid biting when a simple growl will do.

On warm days, stop to lie on your back in the grass.

On hot days, drink lots of water and lie under a shady tree.

When you're happy, dance around and wag your entire body.

No matter how often you're scolded, don't buy into the guilt thing and pout.

Run right back and make friends.

Delight in the simple joy of a long walk.

Eat with gusto and enthusiasm. Stop when you have had enough.

Be loyal. Never pretend to be something you're not.

If what you want lies buried, dig until you find it

When someone is having a bad day, be silent, sit close by and nuzzle them gently. - Author Unknown

The new Hotel is fast being completed, and makes a good appearance. It is being painted, and when finished and furnished will rank among the finest houses in the country. We understand Mr. Charles Allen and Mr. Laramer have rented it, and it will be in running order in a few weeks.

MARRIED.

At Independence, April 12th, by Judge Watkins, J. W. Reed to Anna J. Williams, both of Center township.

By the same, at the same time and place W. H. Sawyer to Jennie Hughes both of Independence township. By the Rev. D. W. Evans, Mr. Oscar M. Smith, of Cana, to Miss Laura Brown, of Mincuk Illinois.

---Elk City is the third place in the county and yet has but one mail each week from the County Seat. A number of places in the county are very badly used in this respect, but we trust it will not be always thus.

Hon. T. L. Bond, of our County, has been nominated for Register of Land Office, Salina, Kansas. We hope it will be confirmed, and friend Bond will find it a pleasant and profitable position.

Would it not be a pious idea for our City Fathers to have that low place in Pennsylvania Avenue, just north of Maine, graded and filled up?

.....

School will open next Monday, the 12th inst., under the management of A. G. Savage, Principal, Mrs. J. D. Lowe, _____e Walker, and Miss Jennie Epperson, as teachers in the intermediate and primary departments. With such a corps of teachers, we hope for a good school and trust it will _ave the initiative to the building up to a good graded school. And, soon as possible, we hope to see a fine school building, large enough for all the scholars of the City.

THANKS TO OUR READERS

In behalf of our grandson, Christopher White, who is 16 years old and has been fighting the battle of his life against bone cancer, we want to express our gratitude for the hundreds of cards and notes he received from your readers. The messages and gifts contained therein have been very uplifting and have helped to brighten his days. There is no way he can respond to all this correspondence, but our family wants to let you know how much he appreciated them. He is now on the road to recovery after a four-year battle, but still has a long way to go with continuing treatments. We just want to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for your part in initiating this "shower of cards"—a loving expression of care and concern from so many of your readers who do not even know Chris.

After finding this photo, my next thought was "I wonder where these classmates are now?" I was able to find all but one family, Dean Hughes and his sisters. Through the "Wanted's" I was able to locate them. After 66 years we met again. Needless to say, at 80, we looked a little older, but the carefree days at Radical were remembered. ARNOTT R. LAMB

Arnott R. Lamb of Coffeyville, an able and prominent member of the Montgomery county bar, bears the distinction of being a native Kansan, having been born in Toronto, Woodson county, Dec. 8, 1887. He is a son of Giles H. and Bessie (Shipp) Lamb, both of whom are natives of Warren county, Indiana, where the former was born Feb. 22, 1859. Both parents were reared in Indiana and were married there prior to their coming to Kansas in 1882. They first located near Toronto, but later removed to the town of Toronto, where the father of Mr. Lamb was principal of the public schools for about three years. The senior Mr. Lamb took up the study of law, was admitted to the bar, and later was elected county attorney of Woodson county, after which he removed to Yates Center, the county seat of Woodson county, where he has continued to reside to the present time (1911). He has gained an enviable reputation in the legal profession and in politics. In 1897 he was elected state senator as the Republican candidate, and as a law maker won the respect and admiration of his constituents and of the general public.

Arnott R. Lamb was reared in Yates Center and there received his early scholastic training. He was graduated in the Yates Center High School at the age of sixteen, and when seventeen years of age he became a teacher in the schools at Piqua, Kan. He then entered the law department of the University of Kansas, at Lawrence, where he was graduated in 1908. After his admission to the bar in that same year Mr. Lamb located at Coffeyville, Kan., where he has steadily advanced toward the front of his profession. In politics he is a staunch Republican and, in 1910, was elected judge of the Coffeyville city court to serve for a term of two years.

In 1909 Mr. Lamb was united in marriage with Miss May Davis of Parsons, a granddaughter of J.W. Peak, a well known citizen of Parsons, Kan.

CHARLES R. LEWIS

In his native county it has been given Charles Royal Lewis to achieve a position of prominence and influence as a representative of a line of business enterprise that has most important bearing upon both civic and material progress. At Independence, the judicial center of Montgomery County, he is actively and successfully engaged in the real estate business, and his operations include the handling of both city and farm property and the effecting of real-estate exchanges, besides which he has developed a substantial realty insurance business and is serving as notary public, his offices being at 108 1/2 East Main Street, and his residence at 739 West Sycamore Street.

One of the pioneer farms of Montgomery County, Kansas, figures as the place of nativity of Mr. Lewis, who was here born on 26th of June, 1876, a son of David W. and Esther (Lampman) Lewis, his parents being now residents of Cedar County, Missouri, where they make their home on their fine farm near Eldorado Springs.

David W. Lewis was born in the State of Illinois, on the 12th of June, 1852, his parents having been pioneers of that state, where his father was a prosperous farmer, as gauged by the standards of the locality and period, and where he continued to reside until his death. He was a scion of a sterling Scotch family that found its first American representative in Massachusetts in the early colonial period of our national history. David W. Lewis was a lad of twelve years when he accompanied his widowed mother to Kansas, in 1864, and they became pioneer settlers in Montgomery County, where he was reared to maturity and where he experience his full share of the hardships and vicissitudes that fell to the lot of the pioneers. With the passing years definite success attended his efforts as an agriculturist, and he became one of the representative farmers and influential citizens of the county, his mother having here remained until her death, at a venerable age. Mr. Lewis continued his active association with agricultural industry in Montgomery County until 1904, when he removed to his present well improved farm near Eldorado Spring, Missouri. He assisted in the breaking of many acres of the virgin prairie soil in Montgomery County, and in this work became an adept in the management of four and six yokes of oxen in a team. He is a stalwart in the camp of the republican party, served in various township offices in Montgomery County, and he and his wife are active and zealous members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. Lewis, whose maiden name was Esther Lampman, was born in Indiana in 1856, and of the children the subject of this review is the eldest; William died at the age of fourteen years; Anna May is the wife of Roy Wint, city street commissioner of Independence, Kansas; Ernest, who was graduated in the Kansas State Agricultural College at Manhattan and thereafter was for four years an efficient and popular teacher in that institution, but he now gives virtually his entire time and attention to the management of fine orchards owned by him in Missouri and Montana; Frederick, the youngest of the children is a member of the class of 1918 in the Kansas State Agricultural College.

Charles R. Lewis gained his first practical experience in connection with the work of the home farm, and in the meanwhile he attended the district schools of Montgomery County until he had attained to the age of fourteen years, when he entered the high school at Baldwin, Douglas County, in which he was graduated as a member of the class of 1897. As the sequel of an attack of measles he suffered so severe an affliction of his eyes that he was unable to pursue a higher academic course, and under these conditions he turned his attention to the learning the trade of candy manufacturing at Baldwin. He became an expert in the making of fine hand-made confectionery and continued his association with this line of enterprise at Baldwin for three years and three months. He then returned to his native county and resumed his active alliance with the basic industry of agriculture, with which he here continued his identification until 1909. In that year he removed to Independence, the county seat, where he has since been engaged in the real estate business as one of the leading exponents of this line of enterprise in his native county. In addition to handling city and farm properties owned by others he personally holds equity in several residential properties in Independence and also a small farm in Montgomery County.

Though he has manifested no aspiration for public office of any kind, Mr. Lewis is found aligned as a staunch supporter of the cause of the republican party and is emphatically liberal and progressive as a citizen and business man. He and his wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in their home city and he is affiliated with the local organization of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Anti-Horse Thief Association.

At the home of the bride's parents, four miles west of Independence, was solemnized, on the 6th of April, 1904, the marriage of Mr. Lewis to Miss Edna Van Ausdal, daughter of J. T. and Ella Van Ausdal, her father still remaining on this homestead farm and the mother being deceased. Mr. And Mrs. Lewis have two children: Thelma Pauline was born May 1, 1905, and Alice May, August 3, 1910.

SULLIVAN LOMAX

Sullivan Lomax, a lawyer at Cherryvale, Montgomery county, is one of the well known and popular citizens of that county, where he is on the fifth year of his practice as an attorney. He is a native of Indiana, having been born in Orange county of that state, Aug. 21, 1872, a son of Abel and Tamar (White) Lomax. The father was born and reared in Orange county, Indiana, and the mother was a native of North Carolina. The paternal grandfather was Hon. Quinton Lomax, a native of Tennessee who migrated in early life to Indiana and represented his district in the state senate of Indiana at one time. He was a farmer by occupation. The Lomaxes are of English descent, having come into England with the Lombard merchants, and the original American representatives of the family came to this country about 1750. The maternal grandfather, William A. White, was born in North Carolina and became an early settler of Indiana, establishing his homestead in Orange county. The Whites are also of English descent. The father of Sullivan Lomax died at the age of about forty years and his mother was about thirty-six years old when she passed away. They both died in Indiana. They were the parents of ten children, all of whom but one grew to maturity and six of whom survive at this writing. Sullivan Lomax is the seventh child and the fourth son in order of birth. His boyhood days were spent in Indiana until he was thirteen years old, when upon the death of his parents, July 4, 1885, he came to Kansas and took up residence at the home of an older brother at Cherryvale. The first school he attended was taught by his eldest brother, who was only seventeen years old at that time, in Orange county, Indiana, the same being a district school known as "The Gravel Run" school. After coming to Cherryvale he completed the course and graduated in the common schools at that place. He resided with his brother in Cherryvale for about two years and then started out for himself, working at anything he could get to do for his board and attending school in the winter. He herded cattle and did all kinds of work until he fitted himself for teaching, which occupation he began at the age of nineteen years and followed consecutively for eight years. In 1900 he was elected county superintendent of schools, was reelected two years later and served four years and five months in that position. While the incumbent of this office he commenced the study of law and in September 1905, entered the Kansas University law department, where he graduated with the class of 1907, and was admitted to the bar on June 21 of the same year. He then located at Cherryvale, where he has since been successfully engaged in the practice of his profession. He is the president of the board of education of that place, has always taken an active part in school matters, and has shown a commendable interest in other public affairs. He is a staunch supporter of the Republican party and the principles and measures for which it stands sponsor. His long public service has gained him a wide acquaintance in this section of the state, where his friends are in number as his acquaintances. While county superintendent he was also a member of the Teacher's State Reading Circle Board, which was composed of eight members whose duty it was to select the reading matter for the teachers of the state during each year. He is affiliated with the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, serving as secretary of the local organization for three years, and he is also a member of the Woodmen of the World at Cherryvale, and a member of the Fraternal Aid Association.

JOSEPH MCCREARY

Joseph McCreary, a representative citizen of the county of Montgomery and at present the efficient and obliging postmaster at Coffeyville, Kan., was born in Ireland, March 2, 1842. He came to America in 1845, when but three years old, with his parents, who located at Xenia, Ohio, and there his boyhood days were passed, his education being received in the public schools. In 1861 he enlisted in the Twelfth Ohio infantry for service in the Civil war. Under the call of the President for 75,000 troops for three months, the several companies composing this regiment were enrolled in the Ohio counties of Brown, Butler, Clinton, Clermont, Greene, Highland, and Warren, from April 19, to 25, 1861. It was mustered into the United States service at Camp Jackson, Columbus, from April 22 to May 4. The regiment went to Camp Dennison on May 6 and remained in camp until orders were received to reorganize for three years' service. As reorganized it left for the Kanawha valley on July 6, arrived at Point Pleasant on the 9th, and on the 17th fought the battle of Scarey Creek, W. Va., the enemy being strongly posted beyond a ravine. The regiment fought for three hours, and after exhausting its ammunition fell back in good order to its camp at the mouth of the Pocotaligo. The regiment entered Charleston, W. Va., and a few days later reached Gauley Bridge, where it captured a large quantity of arms and ammunition. Marching south through Weston, Sutton and Summerville it arrived at Carnifix Ferry on September 10 and engaged in the battle at that place. The regiment was ordered to the Army of the Potomac on Aug. 15, 1862; met the enemy at Bull Run bridge on the 27th, where it was severely engaged for six hours against a greatly superior force and was compelled to fall back to Fairfax Station. On September 7 it advanced into Maryland, and after a sharp skirmish at Monocacy Bridge entered Frederick City. It engaged in the battle of South Mountain, participating in three bayonet charges and capturing three battleflags, a large number of small arms, and over 200 prisoners. Three days later it was engaged at Antietam, and after wintering in West Virginia it assisted in the repulse of the enemy's attack on Fayette Court House. The regiment was next engaged at Cloyd's Mountain. It also participated in an engagement at Lynchburg, Va., and then was ordered to Columbus, Ohio, where it was mustered out on July 11, 1864. Mr. McCreary then reenlisted as a member of Company K, One Hundred and Eighty-fourth Ohio infantry. This regiment was organized at Camp Chase in February, 1865, to serve for one year. Immediately after muster-in it was ordered to Nashville, Tenn., where it remained for a short time doing garrison duty. From Nashville it proceeded to Chattanooga, thence to Bridgeport, Ala., which place it reached about March 21, and was engaged in protecting and important railroad bridge over the Tennessee river. It also guarded the track of the railroad between Bridgeport and Chattanooga, a distance of about thirty miles. On July 25 the regiment was ordered to Edgefield for garrison duty, and remained at the place until it was mustered out of

On September 7 it advanced into Maryland, and after a sharp skirmish at Monocacy Bridge entered Frederick City. It engaged in the battle of South Mountain, participating in three bayonet charges and capturing three battleflags, a large number of small arms, and over 200 prisoners. Three days later it was engaged at Antietam, and after wintering in West Virginia it assisted in the repulse of the enemy's attack on Fayette Court House. The regiment was next engaged at Cloyd's Mountain. It also participated in an engagement at Lynchburg, Va., and then was ordered to Columbus, Ohio, where it was mustered out on July 11, 1864. Mr. McCreary then reenlisted as a member of Company K, One Hundred and Eighty-fourth Ohio infantry. This regiment was organized at Camp Chase in February, 1865, to serve for one year. Immediately after muster-in it was ordered to Nashville, Tenn., where it remained for a short time doing garrison duty. From Nashville it proceeded to Chattanooga, thence to Bridgeport, Ala., which place it reached about March 21, and was engaged in protecting and important railroad bridge over the Tennessee river. It also guarded the track of the railroad between Bridgeport and Chattanooga, a distance of about thirty miles. On July 25 the regiment was ordered to Edgefield for garrison duty, and remained at the place until it was mustered out of

Thank You Maryann Johnson

Maryann was our recording secretary and she had to resign because she has cancer. She has been a real inspiration to us all in how she had been so strong in this battle she has been faced with, but that's Maryann for anything she does she gives her best. In order to come to our meetings she rests twice that day so she can come that night. She gave genealogy research her best. We appreciate you, Maryann.

We were surprised to read in the Review, the Kansas State Genealogical Society's magazine that our own magazine, The Descender had been chosen for 1st place this year. We Thank those involved for giving us that reward. We also thank those in our society who have found the articles to put in our magazine. Keep up the good work.

Members: we need your ancestor charts and your approval to put them in The Descender, also your queries that are free to you. Non-members $2.00 per query.

Have a good Fall & Winter

Your President

Editorial

When I was growing up (1930-1945) one hardly ever heard the words family tree and especially genealogy. Luckily both of my parent's families had strong ties back through about 3 generations and corresponded regularly with those that were still living. When I showed some interest in the families history, about the time I reached high school age, I was plied with all kinds of names, dates and other information. Two great grand fathers had served in the Civil War.

About the only other family tree searchers you occasionally heard of were some dottering old ladies trying to lay claim to being illegible to join the DAR. There was one lady in our neighborhood who was somewhat of a social ladder climber and a little snobbish related attitude informed everyone she had hired a professional genealogist to trace her family back to much higher beginnings. It wasn't to long, before nothing more was heard from her. Supposedly it didn't take to much research to find that when her grand father came to Oklahoma as a home steadier and start a family he had left behind an already growing family. Evidently she didn't find the right genealogist. Some years back when the DAR finally opened their sacred archives to more outside search found that a surprising number of falsified lineage documentation.

Some trying to out do the DAR'ers tried to step back a little further to the earlier colonial period, the Jamestowners, the Pilgrimers, etc. Here one has to really be careful because you were now treading on pretty swampy ground. Just remember that many of these original adventurers an even more of the replacements were indentured servants, Old Bailey ex-residents and nare do wells. Oh there were some that had some aristocratic connections who were not exactly Counts but more like on accounts. Of course America was much better off than Australia which was virtually a penal colony.

Then there are those who want to go back even further, say to the Royalty of Europe. But, here again some caution needed to be observed. There are always those stories like as though the King just happened to be passing through the castle kitchen and there was that cute scullery maid working over a hot tub of laundry. The bright side of this is that once you connect into a royal line you are really on a roll. Now by word of their own mouths they are European Royalty and have traced their lines back to divine destiny or Gods ordained ruler of mankind to the Royal house of Charlemagne. If nothing else there are the various Saints who left descendants who in turn trace their family lineage to five of the seven tribes of Israel: Levi, Judah,

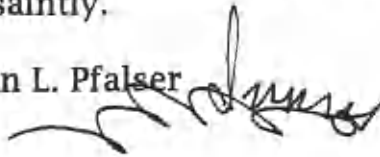

15,495

Zebulan, Benjamin and Joseph! OH MY! Lions and Tigers and Bears, OH MY!

From this point one can veer to the right toward the New Testament and Joseph's and Mary's family lines or take the left branch right on through the Old Testament back to Genesis. With my luck my line would probably bypassing both these and end up as part of that unknown group of people into which Cain married when he was sent out to wander the world. Now there are a number of books and CD's that are available to assist you in tracing your Biblical lineage, which you will find, listed below. I wish you good luck with your search, however, since I am acquainted with many of you who are reading this I might suggest a quick alternative that might save you a lot of time and lost effort. Just click on to www.blacksheepancestors.com/indexshtml. Your family might turn out to be more notorious than saintly.

P.S. I am not sure how the Africans and Asians family trees fit into the above-discussed family lines of descent other than by ordained white self-divine exclusion.

Having trouble identifying your American Taylor immigrant? There were about 30,000 Taylor families who lived in the now United States before 1850. We have records on the entire lot and have developed footnoted Family Group Records. In over half the families we believe we have identified the Taylor immigrant by vital, church, bible, military, court, biographical and genealogical records.

If you wish to learn more about your Taylor ancestor born before 1850, describe him to us.

S.A.S.E. If we can match your information to prior Taylor ancestry, we will provide Family Group Records as follows: minimum charge $15, each additional prior Family Group Record $10., maximum direct line $50. Further investigation may be necessary if a 99% confidence level is desired. DNA analysis is recommended.

In visiting cemeteries to collect family tombstone history did you ever wonder who the individuals were whose tombstone is next to the one you are recording? On the other hand what about that unknown name on a stone that is enclosed in the family plot?

In discussing this with a friend he told me about a similar experience he had encountered. I visited the cemetery where his great grandfather was buried. There was a stone with a name completely different than the family's name as well as one he had never heard of before. When he asked his grandmother about the unknown person, she immediately replied that was cousin "Mary". Grandma then related that Mary's family was for all practical purposes destitute at the time of her death, therefore they placed her in the family plot in a home made casket. The rest of the family shared the cost of the small gravestone.

"If you never ask a question, you'll never get an answer!"

"Old Bailey" Records

If your English memory is working you will already know the "Old Bailey" was the institution in Old London Town for the prosecution of criminals of all types. Under jury trials most were convicted and condemned to usually three punishments. Jail time, death and deportation to the colonies. Death ranged from hanging, boiling in oil, breaking on the wheel, firing squads, burning at the stake or any thing popular at the time. The Bailey was in existence from 1674 to 1837. During that time all proceedings were recorded in-depth and archived these records covered about 100,000 criminal 20 trails encompassing some 52 million words. In the case of a death sentence each execution is covered in detail even down to the last drop of blood and twitch of the body.

These proceedings have been digitized and placed on the internet with 80 different search tags, such as first names, surnames, age occupation, crime, crime location, verdict and punishment. Log on to oldbaileyonline.org. Why is this genealogy source of importance to you? Many of those convicted of minor crimes were first deported to the American colonies and later Australia. One such person was Elizabeth Conning who married into the family of the Governor Connecticut and produced five children before dying in 1773 at the age of 40. Is she one of the knots on your family tree?

The Bailey project has now expanded to the records of the Central Criminal court from 1834 to 1913, which should be online by 2008. There are plans to digitize some additional 30 million of other 18th Century Records of the carpenter's guild, Birdewell Prison and the insane asylum known as "Bedlam".

KAUFMAN CEMETERY W1/4-S1/2-NW1/4-Sec18-T34S-R17E

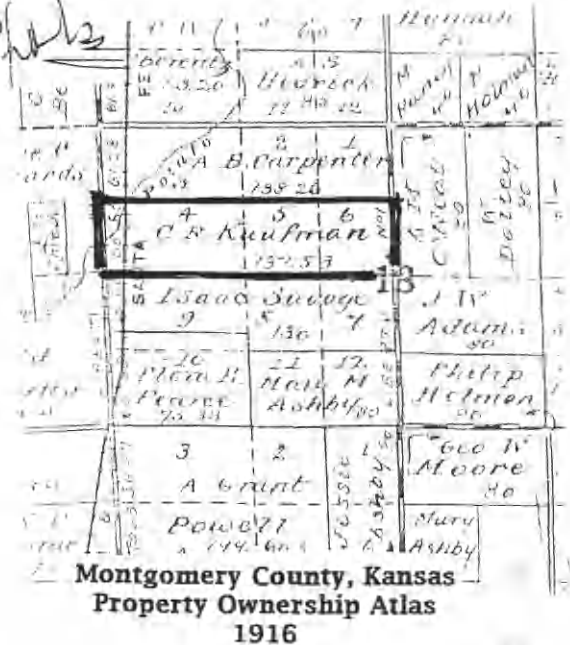

(Does Anyone have information on the who, what, when and where of this cemetery?)

According to Walt Raney there were four or five gravesites on the west end of the Kaufmen property. He said at one time there was a decorative metal fence around them with spear points on the top of the upright posts. He could not remember if there were headstones or not. However, Mr. Kaufmen removed the fence and any other items from the site. He dumped them into Potato Creek. He then put the field into cultivation. I would assume that these graves would have been those of the previous landowner's family or neighbors.

TOOK OUT TWO BODIES.

W. O. Sadler Tells of the Brick Yard on Old Cemetery.

"Took out two bodies from the old cemetery when I had the brick plant there," said W. O. Sadler Tuesday, in speaking of the number of bodies now buried there. "This was in 1881. I think they were the bodies of a man and wife, Burbanks by name. Two or three bodies were taken out at the brick plant the year before, but I am not quite sure of the number. Two or at two bodies were the last to be taken out at the brick plant, and they were removed to Elmwood cemetery.

In any event, there are still thirty bodies, more or less, buried in the old cemetery tract. There is no way to determine the exact number, but this is approximately true."

From the interviews of old residents here it seems that there are between twenty and thirty bodies buried in this tract of land. There is no record nor any other way to determine the number and the location of the bodies interred here. When the city vacates this land, it is a certainty that a majority of the bodies will be left behind. The mayor and council have as yet made no move to order the removal of these bodies.

CONGRESSIONAL CEMETERY IS BUT A MEMORY.

Established in 1807 as a Resting Place for the Nation's Honored Dead,
It Has Gradually Fallen
Into Disuse.

Wherever he goes, the instinct of the sightseer is to get at least a glimpse of everything beautiful or interesting. In the throng that visits Washington the prevailing idea seems to be: "Let no government institution escape." The eager scrutiny begins before the city is reached, and many a traveler who learns that the burying ground passed by the trains just before the entrance to the Washington tunnel is called the "congressional cemetery," feels a thrill of interest, and adds one more item to the list headed "Don't miss this." For no matter how strong-minded an individual may be a cemetery appeals to the soul bent on improving leisure hours, and a "Congressional" cemetery seems well-nigh irresistible.

But the tourists meet with disappointment. They look in vain through the congressional directory for facts concerning the great men buried there; the place is not mentioned. It is not pictured in the guide books, and the "rubberneck wagons" do not pass that way. The megaphone vocalist who dispenses his ready made information has nothing to say about it. And in the jolting, jarring round of seeing the capitol, the library, the department buildings, the homes of famous men, the residences of diplomats, and the other attractions of "our beautiful city," the old burying ground that was once deemed the only fit and proper resting place for the lilustrious dead of the nation is forgotten.

The oversight is unjust and undeserved, for in the process of its growth, acquirement of quasi-official prestige, the gradual loss of distinction as a national charge in everything but name, the Congressional cemetery has all the interest and dignity that age and history give to an institution. Established in 1807, and becoming the property of its present owner, the vestry of Christ church, a few years later, it was by that body formally offered as the burial ground for deceased government officials. In 1817 the vestry set aside 100 burial sites for that purpose, and later, in 1823, 200 more sites were donated to the United States for similar use. For more than 50 years thereafter it was the recognized burying ground for all government officials who died while holding office, as well as for other famous men whose careers justified the placing of their bodies in the graves set aside for public use.

Until March of the present year the United States owned no less than 5,000 burial sites in the Congressional cemetery, and the officials who have been buried there or who have monuments erected in their memory include two vice presidents of the United States, one secretary of war, one secretary of state, one associate justice of the supreme court, one secretary to the president (Thomas Lear, secretary to Washington), one secretary of the senate, 142 representatives, one territorial delegate, 26 senators, ten army officers, three navy officers, one foreign minister from Prussia, one Choctaw Indian chief, called Push-Ma-Tu-Ila, one wife of a member of the French legation in 1824 (Catherine Hesson), and one unknown page in the house of representatives.

But this was years ago. The last appropriation of government funds for the benefit of the Congressional cemetery was made in 1873. The custom of burying government officials there was practically abandoned shortly after the civil war, and about the only attention given to it by congress since that time has been to refuse to relinquish to the cemetery authorities the valuable government reservations. Congress relented at its last session, however, and turned over to the cemetery most of the public ground.

AGREEMENT AT LAST

CITY AND SANTA FE PEOPLE REACH A COMPROMISE.

CITY TO GIVE UP BLOCK 79

Railroad Opens Eleventh and Twelfth Streets With Steel Bridge Spans Over the Two Streets.

At the meeting of the city council tonight, the terms as agreed between the Santa Fe officials and a committee of three representing the council will be up for ratification. At the meeting Saturday morning, an almost unanimous sentiment was expressed in favor of a settlement at reasonable terms. The city secured all that was asked for and in turn the railroad will be given a quit claim deed to block 79, known as the old cemetery tract. The committee that negotiated the terms was composed of Councilmen Jensen, Straub and Bradbury.

DOUBT ABOUT SANTA FE CASE BEING SETTLED

CITY TO REMOVE BODIES.

Santa Fe Must Have Trestles Repaired Within Six Months After Getting Title to Cemetery.

The agreement reached by the committee representing the council and the Santa Fe officials was ratified Monday night by the city council. The agreement was the same as originally drafted with two additions. These amendments specify the time that the railroad company shall have for completing the work on Eleventh and Twelfth streets and also provides for the removal of the bodies buried in the cemetery. The Santa Fe attorney has expressed his doubts as to whether the railroad company would ratify the agreement as finally drafted.

The terms as agreed upon were the same as given before. The only addition is that the railroad company shall complete the construction of the steel bridges at Eleventh and Twelfth streets at least six months after the decree of the court.

To Remove Bodies.

The city also reserves the right to enter upon the old cemetery block at any time and remove the bodies buried there. It seems that a former marshal and at least fifteen former citizens are interred here and it is the intention of the council to appropriate money to have them removed. It was thought best not to ask the railroad company to bear the expense of the removal of the bodies. Many of the members of the council refused to ratify the terms until this clause was added.

The mayor informed the council last night that William Dunkin, local attorney of the Santa Fe, who drew up the agreement, had told him that in all probability the railroad company would not ratify all the terms of the agreement. In case this be true, the question seems a long way from being settled. The city may not get but a small part of what it asks the railway company. In that case, the disagreement will resume its former aspect.

(Does Anyone have information on the who, what, when and where of this cemetery?)

ACCEPT CITY'S OFFER

SANTA FE WILL TAKE COUNCIL'S AMENDED OFFER.

SETTLES LONG LITIGATION

Railroad Gets Property From City
Sufficient to Pay Cost of All Its Improvements.

G. R. Snelling, the city attorney, has received word from the Santa Fe's general offices at Topeka that the company will accept this city's proposition relative to the opening of Eleventh street, the replacement of the wooden trestle in Twelfth street, the abandonment of Santa Fe street and the vacation of the alley between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. The city in return for all this deeds over block 79, known as the old cemetery block in the east part of the city.

This ends a negotiation that has been hanging fire for more than eight years and will mean quite an improvement for Eleventh and Twelfth streets. On the other hand the city gives up its claim to a block of ground that is worth as much as all the work the railroad will do will cost the company.

What the City Does.

Gives up all claim to block 79, reserving the right to remove all bodies from the old cemetery.

Vacates the alley across Santa Fe right of way between Eleventh and Twelfth streets.

What the Railroad Does.

Agrees to remodel trestle over erect a steel trestle with 40-foot span.

Agree to remodel trestle over Twelfth street and erect a 30-foot steel span.

Agrees to deed to city Santa Fe street from Fourth to Tenth streets, said strip to be forty feet wide.

Agrees to have streets opened and work done within six months after dismissal of city's case now pending in district court.

Disposition of Old Cemetery.

Opinion differs as to how many bodies there are in block 79, some saying that there are only a few there while others maintain that as many as twenty-five are buried there. The city proposes to remove these bodies and if it does so the cost of work will amount to several hundred dollars. Some of the bodies are said to be in the street. There are none of them located so the graves can be readily found. The stones that once marked the graves have long since disappeared and in many instances the mounds are worn down to a level.

There is now a suit pending in the district court involving the ownership of the ground. This will be dismissed at once and it is then up to the railroad to commence work.

Joseph McCreary continued from May 07

service, Sept. 20, 1865, at Nashville, Tenn. in the last mentioned service Mr. McCreary was promoted to the grade of first lieutenant of his company, which position he held at the time he was mustered out of the service. In all he served about forty-six months as a soldier and participated in all the service of his commands with the exception of about four months, during which period he was a prisoner of war, confined first at Belle Isle, Salisbury, and then at Libby Prison. In October 1865, he came to Kansas and located at Lawrence, where he worked at the carpenter trade about one year. He then removed to Junction City, where he continued to work at his trade about two years, and then removed to Labette county, where he engaged in the sawmill business. He was thus engaged until July, 1869, when he removed to Montgomery county and located east of Coffeyville, where he continued the sawmill business about three years. He then farmed about three years in Labette county, after which he spent one year, 1876 to 1877 in New Mexico. Then returning to Coffeyville he engaged in the real estate business, in which he gained unequivocal success and prestige, and he has since maintained his residence and business headquarters in Coffeyville, being popular in business and social circles. He was elected sheriff of Montgomery county in 1883 and again in 1885, serving four years in that position, after which he resumed his real estate business. He also served as police judge and as justice of the peace, and in 1891 was appointed postmaster at Coffeyville by President Benjamin Harrison, serving four years. Upon retiring from that position, in 1895, he again devoted his attention to the real estate business until December, 1910, when he was again appointed postmaster, of which office he is the present incumbent. He also served as city clerk for some time. Mr. McCreary is a staunch adherent of the Republican party, and he is affiliated with the lodge, chapter and commandery of the Masonic fraternity; and is a charter member of the Grand Army of the Republic at Coffeyville.

On Nov. 20, 1859, was solemnized the marriage of Mr. McCreary to Miss Theresa Burns, a native of Ireland but reared in Canada, to which country she removed when a child with her parents. Of this union there were born three sons and two daughters: Ida, who is the assistant to her father in the postoffice at Coffeyville, which position she has held since April 1, 1891, under the different postmasters; Irene, wife of A. P. Irvin, of Coffeyville; Ira, who resides in Spokane, Wash.; Joseph S., a resident of Coffeyville; and Frank, who is also a resident of the same place. Mr. McCreary is one of the prominent citizens of this part of the state and has been identified with its history for many years.

RODERICK MORRISON

Roderick Morrison, a well known oil producer and manufacturer at Independence, became identified with the oil industry in the eastern states when a young man, and while other enterprises have engaged him his interests have been continuously identified with some phase of the petroleum industry through all his active years. Out of his experience he has elaborated one of the important devices used in oil and gas fields, and is now manufacturing it at Independence under the name of the Eclipse Pulling Machine.

Mr. Morrison is a Canadian by birth and of Scotch ancestry. His grandfather was Angus Morrison, who spent his life on a farm in Scotland. His father was George Morrison, who was born in Southerlandshire, Scotland, in 1809, and emigrated to Canada in 1841, settling on a farm in Oxford County, Ontario. He gave the best years of his life to agriculture, but was a man of considerable prominence in local affairs, serving on the school board and in other occupations. He was a conservative in politics, and an active member of the Presbyterian Church, in which he held the position of elder. George Morrison married Henrietta McIntosh, who was born in Southerland, Scotland, in 1821, and died in Oxford County, Ontario, in 1885. George Morrison died on the old farm in Ontario in 1893. Their children were: Elizabeth, deceased wife of John McCall, who is a farmer in Oxford County, Ontario; Catherine, who still resides in Oxford County, the widow of John McKay, who was a farmer; Hector, an oil producer who died at Bradford, Pennsylvania; Donald, a Presbyterian minister now living in Holmes County, Ohio; Roderick; Hugh, an attorney practicing law at Toronto; and Mary, wife of Charles Stewart, a merchant tailor at Toronto.

Roderick Morrison was born in Oxford County, Ontario, June 22, 1855. His early experiences were those of a Canadian farm boy, and he gained his education in the schools of Oxford County. At the age of twenty-six he left his father's farm and went to the oil fields of Pennsylvania, spending a short time in Butler County and about six years in the oil fields of McLean County. From Pennsylvania he went west to Hancock County, Iowa, and then for thirteen years was a resident of Gibsonburg, Sandusky County, Ohio. In the meantime he had retained some interest in the oil fields and while in Ohio was also in the lumber business.

In the spring of 1906 Mr. Morrison moved to Independence, Kansas, and from this city as his headquarters has acquired interests in productive oil fields in Kansas, Oklahoma, and Ohio. He is a director in the Independence State Bank and stockholder in, the Commercial National Bank of Independence. Some years ago he invented the Eclipse pulling machine, designed for the pulling of casings and tubings from oil wells. He now manufactures this in a plant at Independence located on Railroad Street near the Santa Fe tracks. The output of this factory enjoys a large sale in the oil districts of the country. Mr. Morrison is also interested in irrigated farming in Colorado, owning a place of 240 acres in that state. His home is at 209 South Fourth Street.

During his residence at Gibsonburg, Ohio, Mr. Morrison was very active in local affairs, holding some office or other throughout his stay there. He was on the council, a member of the water board, and also the school board. Politically he is independent. He still has his membership in Gibsonburg Lodge of the Masonic Order and is a member of the Presbyterian Church.

In 1882, at Bradford, Pennsylvania, Mr. Morrison married Miss Catherine Carey. Her parents were Joseph and Hannah Carey, farming people of Pennsylvania, and both now deceased.

Learn With Care

In an article written by Michael Sandover, mik@sandover.co.uk, which was previously published in Roots Web Review; 28 March 2007, Vol.10, No. 13 Michael writes:-

This is a simple piece of advice (or warning) for those researching family names beginning with "Sa", "Se", "Si", "So", or "Su". If you cannot find the entry that you are seeking in indexes to the census returns or other nineteenth-century material, then look under the corresponding name spelled with capital "L". The problem arises because of the way Victorians wrote the capital letter "S". It often looks like a capital "L".

I discovered the problem by accident when researching my wife's family. Despite seeing several birth and marriage certificates, as well as census returns, we still couldn't tell whether he was a Lawyer or a sawyer. We only discovered the truth (a Sawyer) when we visited the cottage in which he lived. The current owner pointed us to a book published with the childhood memories of one of the sons, which gave us the answer as well as much else besides.

That discovery set me thinking. From the index of the 1881 census, (he is from England, remember) I was missing quite a number of Sandovers. A quick look under Landover gave me most of those "missing". That is not an isolated case. The excellent work being carried out on the 1891 census (an available on the Internet) has approximately a third of the Sandover transcribed and indexed under Landover. Even the DFHS index of post-1837 Plymouth has one Landover entry and I suspect that the problem could be quite widespread.

Veterans in the 1930 Census

Servicemen were not recorded with their families in the 1930 census; they were treated as residents of their duty posts. If you're looking for someone in the military, you should not assume they will be listed in their home town.

Other differences in the 1930 census:-

This is also the last census in which individuals were asked whether they could read or write. Unlike previous censuses, this census did not ask individuals for their year of naturalization.

This is the first census in which individuals were asked the value of their home or the amount of rent paid each month. Neither were they asked their age at the time of their first marriage nor the specific war a man had fought.

The 1930 census is the only census to ask if the occupants of the home owned a radio.

Individuals in Alaska and Indians were asked slightly different questions. For example, Indians were not asked about their mother's country of origin, but to which tribe she belonged. Indians were included in the enumeration of the general population.

Voter Records

(from Ancestry Weekly Journal, April 9, 2007. by George G. Morgan)

Many counties and municipalities maintain their voter registration records for extended periods of time. While censuses were taken every ten years, a voter registration roll may provide verification in those years in between to help you confirm that your ancestor may have been in an area. It also is helpful to do a little preliminary research into the voting laws at the time. If your ancestor was on a voter roll and the voter residency requirement at the time was one year, that knowledge can verify that your ancestor was in a location for at least that long. By the same token, if a decennial census record shows your ancestor at a location and not on the voter roll, it could mean that he may have been a new arrival and had not been there long enough to meet the residency requirement.

IS YOUR COMPUTER DATA SAFE?

What happens if your computer crashes or you have a fire/flood that wipes out all the information on your computer? Getting it back could be as simple as making a phone call.

Copy all your data digitally, scanning it into your computer and organizing into folders. Then make a few CD (compact disk) copies, mail these copies to a friend or relative that can keep them safe – preferably a fair distance away. Keeping them at your neighbor's house might help in case of fire, or computer failure, but for those in hurricane areas or flood plains, this may not be the safest idea.

In the event you suffer a major catastrophe, you can have them send you the back up disks and be up and running again. At least with this method of storing information off site, you will not have suffered a total loss and can recover most, if not all, of what may have been damaged.

Send the backups out on a scheduled basis – once a month should do it for most. And use a ZIP or compression program such as WINZIP to compact more information together. This allows you to store a lot more data in the same amount of space. You can extract what you need from these programs as you rebuild.

No matter what method you choose, even if it is boxing up paper copies of what you have and driving upstate to Aunt Jane's. If it is worth saving, take the effort to save it or it could be lost forever.

GENEALOGY – THE INCURABLE DISEASE

Symptoms: Continual complaint as to need for names, dates and places. Patient has blank expression, is sometimes deaf to spouse and children. Has no taste for work of any kind except feverishly looking through records at libraries and courthouses. Has compulsion to write letters. Makes secret phone calls at night, hides phone bill from spouse and mumbles to self. Has strange, faraway look in the eye. Frequents strange places such as cemeteries, ruins and remote, desolate areas.

ONLINE – COMPUTER SAFETY

Shielding your home computer from online threats is easier than you think. Try these simple defensive steps:

Update your Operating System (OS)

Whether you use the Windows or Mac operating system, it must be updated regularly to shore up your computer's defenses. On a PC, go to "Windows Update" under the Start icon and click to install all security-related updates, advises Michael Poor of the SANS Institute, a computer-security training group. On a Mac, go to "Software Update" in your system Preferences (OS X) or under Control Panels (OS 9). Set the feature to update automatically each week.

Install a Firewall

Hackers can enter your computer if you don't have a firewall in place, such as ZoneAlarm (zonelabs.com; free), which can warn you each time your computer accesses the Web.

Install Anti-virus Software

You need the most up-to-date anti-virus programs to ensure your hard drive and e-mail are uninfected. Two popular brands are Sdymanec's Norton AntiVirus (symantec.com; $49.95) and McAfee's Internet Security Suite (mcafee.com; $49.99). Run the software weekly.

Fight Spyware

Spyware enters your computer when you're online, and reports your activities to companies that then try to sell you products. To remove spyware, download an anti-spyware program such as AD-Aware (www.lavasoftusa.com; free). Run the program daily.

Change Web Browsers

Viruses that enter your PC via Internet Explorer can do serious damage, says Poor. He recommends you consider trying a free alternative such as Firefox, available at mozilla.org.

Drum Creek Diary 1869

19th take a log to mills.

20th split some rail cuts.

21st we go over to Morgan's store.

Old man Maberel, one of fathers old schoolmates, comes to see us.

22nd help Swathwood move with his new house; haul load of wood home; turned cold; tonight Flora took the croup (a disease known scientifically as acute obstructive laryngitis, diphtheria, or occasionally strep throat) very suddenly. It was all we could do to keep her from strangling, up all night.

Sun. 23rd Flora is better of her croup, but quite sick with fever, etc. Old Mrs. Bright stays all night with us.

24th go and get Dr. Hillis; he leaves medicine; says she has a touch of lung fever. (pneumonia).

25th Flora some better; am offered $400 for my claim.

26th this is too changeable for me; am trying to sell out. Flora better, but not up yet.

27, 28, 29th stay around home.

30th staying home and mind Flora while Sallie goes to church. Ev. I go to Dunlaps.

31st go and see Mr. Cooper; am tempted to sell-it-to-him.

Tuesday, Feb. 1, 1870

Help work on the mill dam. Cooper is putting in a mill about 3/4 of a mile from here.

2nd snowy and rainy.

3rd go to Liberty.

4th work on dam

5th husk corn; go to Montgomery to Amoses, etc.

6th go to Montgomery, Brights, etc.

7th build a pig pen.

8th work half day on dam, then break Prairie for Swathwood.

9th and 10th break prairie for same.

11th husking out fodder. Mrs. Allen is here; haul up a big rail cut.

12th chop rail timber.

Sun. 13th at home as usual am getting awful tired of this kind of life; go to Montgomery after mail, get a sack of flour.

14th make and haul out rails; go and try to sell one 80 of claim. If i can sell one 80, I can take another joining mine and fix up things pretty comfortably here. When I get back, Sallie has just got over a chill.

17th today and last night the wind blowed very hard.

18th if we must have the ague this time of the year we will leave here. I cannot have my family sick when caused by the climate if I can help it. Think of going to Kingsdown and staying a year or so before going to Oregon.

19th windy and very cold. Go after mail. Thinking strong of leaving.

20th Sun. Sallie still got the ague. We are completely sick of Kansas. determined to sue for what we can get and leave here. This is now the 14th of April, but I will give the important events as they have transpired. I went and got some medicine form Hillis for Sallie and broke the ague. Commenced right away to sell off our things and settle up business. Watching every opportunity to sell out. Nearly everybody wants to sell. There is strong talk of government removing us just when I think the chances are the dullest. I run across a man by the name of Jacob Addison ?????for $500. I then traded the oxen for a span of horses, giving $162.50 to boot. Intending to drive up to Mo. and perhaps farm one year.

We missed it here by not going right on out to Oregon. We could at this time command between 8 and 9 hundred dollars. I got my business mostly fixed up and we left on Saturday the 5th of March. I still own two shares at Liberty. We are not at all sorry to leave Southern Kansas.

We have a pretty ugly trip on account of chilly cold and windy weather. Leave our old road at Mound City (Linn County, Kansas) and strike north through Paola (Miami County, Kansas), and Olathe (Johnson County, Kansas) and cross the river at Kansas City () on the 12th of March, 1870. It being a very cold day; that night we camped in a mile of Liberty (County, Missouri) Can get but little feed for teams.

Sun. 13th get corn in town; come to branch and breakfast; get to Wills before night it being cold and roads bad for teams; dull here.

15th Will and I go out to Johns; very cold day. I am thinking some of renting a farm.

Wed. March 16th, 1870

Sallie and I go out to Johns. We are having the coldest weather they have had here this winter throughout the month we are undecided what to do. Johns have not sold out yet and Wills are not ready to go to Oregon. Sallie thinks she must go back and see her parents before she can go. I helped Will build a house and helped Jno. a little and so time moved on although I stood still.

About the first of April we concluded to go on to Oregon and I sold the team and harness for $268, losing about $80 in two trades. We would have been at least $200 better off if we had sold everything and started from Kansas.

11th help Will some. We make a good many purchases, clothing, etc.

12th help Will.

13th fixing to start; get two teeth filled, two pulled. Marry Ann, Tilmon, Ella and Jimmy come to see us.

14th help Will on the house.

15th fixing to start, but hardly know whether to send Sallie to her Magency? and go on by myself or not.

16th this evening Birds and us go out to Johns to have Easter. We get 10 Doz. eggs. Want Wills to go with us, but they won't am beginning to think that relations had better life (live) further apart.

17th Will come out; eat eggs; play ball, pitch horseshoes and Sallie gets about in the notion of going back to Western (Linn County, Iowa).

18th Jim and I take Birds to Kidder, (Caldwell County, Missouri) to get on the cars. Sallie concludes to go back.

19th go with Sallie and Flora to Halmiton (Caldwell County, Missouri) Put them on the train and see them off to Western (Iowa). I don't like this move but Sallie thinks she can't go out without first visiting her parents, so I don't say much. I intend going on out to Oregon by myself.

20th Packing my trunk and fixing up things. Hardly know whether to go on, or what to do.

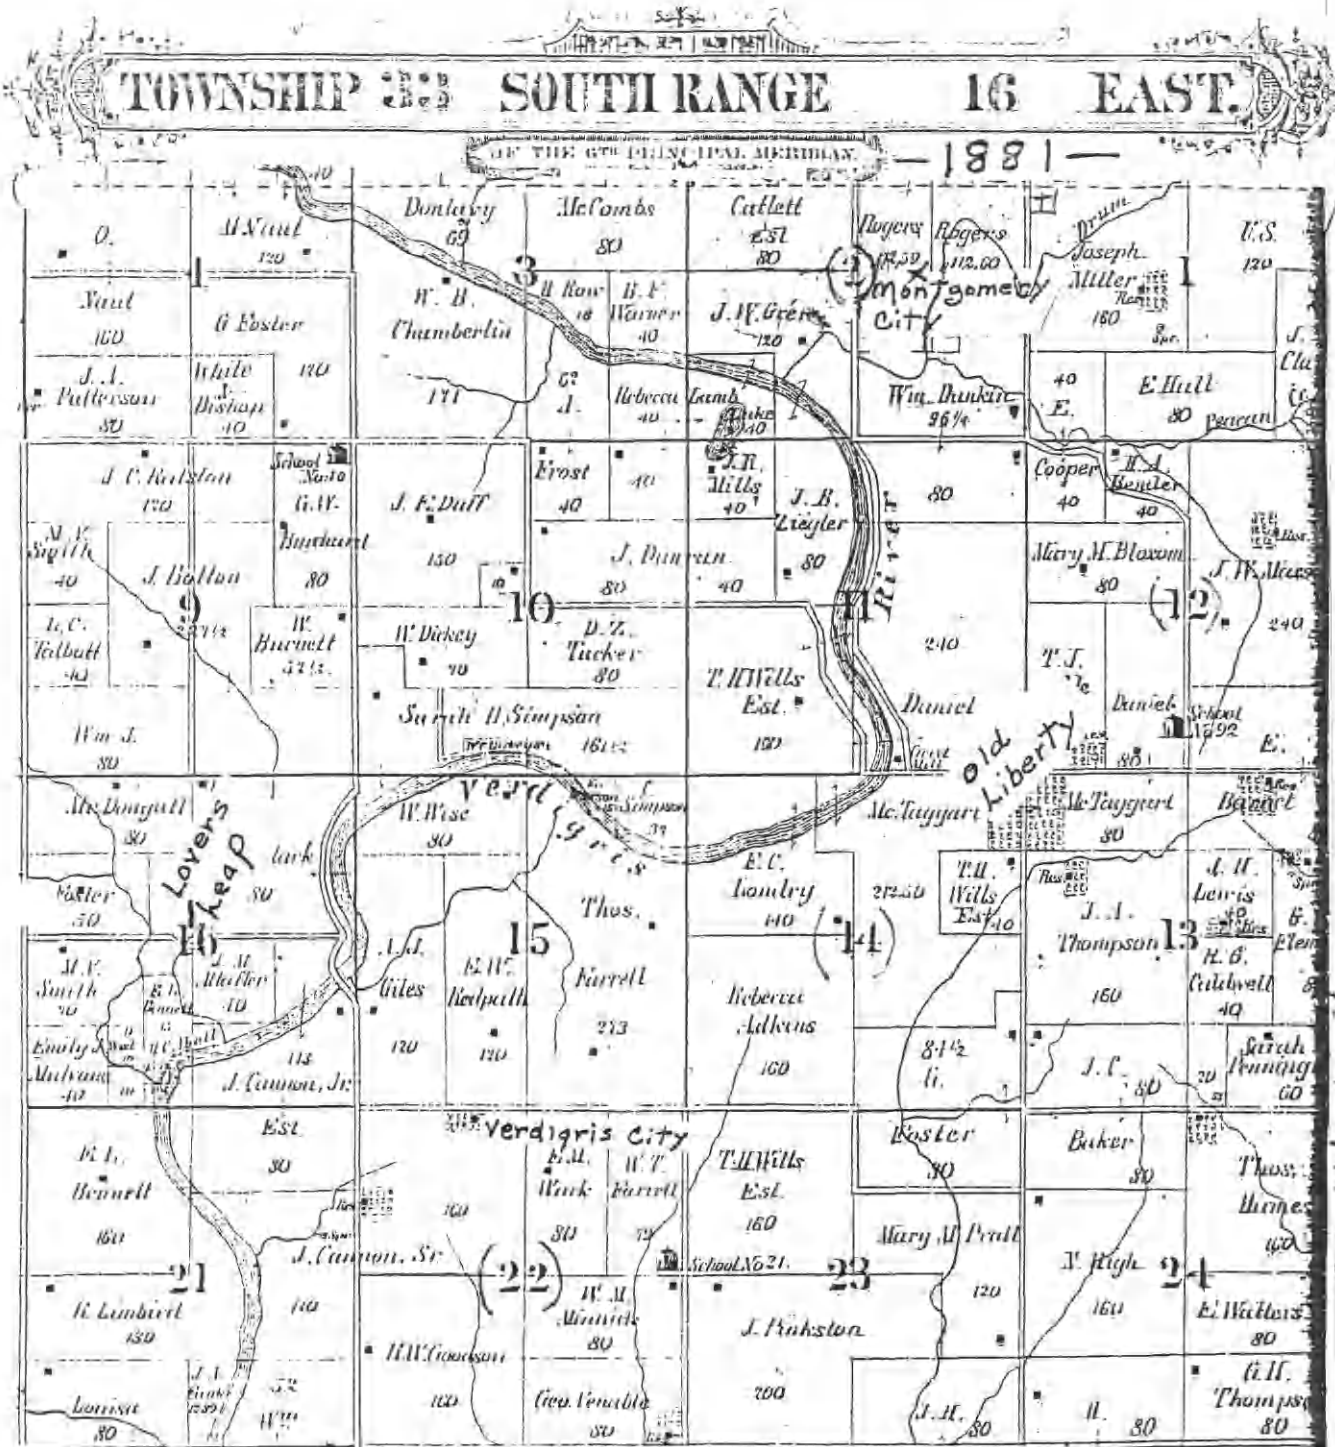

21st Will gets in notion to go with me if I will furnish him money. I go out to Johns.

22nd, 23rd at Johns; kill a big black snake.

24th Jno. and I go to town to church. Will has concluded to make a sale.

25th, 26th staying around town.

The east side of the Verdigris River is the places Mr. Nosler speaks about in his diary. Verdigris City, Sec 22, and Montgomery City is in Sec 2. We believe Mr. Nosler lived in the area just north of the areas shown, but we could not find out where because the deed books here do not show land ownership until May 1870. So, his purchase would have been in Humboldt and where those records went to is another very long story.

SOUTH KANSAS TRIBUNE

Old Newspaper Articles

Submitted by Judy HALL

Wednesday, 29 March 1871

FROM RADICAL CITY.

Editors Tribune; Liking the TRIBUNE and thinking it more of a county paper than any in this county, as I see that it condescends to publish both sides of county issues, and is not merely a little local advertising sheet, it will, and ought to live for the good it has and may do.

In regard to the bridge question, we all want bridges. But if there is only appropriations enough to cover two, where should these be put? Of course every town will say at its door, but will that suit the convenience of the county; is Parker or Independence any more entitled to bridges than Elk City or Radical City? It is true they have the largest population, but justice is justice, irrespective of numbers. The north west part of the county is hemmed in by Elk, Verdigris and Fall rivers, still we seemed to be overlooked. So far as we can see. There is one thing we will see to in the next election of Commissioners, to get one of this side of Elk River, so that he can't get out more than six months in the year, for high water. What we of this part of the valley demand, is a bridge on or near the section line between two and three, Township 32; Range 15 east.

JUSTICE.

In 1868 in what was called the Elk River Valley, Sycamore Township, were the early settlers Jacob THOMPSON, a Mr. MORTIMER, and E. GOODELL who came to settle.

The early part of 1869 a Major FITCH was trading with the Osage Indian tribes on the north side of the Elk River near the mouth of Sycamore Creek. Chief Nopawalla had the territory here and his main camp was located at the location of Radical City.

In 1869 the "Claim Protection Clubs" were organized. The purpose of the Club was to help settlers, after they established their claims, keep those claims. The Club's laws gave the member a homestead entry on government land. The member had to make certain improvements within a deadline, and the Club gave you protection from the claim jumpers. This organization was forceful and if you violated another member's claim the problem was dealt with. You might be forced out of your home and/or watch your home burn to the ground.

Sycamore Township had the oldest Claim Club existing. The other Clubs were abandoned after the appointments of Justices of the Peace. The Club in Sycamore Township became known as "The Montgomery Guards."

"The Montgomery Guards" took it upon themselves, 30 in number, to destroy the home of a Chauncy ATKINSON. They said he was holding an illegal claim. For this action the members of the Club were arrested. This was the first case held before Squire Frank BUNKER in Independence.

This part of Montgomery County became known as "Hell's Bend." There were many court cases to settle disputes over claims. But they were all finally dealt with in due time.

The first elections in Sycamore Township were held on June 4, 1870, at Radical City. William COMPTON was the first elected trustee.

The boundary for Sycamore Township is the following: on the north by the Wilson County line; on the west by the Range line between 14 and 15; on the south by Elk River; and on the east by the Verdigris River. This was written in the County Court Proceedings, of the South Kansas Tribune, Wednesday, March 22, 1871.

Families began to want all the comforts of life. Schools and churches were a high priority.

The first school in Sycamore Valley began in about 1871. It was a subscription school. This school was two and a half miles west of present day Sycamore. It was located on what is now the farm of Richard and Ida (SCHICKE) COUNCIL. Their first teacher was Jennie JOHNSON. The students in this school at that time were Maggie, John, Charles, and Thomas SALATHIEL, Ella, Sara, Mary, and Lizzie LANE, Lawrence HENSON, Charles, Lydia, and Emma RAY, Abe REED, Jon and Lizzie HAMMER, Jack HILES, Rena ROBINSON, Eddie MANDENDALL, Bell and Eliza LAY, Lincoln and Thomas BURKE, Steve and Minnie HAMBELTON, and Robert PASLEY.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY KS HELP

Do you wish a general research of our extensive records for your ancestor? Send $3.50 and the information that you need on person to research. We will do our best to find them. You can order all of our Montgomery County Cemetery books, except Mt Hope in Independence and Fairview and Restlawn in Coffeyville.

Write us at Montgomery County Genealogy Society, PO Box 444, Coffeyville KS 67337.

The Mt Hope Cemetery in Independence KS has been all read, the old, the new part, the Lutheran, and the Catholic. We do not know at this time when they will be ready for publication. We still want to make the information ready available to you. Please contact Judy Hall, 5828 Co. Rd 3500, Independence, KS 67301. Send $2.00 for 1 name and $3.00 if more than one is needed.

PLEASE NOTE**

We will not be printing our books for sale after the November 2007 issue.

We will continue to sell the Montgomery County Family History 1869 - 1994 book.
