FORWARD

Making a cemetery record book become a reality is neither a simple nor a quickly completed project.

The Fremont County, Iowa, Cemetery Records really began over ten years ago when three women interested in genealogy began to do some research in some of the county cemeteries primarily to answer questions about their own families' backgrounds.

In 1975, when the County's Bicentennial organization was created, the decision was made to expand the efforts to include cataloging the markers in all the cemeteries in the county as a Heritage project. Intensive work began.

Volunteers were recruited who were willing to face various kinds of weather, weeds, insects and, on occasion, snakes. These people spent many hours tramping the hills and valleys, the smooth areas and the rough, the well-kept and the grass-covered graveyards. Pens and notebooks in hand, they copied as best they could the information on all the stones they could find. The most difficult, and undoubtedly the most important, work has been deciphering the lettering from weathered and disintegrating stones.

The saddest part of the task has been the number of small plots which have been destroyed because of highway construction, farming needs or acts of nature. But whatever information has been made available has been validated as far as possible and recorded. The old WPA records of cemeteries were located in Des Moines and copies made to compare with the Fremont County inventory. Pictures were taken to make the book more interesting. Short historical comments about the beginnings of each cemetery (as far as could be discovered) have been compiled and included.

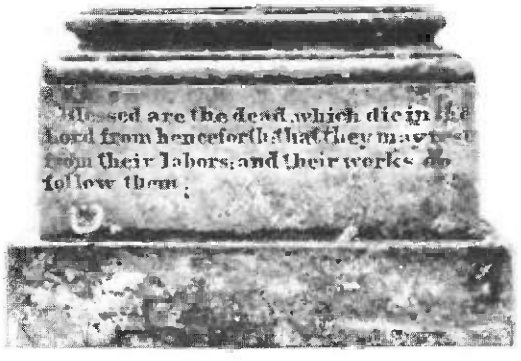

The committee members have made every effort to make this book as accurate, complete and useful as possible. However, we know that information and corrections may surface now that the book is published. As much of this additional material as possible will be printed in local newspapers and also placed in the genealogical file in the Fremont County Historical Society's museum in Sidney, Iowa. This way any corrections and additions will be easily available to the public.

Cemeteries tell stories. Often the messages on the stones raise questions. Fremont County soil holds the precious remnants of the lives of pre-historic Indians, Indians of more recent centuries, French-Canadian traders, settlers, immigrants, religious leaders, farmers, homemakers and craftspeople who helped make Southwest Iowa a strong and sturdy place to live. People of many ethnic backgrounds and from many foreign countries are buried here as even a quick reading of names will show.

The stories of mothers and babies, children and youth, and the long-lived pioneers can be read in the chiseled words on weathered stones.

Each time we go to a cemetery, or turn the pages of this book, and read the names of those who have been a part of this area, we share in their lives and they, in turn, share in ours.

The Fremont County Historical Society presents this Cemetery Record Book with pride to each person who has a love and concern for the people of the past.

BRIEF HISTORY OF FREMONT COUNTY, IOWA

Fremont County is located in the far southwest corner of Iowa bordered on the west by the Missouri River and on the south by the state of Missouri. It contains about 509 square miles of gently rolling hills, bluffs, and bottomland which is populated by 9401 people. The county was created in 1849 and named for Colonel John C. Fremont, a famous explorer of the Rocky Mountain region and an officer in the Mexican War.

All that we know of the prehistoric Indians who lived or passed through Fremont County comes from the few arrowheads, tools and spears found by both amateur and professional archaeologists. The finding of a Folsom point in Southwest Iowa definitely puts man here at 10,000 B.C. The Woodlands Indians, the Plains Indians and the Sac and Fox have been identified as living here at various times.

The Pottawattamie Indians, who had originally lived around the southern shores of Lake Michigan, were moved west after the Black Hawk War of 1832. In return for all their lands east of the Mississippi, this tribe was given land in Southwest Iowa known as the "Platte Purchase"; this included Fremont County. When 3,000 members of the tribe made the trek to Iowa, four chiefs came with them, the most famous was Waubonsie.

Waubonsie was born in northern Indiana in 1765. He was 70 years of age when he arrived in Southwest Iowa. The treaty giving his people the land of the Nishnabotna Rivers was not kept and, eventually, the Pottawattomie Indians were moved farther west and south. Waubonsie made two trips to Washington to try and correct the wrongs being done to his people. A stagecoach accident on his second trip caused him physical problems for the remainder of his life.

The state park which bears Waubonsie's name is in the beautiful bluff area of Fremont County. An overlook is considered one of the locations where Indians gathered during the days when the land belonged to them. An Omaha Area Girl Scout Camp just south of Waubonsie State Park bears the name of Sub-Chief Shawtee and is known as WaShawtee.

The first white settlement in the county (started in the early 1830s), was the French Village, a community of French-Canadian fur traders and a number of Indians. It was unique because it was not a town but a group of residents living in the area bordering the Nishnabotna River. The settlement was located near the present site of Hamburg and extended into northern Missouri.

In 1836 Major Stephen Cooper located 3½ miles west of the present town of Sidney on "Cooper Creek", and later named "Knox", a few buildings still stand to mark the location.

The soil of Fremont County is composed of rich loess topsoil which is excellent for farming. The scenic bluffs, which range up to 250 feet above the Missouri River Valley, are composed of loess soil.

Besides the great Missouri River, two other rivers, the East and West Nishnabotna, run through the county from northeast to southwest towards the Missouri. Recreation facilities are plentiful with wildlife refuges within its boundaries.

INDIAN BURIAL GROUNDS

We know that prehistoric Indians, Woodlands and Plains Indians roamed Southwest Iowa during various periods in history. The oldest burial ground located so far is just west of Interstate 29 near the town of Bartlett. The site was held sacred by the Indians who lived in the county as late as the 1850s. A number of pioneer graves are also reported to be in this area. The land is now owned by the state with the condition that the graves not be disturbed.

Chief Waubonsie, along with the other Pottawattamie Indians, lived for a time in what became Mills and Fremont County. He completed his life in "Waubonsie Village", just north of the Fremont County line and west of the present town of Tabor. He died in 1848 at the age of 92. His body was covered with a blanket and bark and laid in a box made of hewn logs which was placed in the fork of a tree. Various of his possessions were also put in the box. Later, the body was buried in a grave which is now marked with a red granite boulder presented in 1972 by the Shenandoah Chapter of the D.A.R.

Sub-Chief Shawtee, was head of a Pottawattamie settlement located in the Lacy Grove area six miles south of Tabor. When he died, his body was buried in the soil of Waubonsie State Park. Later, during highway construction, the grave was threatened, so Shawtee's body was moved to a safer, permanent gravesite away from the edge of the highway.

Another known Indian burial ground is high up on the bluffs near the old Pumpkin Center section of Fremont County. A descendant of one of the early pioneers took members of a local Boy Scout troop on a hike into that section of the bluffs. He pointed out the valley where the Indians wintered and the burial grounds on the bluff above the valley. He told the boys that the men were buried on higher ground than the women "so braves could watch over them".

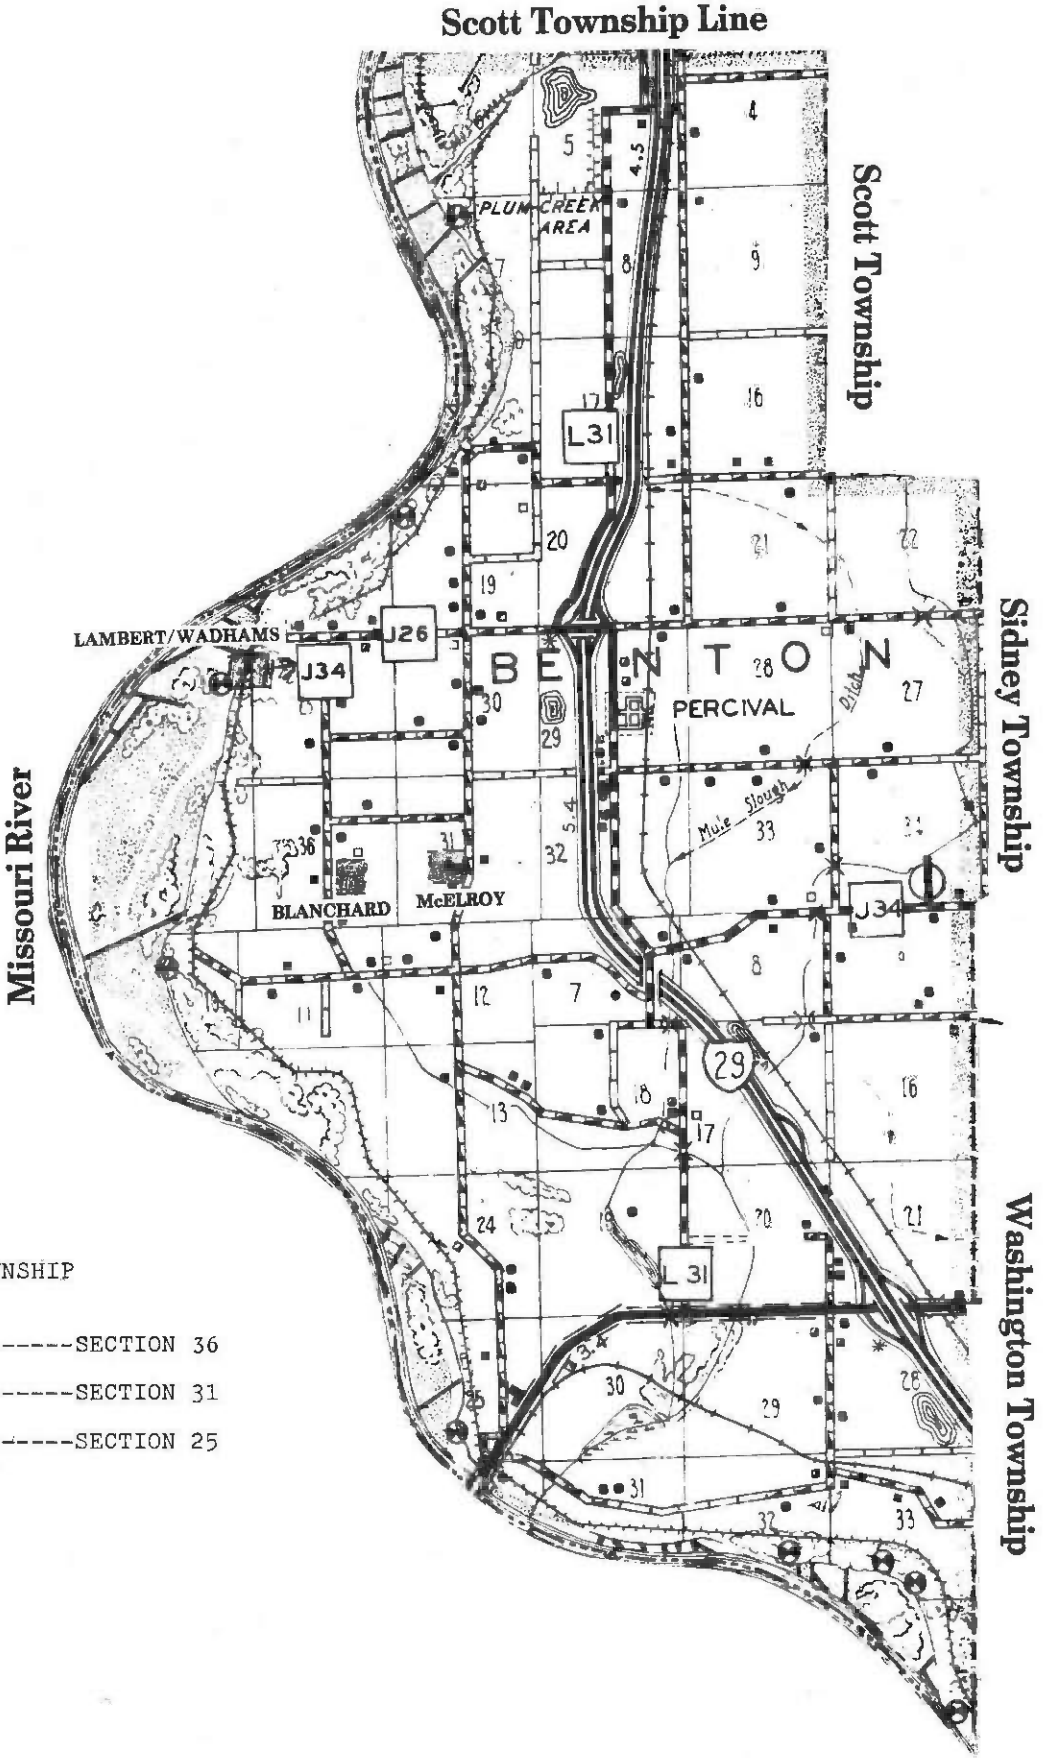

Undoubtedly, other Indian burials were made in the county, including some in the French Cemetery east of Hamburg. Lack of records and descendants have made this part of the history sadly sketchy.

Dr. Ira Blanchard, physician, abolitionist, scholar and religious leader, came to the community of Civil Bend, the area near the Missouri River in western Fremont County, via Ohio and an Indian mission in the territory of Kansas. He built a home for his family three miles southwest of the present town of Percival. When other community leaders moved to Tabor, he stayed. His home became the first stop in free territory for the Underground Railway. Two people who had died were buried a few hundred yards from the Blanchard home. In 1864, Mary, Ira's beloved wife, died. During her funeral service, the minister announced that the area would be designated as a cemetery and called the "Blanchard Cemetery". It is cared for today by Charlene Bebout. Unmarked graves are from Bebout information.

A cholera epidemic in 1851 swept the community of Civil Bend and resulted in many deaths. Many victims were buried near their homes due to lack of help and fear of spreading disease. Near the Lambert farmhouse a number of such graves appeared in rapid succession. The area became known as the "Lambert Cemetery". Now the gravestones are gone, thoughtlessly used as stepping stones and foundation building material. Only one stone base is still to be found in the area. On the WPA records made in 1938, this was referred to as the Wadhams Cemetery. The 1875 Atlas marks this gravesite.

Major U.D. Coy moved to Fremont County in 1868. He had been in the Black Hawk and Mexican wars where he became a Major. He was also in the Union Army, but was sent home due to his age. He sold 160 acres of his land to the railroad for a town. (80 acres more of his land eventually went into the town as well.) Major Coy was an admirer of Admiral Farragut, so named the town after his hero. Major Coy gave the first plot of land for the Farragut Cemetery with the reservation that a Coy always be on the Board of Trustees. Major U.D. Coy died in 1876, his wife Susan died in 1884. Both of these pioneers are buried in the cemetery which they began.

DEED

Below is a copy of the original deed where U.D. and Susan Coy donated their land for Farragut's "burial ground."

The document was signed 13 December 1873 and filed in the Fremont County Recorder's Office on 1 May 1877.

In researching the original deed for Farragut cemetery we noticed this beautiful handwritten document and have tried to reproduce it here. The county recorder certainly seemed to be practicing calligraphy.

Deed

Et. B. Miller
& T. Coy

Filed For Record May 1. 1877
At 2 O'Clock P.M.

Know all Men by these Presents.
That We U. D. Coy and Susan D. Coy of the county of FREMONT and State of IOWA for and in consideration of One Dollar in hand paid the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged do hereby sell and convey unto Egbert White B. B. Miller and J. T. Coy of the county of FREMONT and State of Iowa the following described lands situated in Fremont County Iowa, Viz: Block One, Two, Three, Four, Five, Six, Seven, Eight, Nine, Ten, Eleven, Twelve, Thirteen, Fourteen, Fifteen, Sixteen, Seventeen, Eighteen, Nineteen Twenty Twenty-one, Twenty-Two, Twenty-Three, Twenty-four, Twenty-five, Twenty Six, Twenty-Seven, Twenty-Eight, Twenty-nine, Thirty, Thirty-one, Thirty-Two, Thirty-Three, Thirty-Six, Thirty-Seven, Thirty eight, Thirty-nine, Forty, Forty-one, Forty-Two, Forty-Three, Forty-four, Forty-five, Forty-Six, Forty-Seven, Forty-Eight, Forty-nine, Fifty, Fifty-one, Fifty-Two, Fifty-Three, Fifty four, Fifty-five, Fifty-Six Fifty-Seven, Fifty-Eight, Fifty-nine and Sixty in the South West Quarter of Section number Thirty-two (32) in Township Sixty-nine N (No 69) of Range Number Forty (No 40) W according to the Survey dated October 29th 1873 and now on file in the Recorders office of Fremont County Iowa, to have and to hold, to them and their successors in trust for a Public Burial Ground and said Trustee or their successors shall have power to sell any or all of said Blocks for the purpose of raising money to fence and keep in repair said Grounds at such price as they may deem just and proper, They shall keep a register of their Sales and also a register of the Names, ages dates of the death and number of the lots and Blocks of the persons who may be buried in said Burial Grounds, together with such other fact as they may deem necessary and proper and in case of a vacancy, by death resignation or otherwise of any of the aforesaid Trustees the remaining trustee or Trustees shall have power to fill said vacancy by appointment and a record of said appointment made and entered on the above mentioned register, shall be sufficient for all purposes herein contemplated

Signed this 13th day of December 1873
U. D. Coy

Middle: Virgil W. Cooper stone with guitars on it.

Bottom: Anvil commemorating burial site of Gus Sederstram.

(Not drawn to scale.)

Note on recording:
In this cemetery we find that one lot generally encompasses what may sometimes visually appear as two rows. However, we have recorded those stones included on each lot as one row. We hope this explanation will facilitate locating grave sites in Farragut's cemetery.

Top: Stone of George A. Smith; Greedy family stone; and monument of Mary A. Potter [all at Farragut Cemetery].

Middle: Cleopatra and Gola A. Barnett's tombstone; and damaged stone of Charles W. Burnside with hands of man and wife clasped under "Farewell." [Both at Farragut.]

Bottom: Boulder with stone on top erected by Manti Cemetery Association after vandalism occurred; and cannon marking site of burial of "the unknown soldier" at Farragut [only "unknown soldier" memorial to our knowledge in Fremont County.]

When the Mormon trek west of Nauvoo, Illinois, began, Alpheus Cutler was among those fleeing from persecution. Mr. Cutler was one of the master workmen on the Nauvoo Temple, a member of the high council and a respected leader in the church. By the time the emigrants had reached western Iowa, a number of them had become disenchanted with the teachings of Brigham Young. About 20 families led by Alpheus Cutler left the movement at Kanesville (present day Council Bluffs) and settled first on Silver Creek north of Malvern and then moved south to develop the community of Manti.

Edmund Fisher was the first man to establish a home in the area to which the other "Cutlerites" came. A small creek running through the town was named after him. Two stages came through town and the town's location at the junction of two heavily traveled roads was natural. A tavern know as "Traveler's Inn" was built for the stage horses and travelers to rest. The building still stands.

A Cutlerite church was built in 1853 and eventually had at least 102 baptized members. Most of these people joined the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints sometime after 1860. After the railroad was located north and east of Manti, and the town of Shenandoah was established, the village of Manti began its slow disintegration.

The Manti Cemetery located now in the midst of farmlands about one-third of a mile southeast of the location of the old schoolhouse, is reported to have at one time held from 200 to 400 graves. The first recorded grave is that of An (or Ann) Malinda Taylor who died December 14, 1851, at just a little over 1 year of age. Alpheus Cutler died in 1864 and his stone is one which still remains in the Manti Cemetery.

Some of the bodies were removed to other graveyards. Most of the stones have been destroyed. A Cemetery Association and the DAR have done what they could to restore and preserve what is left of this historic graveyard. The Shenandoah Chapter of the DAR purchased a marker and placed it as a permanent monument to those early pioneers, their children and relatives who are buried in the Manti Cemetery.

Jacob Dawson, founder of Dawsonburg post office, was one of the earliest settlers in that north central part of Fremont County. It was located on the stage coach road between Sidney and Tabor and the first Tabor residents received their mail from Dawsonburg. With the growth of Tabor, Dawsonburg slipped into oblivion. Mr. Dawson was a lawyer who arrived in Fremont County with his wife, Editha Jane (Ross), and their son, John, (under a year old) in the fall of 1849. He established the post office which bore his name on February 14, 1851. The "town" was a log cabin and seemingly did not grow into a real community. A school in District No. 4 in Green township was known as the Dawsonburg School and was open until some time after the first World War.

This still active cemetery was probably named after the church which at one time stood nearby. According to the records, book 11, page 173 found in the County Recorder's office, John R & Belle Russell sold 2.6 acres in NE 1/4 NE 1/4, Sec. 34, Twp. 70, Rng. 42 to the Church of Mt. Zion as a cemetery lot. The amount paid for the lot was $70 and was deeded August 1, 1889.

The exact location of this family cemetery is unknown at present. It was listed on the WPA map as being in section 21; however, one source says that this cemetery and Ross cemetery in section 16 of this township are one and the same. No names were listed in the WPA record.

Top: Thornton stone at Dawsonburg Cemetery; Hugh Irwin's stone with legion marker at Mt. Zion; and tombstone of Elizabeth Gaylord at Dawsonburg or Gaylord.

Middle: View of Hardy stones; and Hiatt stones at Mt. Zion.
Bottom: Noah B. and Sarah A. Greene's stone [Dawsonburg]; marker of Nicholas Frederickson [Dawsonburg]; and small stone of Abram McClain at Mt. Zion.

The first ancestor of the Rhode family to come to America was John Rhode, who came from Germany before the Revolutionary War. He lived in South Carolina and then Ohio. Three Rhode sons were among the earliest pioneers in Fremont County: Daniel, John and Joseph. Daniel A. arrived first, moving to a location near Hamburg in 1847. In 1850, he settled in Green Township west of where Tabor now stands. In 1851, John and Joseph drove overland from their homes in Indiana and settled near their brother.

Daniel married his first wife in 1837, Mary McCord. She died December 24, 1857, after bearing these children: Jonathan (killed by lightning July 18, 1854), Harriet A. and Joseph (killed by Indians in Wyoming) Dermarius, David, Ellen and Eleanor (d 24 Jun 1854, age 2 yr 9 mo 4 da). All were deceased by 1881. Only Henry W. survived. Mr. Rhode's second wife was Mrs. Eliza Pattent-m 30 Aug 1860 d 1874. Mr. Rhode d 1 Sep 1882 and is buried in the family plot west of Tabor which bears his name.

Since the town of Tabor lies primarily in Fremont County, it seems valuable to include its cemetery in this record book. The cemetery lies in the northwest part of Tabor just across the Fremont County line in Mills County. The founders of Tabor came from Oberlin, Ohio, hoping to start a college near the Missouri River at Civil Bend (now Percival). Because of frequent floods in the area, the men sought higher ground and decided on what is now the town of Tabor. The first burial in Tabor was James Gates who died in 1853 at Civil Bend just five days after the family arrived by boat. A year later the Gates infant daughter died on May 28, 1854. Lucile Adams, daughter of one of the founders, died on June 7, 1854. Her stone identifies her as the first person to be buried in the Tabor Cemetery, but one source states that "James Gates was buried on the prairie hill which is now the Tabor Cemetery, his being the first grave there." (Iowa Journal of History and Politics.)

unknown?, Shirts, R-umg, lot 211 buried somewhere in this area. R. Shirts found in Missouri River drowned 15 Jul 1907; believed about 65 yrs of age: was wearing a Union jacket & was given a military funeral by the GAR; identified as R. Shirts by a railroad ticket in his pocket. Names of two sisters were learned one of whom he had been visiting. WPA military research found CW record of a Robert T Shirts & this info was added to county records. However, a 1980 inquiry of Graves Registration, Des Moines to ascertain whether he was still buried in Tabor, revealed that this military info. applied to a Robert T Shirts, b 1843, d 25 Jul 1912 at Veterans Home, Marshalltown of Bright's disease & is buried in Ia Veterans Home Cemetery. And so, the military status of R Shirts buried in Tabor is unknown.

A family was going west in a covered wagon along the Old Post Road (now Highway 333) when their daughter died. They drove a mile north to the Isaac Wagoner farm to seek permission to bury their daughter on their land so the grave would not need to be so close to the road. Mr. Wagoner gave permission and promised to care for the grave. Soon other graves were added; a map of 1871 shows the location of the cemetery. In 1872, Isaac's daughter died. Edna Wagoner's stone is the oldest marker in the cemetery. In Dec. 1875, the Wagoners donated land for a township cemetery. John Yates, who purchased the farm, gave another acre of land and space for a Methodist church which was built in 1885. James F. McQueen was mostly responsible for the cemetery's care until recent years when others began to share the work.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CEMETERY

Pt. NE 1/4 SE 1/4 Sec. 22, Twp. 67, Rng. 40
Locust Grove Township, Fremont County, Iowa
Recorded by Carol Hall & Winifred Rhoades

St. Paul's Lutheran Church was organized March 30, 1902, by a Rev. Groenmiller. Some three acres for a church, parsonage and cemetery were donated by Ernest Bredensteiner whose farm adjoined it. The church was built in 1902 by German immigrants who settled in this area and followed the Lutheran faith. The cemetery was dedicated on August 28, 1902, the same day the church was dedicated.

Although the precise site of this cemetery is unknown today, it was listed on the WPA record. It is believed that the cemetery was next to a county school called Columbia.

The French Village was the first actual settlement of white persons in Fremont County. It was located along the east side of the Nishnabotna River in what is now northeast Hamburg. The first residents were Joseph Brenard and Simon Fleurie, who came from Canada in 1836 during the Canadian Rebellion. By 1840 the Village had 40 individuals and families. The nearby French Cemetery undoubtedly contains graves of family members of many of the earliest settlers, such as : Trudeau, Cartier, Velandres, Arsineau, Parquette, LaCroix and Langdeau. Well-known Pottawattamie Indian names were part of this French-Canadian-Indian village: Grandais, and Frombois; other families included Antoin, Bibis and Babis.

The old French Cemetery was located northeast of the present Ronald Emberton home. There was also a French Cemetery located on the bluffs about two miles south of Hamburg in Atchison County, Mo. The Village passed into oblivion about 1900 leaving only the graves. (Sec. 26-67-42). The wooden and soft-stone markers eroded away or were destroyed, all but one. It was left in pieces leaning against a tree with some of its lettering legible. The first name seems to be Louises with the words wife of Joseph C(or G)egar underneath. Beside it is a footmarker with the initials L. C. (or G.) upon it. All other surface signs that a French Village ever existed are gone.

In 1840 Cornelius McKissick settled in an area east of present day Hamburg which became known as McKissick's Grove. When a cemetery was begun, it was called McKissick's then Farmer's (after Thomas Farmer who first owned the land) and finally, Mt. Olive. The first burial on record was that of a Mrs. Freeman, said to be the wife of a hired hand, who died in 1845.

A church called "Nishnabotna Church" was built next to the cemetery in 1845. Reports have it that the first Baptist church built in this area was on land next to the cemetery, so it could be the same. Later, the church became "McKissick Grove Presbyterian Church".

For a time the land was in Missouri. Then in 1848, surveyors moved the Missouri line south and the McKissick Grove community became a part of Iowa and with it the cemetery. Mt. Olive is still in use and cared for by the Mt. Olive Cemetery Association. New additions were acquired in 1926 and in 1974.

STAUCH CEMETERY

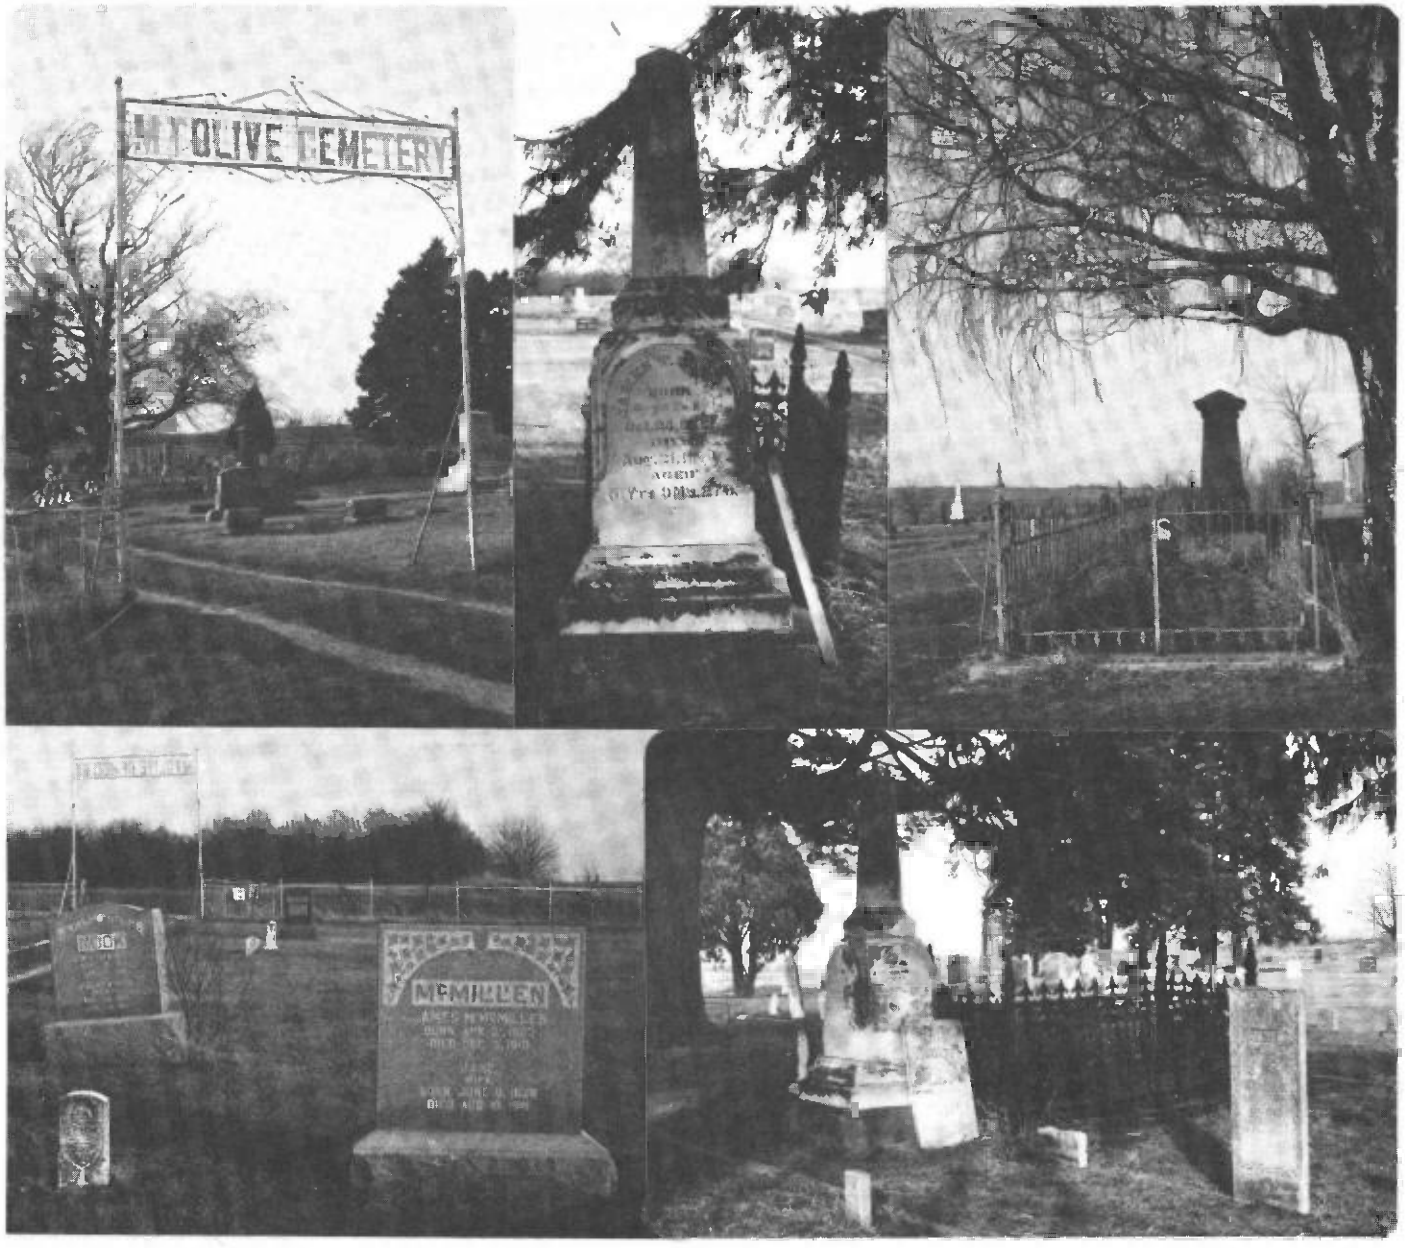

Pt. SE SE, Sec. 5, Twp. 67, Rng 41
Madison Township, Fremont County, Iowa

The exact location of this family burial ground is unknown and it is believed that the members of the Stauch family buried here were reinterred in the Riverton and Hamburg cemeteries.

MT. OLIVE CEMETERY

TOP: Gate at cemetery entry; James T. Calvin, b. Boyd Co., KY; and lot with old iron fencing.

MIDDLE: Christian Nook and James and Jane McMillen's stones; and iron fencing around James Calvin stone.

BOTTOM: Mt. Olive church.

UTTERBACK CEMETERY

(sometimes called Mt. Zion)

Pt. NE 1/4 NE 1/4, Sec. 3, Twp. 67, Rng. 41, 6.63 A.
Recorded on March 22, 1979
by
Wade and Ermaline Smith

James Utterback came to this country in 1854. He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in McKissick Grove. He obtained title to land from the U. S. government with a cash entry dated October 30, 1855 at Council Bluffs. He died at his home, three miles south of Riverton, on October 17, 1894, and was buried in the cemetery which bears his name.

WESLEYAN

Pt. NE Cor. Sec. 3, Twp. 67, Rng. 41

The exact location of this cemetery is debatable. However, in the 1891 and 1910 atlases of Iowa a Wesleyan Methodist church is shown in Madison Township. It is believed that Wesleyan cemetery was near this church. The name of the cemetery is listed in the WPA records with no site or names included.

This cemetery is located one-half mile north of the east side of the town of Imogene. The road jogs around the cemetery to the west, north and back east, then continues on north.

According to legend, the first grave (Hayes child buried in 1875) was located intentionally near the section line in such a manner and location that it would prevent the road from going through the land.

In an early day, a house stood on the southwest corner of what is now the cemetery; it was used at one time as the German Reform Church parsonage. Some cedar trees are still in evidence near where the house stood.

Originally the west acre of the cemetery was German Lutheran. Around 1900 this portion was given to the Monroe Township Cemetery in return for its upkeep. A few of the earliest gravestones are inscribed in German.

The Fremont County Recorder's office lists the facts that George Gutschenritter deeded land for the cemetery (Recorded-Book 12, Page 527). The records also verify a gift of land for expansion on February 28, 1901, from John and Sarah Haley.

The cemetery is presently maintained by the Monroe Township Trustees.

Father John James Ryan came to serve the Imogene St. Patrick's Parish in 1882. On December 3, 1883, Father Ryan purchased four acres of McGargill land south and a little east of the town of Imogene for use as Mount Calvary Cemetery. In February of 1884, Father Ryan who lived in Shenandoah, was crossing the ice on the Nishnabotna River on a sick call to Imogene. He fell through the ice and was drenched with the chilling water. He continued on his errand but died tragically of pneumonia two days later, on February 17, 1884, at the age of 43. He was reverently laid to rest in the cemetery which he had purchased just two months earlier. Later, a monument of Bary granite, was erected in his memory.

CHAMBERS (SINGLETON) CEMETERY

Pt. NW 1/4 NE 1/4, Sec. 13, Twp. 69, Rng. 41

Prairie Township, Fremont County, Ia.

In the spring of 1857, Garta, wife of Ezekiel Chambers, was burned in a barn fire caused when sparks blew from a bonfire in the yard which was being used to make soap. A few weeks later on May 31, Garta died. She was buried on the family farm near Walnut Creek. A year later, the local schoolmaster was struck by lightning and buried near Mrs. Chambers. A neighbor was drowned going home from the funeral and his grave was added. A pioneer family, traveling by in a covered wagon, asked to bury a dead child on the farm. These four tragic deaths caused Ezekiel to set aside the northwest corner of his farm as a permanent burying ground. It was known for a time as Chambers-Singleton Cemetery when Mr. Singleton was its caretaker. An iron archway now stands over the entrance designating it as "Chambers Cemetery". It is now under the care of Prairie and Walnut Township Trustees.

ANTRIM CEMETERY

Pt. SW 1/4 NE 1/4 Sec. 11, Twp 70 Rng 41, 1.05A
Riverside Township, Fremont County, Iowa
Recorded by Mary Blackburn, Jane Smith and Dorothy Graves

The first John Antrim came to America from Ireland in 1676. His descendant, John Antrim, was born in 1829 and married in 1849. It was about that time that he and his bride came to Iowa and settled near the present town of Randolph. They had nine children, three of whom died early in life. These and many other Antrims were reburied in the Randolph Cemetery. Gravestone thieves have carried many of the early stones from this burial ground.

This cemetery is located east of Randolph. It is approximately 1.2 miles east on route 184, then north .5 miles and east .6 miles. It is located on the north side of the road, on a hilltop. The cemetery has been abandoned for years. Some care is taken of it through scything and burning. The approximate area is around 135' north by 300' west. The ground is fenced and the area appears to have been scythed off and burned over.

Sometime in the years between 1871 and 1875, two children of Dennis and Rebecca Duff died of diptheria. They were buried at midnight in the northwest corner of the family's orchard. (Many victims of contagious diseases were buried immediately near their homes as a method of preventing spread of infection.) No specific record of the actual date has been found.

William Brooke was the first settler in Riverside Township, followed soon after by James Reese. Deer Creek was the name given a settlement just one-half mile east of the present town of Randolph. In 1856, John and Robert Antrim moved into the area. Volney A. Bass became one of the large landowners with possession, at one time, of land from Randolph all the way to Farragut. In 1870, Anson Rood purchased some of the land from Mr. Bass. When the railroad went through Fremont County, Deer Creek was moved one-half mile so it would be on the railroad line. Mr. Bass gave land for the north part of town and Mr. Rood for the south. Randolph was platted in 1877.

The cemetery on the northwest corner of town was instigated by Mr. Rood and the land was given by Mr. Bass. Four northwest blocks of lot 151 were set aside "for paupers". Franklin Post 3574, Army of the Republic of Iowa, gave money for burial of soldiers. About 1908, a women's auxiliary was organized to "improve the quality of care" for the cemetery. An 80-acre farm was purchased and the proceeds of the farm are used for cemetery care. In the minutes of one meeting it was noted that the men allowed the women to care for the grounds but they kept control of the money, only a portion of which was turned over for the auxiliary's use. Later, the men and women joined to work together congenially on the projects. Dates of deeds filed for the cemetery are: August 6, 1889, and February 11, 1890.

The town of Riverton was laid out in 1870 on land purchased from Isaac & Coleman Smith. The Riverton cemetery was platted in the town plot and a warranty deed for the cemetery was filed with the Recorder on Jun 9, 1880 and listed John Denison as the seller of the land for $250 to the trustees. The cemetery association received its articles of incorporation in 1879. The first recorded death was that of William C. Davis on Dec. 12, 1884, at the age of 37 years. The undertaker was A. Shoemaker and the attending physician was C. T. Clark.

Kimber Shull was Riverton's first licensed embalmer and his son Earl joined his father in the business in 1946 and he has kept the record of all burials since that time.

One long-time resident of Riverton remembers the early days of the cemetery when it was filled with beautiful wild flowers. This was one of the first cemeteries where an avenue of flags was developed on each side of the entry road. Today nearly 60 flags fly on special occasions.

Scott Township, Fremont County, Ia.

This small family cemetery is near the main Thurman Cemetery but is a separate graveyard. Surprisingly, the father and mother of the first child buried in the Thurman cemetery are buried here. In the Study Family History, the following account is given of John Ewell's death and burial: "Having completed his alloted time on earth (in 1893), he departed this life at a little over seventy years of age and by his request he was buried on a certain spot on his farm, north and west of his home, on the brow of a hill, overlooking his farm and home, which has been set apart as a family burial ground, known as Ewell Cemetery".

Elizabeth, reportedly called "Grandma Ewell", died in 1906 at the age of 82. She was laid to rest by the side of her husband in the Ewell cemetery.

This neighborhood cemetery is in the rugged Waubonsie hills just northwest of Pinkey's Glen west of Tabor. Presently, it is reached by going north of Tabor 1 mile on Hy. #275, west 3 1/2 miles& south 1 mile. Land in Mills County was donated by the Mackey family, hence the name,but the family was reinterred in the Tabor Cemetery. The north part of the cemetery lies in Mills County & the south portion (10R x 10R), originally owned by Judge Fred Rector, is in Scott Twp., Fremont County. It is well cared for with the trustees from both townships sharing the cost for the caretaker family.

From Mrs. Esther Good and an obituary is information on the unmarked burial of the infant son of Mr. & Mrs. Clyde Hadden, services 18 Aug 1933 and of the baby of George Reafleng.

The first settlers in Scott Township arrived about 1845 and 1846, primarily Mormons who had come west with Brigham Young. Some left the trek at Kanesville (now Council Bluffs) because of theological differences and some because the land of southwest Iowa seemed promising for farming. The names of a few of these first families include Study, Forney, Ewell, Dyke, Ettleman and Thomas Greenwood (the first Fremont County judge). Abraham Fletcher arrived in the area known as Plum Hollow about 1851. In 1856 Mr. Fletcher laid out a village he called Fremont City. The town's name was changed to Thurman when another Fremont City, Iowa, was found to be already in existence.

The Thurman Cemetery is located high on a bluff east of town. It was part of the Ewell farm and the first burial, February 10, 1852, was that of Barbara Ewell, nine-day-old daughter of John and Elizabeth Study Ewell. This portion of the cemetery became known as the "Ewell Addition". As other people gave land to the cemetery, each became known by the donor's name. Other areas were added by: Forney, Schooley, Greenwood, Baylor and Leeka.

Jacob Acord arrived in Austin, Fremont County, Iowa, in March of 1840. (The town of Austin served as county seat until it was moved to Sidney in 1851.) Austin was located about two miles north of the present town of Hamburg. Jacob and his wife, Cynthia Ann Jones, were parents of the first white child born in Fremont County.

Greenberry Acord was born in March of 1841. Later, Green served in the Civil War.

The Acord cemetery is located on land which first belonged to William Mckissick. William married Martha Acord in 1847, so he became Jacob Acord's brother-in-law. Jacob's grandmother, Rachel Acord, who died about 1856, his son John, who died in 1860, and his wife, Cynthia, are all buried in the Acord cemetery.

A "Poor House" was located somewhere in Fremont County as early as 1863, for admissions to such a place have been preserved for that year. A permanent location two miles south of Sidney was purchased on February 6, 1877 from W. P. Wyatt for the purpose of establishing a "Poor Farm". That same year, the first grave was opened on a rise northwest of the present building. Through the years over sixty people were buried in this cemetery, the last in 1944. Identification has been made from the county home records since most of the original markers have deteriorated or been destroyed. The last five graves are marked with cement squares. The space is now fenced and cared for properly.

Of interest are entries from the record book of January 1, 1880. Number of inmates: 26. Expenses for the year 1879 (including $500 salary for the superintendent) was $2,881.56. Burial expenses for the year: $20.

GRANDVIEW CEMETERY

Pt. NE 1/4 SE 1/4, Sec. 31, Twp. 69, Rng. 41, 1.23 A.
Sidney Township, Fremont County, Iowa
Recorded by

Grandview Cemetery is located high on a bluff overlooking the Missouri River valley. The entrance road originally started near the present home of Jerry Birkby and went east and north through the timber to the northeast corner of the cemetery. This old road is still visible. The present road was established east of the cemetery about 1926. Thomas Birkby, A. R. Bobbitt and S E. Vernon signed the Articles of Incorporation with the first grave, that of Sarah Vernon (S.E. Vernon's mother) recorded in 1875. The Birkby and Bobbitt families still live in the area and remain active in the management and care of this much-used county cemetery. Freewill contributions are used to preserve this beautiful, historic graveyard.

HUME CEMETERY

Recorded by

John M. Hume was born in Kentucky in 1829. After a stay in Indiana with his parents, he moved to Fremont County, Iowa, in 1854. He was married in 1860 to Johanna Mann, also a native of Kentucky. They had eight children. Four died before 1881: William, Samuel, Lew and Clara. As far as is known, all four, including their mother, Johanna (Joan) are buried in the Hume Cemetery. This burial ground in the timber north of Grandview Cemetery was on John Hume's land and in the early days had a road leading directly into the area.

An interesting note: John Hume was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He gave the land and was one of the organizers and builders of the small frame church still standing in Knox. Johanna, on the other hand, was a member of the Old School Baptist Church and would not participate in any of the Methodist services.

A burial listed for the Hume Cemetery is in the Crawford mortuary records in Sidney...Baldry (could be Boldra), Everet d 31 May 1886-age 10 mo, parent-Lewis Baldry. No stone has been found for this or a burial reported to have been held in 1915 or 1916.

Knox Big Spring is one-half mile south of the place where the town of Knox once existed. It is about four miles west of Sidney. James and Austin Knox were Virginia farmers who specialized in the fruit business before coming to Iowa. They settled in the Big Spring area which is one of the most historic places in Fremont County, for it was here that Stephen Cooper, often listed as "the first white resident of Fremont County", settled in 1839. In 1843, Mr. Cooper sold his claim to a Captain Whitehead, owner of two slaves. The land at that time was part of Missouri. In 1848, when the state line was changed and Big Spring became part of Iowa, Captain Whitehead took his slaves and moved back into Missouri. He sold his land to James Knox. James enlisted in Co. E, 29th Iowa Infantry, on August 15, 1862. His brother, Austin, became a member of the Southern Border Brigade 4th Batallion, Co. A., whose responsibilities included border patrol along the Missouri-Iowa line.

After the war, James ran a store in the settlement known as Lickskillet and Cattletown (among other names). When James applied for permission from the government to have a postoffice in his store, the permit came back addressed to James Knox, Knox, Iowa, and the little town legally became Knox. Both James and Austin are buried just north of Knox in Grandview Cemetery. In the little family plot known as Knox Cemetery, one-half mile south of Knox and next to Knox Big Spring, are the stones and the burial sites of a number of other members of the Knox family.

On October of 1846 Miles Gaylord's family arrived in the area of Lacy Grove. It was a time when a number of Pottawattamie Indians lived in the county and one of their villages, ruled by sub-chief Shawtee, was located nearby.

The name, Lacy Grove, came from Captain George Lacy who lived about 1792--August 13, 1867. He was a veteran of the War of 1812. There is no record that any of his family is buried in the Lacy Grove Cemetery although some feel that a son, James E. Lacy, who died April 25, 1856 after being shot during a land-claim dispute in Nebraska Territory, just might be.

George Lacy made a cash entry for the land where the cemetery is located on July 12, 1853.

MOSELEY CEMETERY

Sec. 31, Twp. 68, Rng. 42

The Moseley farm east of Sidney has been in the family since the 1920s. It is located close to an old stage coach road which used to run behind what is known as the George Moseley home. Beside the old road is a place where tradition says burials took place, probably caused by the death or deaths of loved ones of travelers passing by. There was never a stone as far as any one can determine, but a tame rose bush, at one time, indicated that someone valued and marked the place.

Parsley Cemetery is on land which was first owned by Noah Leabo, who made a cash entry for it on July 12, 1853. (Leabo lived in the McKissick Grove area as early as 1842 when it was part of Missouri. He is also reported to have been a Frenchman who lived in the French Village east of Hamburg.)

In the 1850's this area was known both as Camp Creek and Walnut Grove settlement. The Rev. Jacob Baker, a Methodist preacher, with his wife, Mary Ann, and their family, arrived about July 1st., 1853, and bought 160 acres of land in the Parsley Cemetery area. The first Methodist Camp Meeting in the county was held in August at the head of Camp Creek. The Bakers died within one day of each other in March, 1894, and were buried in a common grave in this cemetery near their home.

Cherry Grove was another name used in this part of the county; a Cherry Grove church was active at one time. After the town of Anderson was established in 1879, the cemetery, along with all its other names, was sometimes called the Anderson Cemetery.

The name Parsley was derived from Alexander Parsley who lived from 1820 to 1874. James Parsley and Laura, husband and wife, sold the ground to the trustees of Sidney Township on September 10, 1884, for $25 with the admonition: "to be used for the express purpose of a burial ground and to be used for no other purpose!"

William Rector was a pioneer preacher who laid the foundations for many of the earliest Methodist churches in southwest Iowa. He was born in 1792, fought in the war of 1812 and married Elizabeth Smith in Kentucky in 1815. He and his family were living in Fremont County by 1851, for he applied for bounty land at that time. His son, Benjamin Rector, served and died in the Civil War. William and Elizabeth are buried at the foot of the Waubonsie hills east of the farm buildings presently belonging to E. B. Nennemann. A number of other graves were in the graveyard including that of Austin Knox after whom the community of Knox was named. Most of the bodies were removed and reinterred in the Grandview Cemetery, however the graves of William and Elizabeth remain in the burial ground which bears their name and their marking stone is still visible. A protective iron fence guards the space

This cemetery is located on the eastern side of the former Pleasant Grove settlement which was in the present-day Sidney Township. It derived its name from Garrison Berry Redd, who was born September 30, 1815, and died January 17, 1873. It is on top of the bluffs overlooking the Nishnabotna Valleys. The cemetery is on part of the land which G. B. Redd obtained from the United States Government and is recorded in land warrent No. 75704 on May 6, 1853. Another section of the cemetery was obtained from Benjamin F Rector. (He lost his life as a major in the Civil War but is buried in Sidney and not in the Redd Cemetery.) Many descendants of Garrison Berry Redd still live in Fremont County. This cemetery is sometimes referred to as the "King Cemetery".

Legend has it that the Sidney Cemetery is on land which originally was used by the Indians as a burial ground. Located in southeast Sidney, it is on a rise looking over the rolling Iowa countryside. Permanent settlers arrived in the area in the middle 1840's. The town site was chosen as the Fremont County seat May 10, 1851. Dr. William Dewey was appointed to survey and plat the town; he finished the task May 27, 1851. The first sale of lots began in June.

In 1853, Thomas Greenwood, the first elected Fremont County judge, purchased the land which became the cemetery. One early burial recorded was that of Robert Malcom, a 12-year old from Prairie Township who froze to death during the winter of 1855. The cemetery was actually surveyed and plotted by Dr. Dewey in 1858. A number of additions ahave been made to the Sidney cemetery through the years.

AUSTIN CEMETERY

Pt. NE 1/4 NW 1/4 or NE 1/4 SE 1/4
Sec. 10, Twp. 67, Rng. 42
Washington Twp., Fremont County, Iowa

At the time of the organization of the county, the county seat was at Austin in what was known as Franklin township and was about seven and a half miles south of the town of Sidney and comprised the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 10, township 67, range 42. Austin consisted of one or two houses, the main one of which was the store and residence of A. H. Argyle.

The Austin was listed on the WPA records in the 1930's but no names can be found on the list of burials and the exact location of the cemetery is rather vague. Some sources indicate that the bodies were moved to the Hamburg Cemetery. An Austin schoolhouse (no longer used as a school) is still in the area.

BAKER CEMETERY

East Pt. Sec. 29, Twp. 68, Rng. 42
East side of Waubonsie State Park
Washington Twp., Fremont County, Iowa
Records by Eithel Baker Brindle

Henry Harrison Baker and Matilda Sanford Baker came to Fremont County, Iowa, from Michgan in 1858, settled and built their home in what is now Waubonsie State Park north of Hamburg.

Twin boys, the fourth and fifth of their twelve children, were born to the couple on December 23, 1858. One boy died the next day and the other on January 6, 1859. The Bakers buried their two sons across the hollow to the south of where their house is located. This was the start of the small, family graveyard.

An iron fence, carefully preserved with a coat of modern aluminum paint, surrounds the graves. The gate is always left unlatched for any who wish to enter and try to imagine what it was like to have lived back in those early pioneer days.

BUCKHAM CEMETERY

Pt. NW 1/4 NW 1/4,
Sec. 26, Twp. 68, Rng. 42
Washington Twp., Fremont County, Iowa
Recorded by Walter Farwell

Tilden L Buckham and his wife, Jane Hillis, came to Pleasant Grove, Fremont County, in 1842. Their oldest son Peter Buckham was born in 1845. (He later served in the Civil War.) The oldest graves in the Buckham Cemetery go back to October of 1845 when two of Archibald H Argyle's children were buried here. Mr. Argyle was one of the county's early distinquished residents. He owned the store at Austin which was first used as a courthouse.

Mr. Buckham was the first treasurer and recorder of the county being chosen in 1849 when the county was organized. He died Jan.1, 1876 at his farm home 1 3/4 miles northwest of the Belcher Ferry. He willed his final resting place--lot No. 15 in his timber known as "Grave Yard Site" to Fremont County. Recorded in county deed book M., page 596.

S. B. Frost was the original land grant owner of the land and must have sold it and moved away after his wife died. This farm is located 4½ miles north of Hamburg. The one stone was later brought to the Fremont County Historical Society where it is now housed. Raymond Zanker has done a beautiful job repairing this stone for the museum.

Archibald H. Argyle arrived in the Hamburg area in 1845. In 1857 Augustus Borchers, a newly arrived immigrant from Germany, opened a store at the foot of the bluff where the present schoolhouse stands. It served immigrants, settlers and Indians. Late in 1858, the town was surveyed and named Hamburg after Mr. Borchers's birthplace in Germany. The cemetery, northwest of the city, has as some of its earliest recorded burials: Joshua Wold--1858; John McGuire--1860; James Brown--1861.

Smith Burgner conducted one of Hamburg's early livery stables. This stable furnished the team for the hearse, the pallbearers' wagon with four seats and many of the riggs used for funeral processions. Lafe Daniels, reported to be a man of great strength, was employed at the stables and the main driver for the big black team used on the hearse.

An Appropriation Ordinance book was started by the City of Hamburg in 1870. The first entry pertaining to the cemetery was listed in June, 1873. Four dollars was listed for grave digging. A section had been set aside for "public graves". Some sources called this "Strangers Rest". In July, 1873, the town of Hamburg purchased a 10 acre tract of ground from Augustus Borchers for $300, "such land to be used for the Hamburg Cemetery". Additional land was acquired in 1903 from Charles and Mary Burkholder, Sarah Farley and in 1972 from Leland Ebert. (Helen Hensleigh Wenger, researcher)

LOVELADY CEMETERY

Pt. N E 1/4 NE 1/4,
Sec. 26, Twp. 68, Rng. 42

The Lovelady farm was located on the top of a high hill above the Nishnabotna River valley west of Riverton. Also called Pleasant Grove. William M. Lovelady arrived in Fremont County in 1842. He was one of the members of the Pleasant Grove Christian church and started one of the oldest and historically important cemeteries in the county. William Lovelady died December 16, 1896. Unfortunately, the stones in the cemetery were somehow buried too deep to be salvaged and no records have been found.

The name of Slusher comes from the son of Eli Slusher who lived north around the bluff from Hamburg as early as 1847. Eli died on August 12, 1854 and is buried in the cemetery which bears his name. The cemetery is south of the state park and just off the bluff road on private land. It is located on a knoll about a quarter of a mile east of the farm buildings on the Jack Good farm. It is nicely maintained, clean and with about a dozen stones still standing .

On December 28 and 29th of 1850, a Father Christian Hoecken came to the French Village (northeast of present day Hamburg). He baptized sixteen people, gave confirmation and married three couples. The idea of building a Catholic church was contemplated from this moment. One of the residents of the French Village was Clement Lamoureaux, a fur trader, and Louis Trudeau, both French-Canadian settlers. They and their families were founding members of St. Mary's parish and were on the building committee which finally did erect a church in 1874. In 1873, Father F.W.Pape, a native of Westphalia, Prussia (he arrived in America in 1840 with 40 families) organized a parish and built a church and rectory in Hamburg. The land for a cemetery was acquired by the parish around 1880. The land was in the vacinity of that owned by a Ruben Simons (who was one of the founders of the Baptist church of Hamburg). It is possible the cemetery land was obtained from him.

On November 2, 1885, Father A. Cook blessed the cemetery and gave it the name St. Mary's. It is thought the earliest burials included French-Canadians John B. Lamoureaux (1810-1870) and Joseph Valandre (1808-1870). The first burial listed in church records is that of 9-year-old Anna Gordon who died in 1885. An additional strip of land was acquired in 1886 to be used as a road into the cemetery.

South of Waubonsie State Park on the bluff road (now called the Scenic Corridor Trail) is a cemetery on the side of the western slope of one of the bluffs. It is an attractive location with cedar trees shading the many stones in the fenced graveyard. A 1982 burial date shows that it is still being used on occasion. It has been called "Spring Valley" because of a Spring Valley located near the Neely farm or "Neeley Hollow" as it was sometimes called. The name "Sunnyside" came from the school district in the area. Many neighborhoods were known by their school names.

The name "Hi Brown" came from a nearby settler, Hiram Brown, who came to Fremont County with his parents, the Sam Browns, in 1854 and settled near Hamburg on a farm which has been in the family for 129 years. The fifth generation now lives on the farm.

An interesting note: in the early 1940's a Colonel John Miller died at the Fremont County Home. He had asked to be buried at the Hi Brown Cemetery. The steward of the home at the time was John Simms. He accompanied the hearse to the road at the foot of the bluff where the casket was carried up a footpath to the burial site. Mr. Simms expressed surprise at the large number of graves in the scenic cemetery.

FARRAGUT

For over 100 years, this undertaking firm in Farragut, Iowa, has carried the name of Campbell in some form. Archie Campbell (b 1834 d 1924) founded the funeral business and it was known as "A. Campbell". His three sons became licensed morticians: Arch (b 1880 d 1935), Fred (b 1881 d 1964) and Clarence (b 1887 d 1967). After 1924, the name became "A. Campbell and Sons".

In 1939, Keith Bickett became an employee in both the furniture store and the funeral home. In 1951, the firm became "A. Campbell and Sons and Bickett". After 1964, Keith Bickett (b 1922 d 1976) became the sole owner.

In 1976 the business was sold to Fred Hackett, Jr., of nearby Shenandoah. It continues to operate its efficient and helpful service under the name "Campbell-Bickett".

HAMBURG

Harry N. Mansfield established the Mansfield Funeral Home in Hamburg in the early 1920's. He operated it until Sept. 1, 1944, when it was purchased by Franklin W. and June Rash. It has been under their management since that time. Mr. Rash is a licensed Funeral Director in both the state of Iowa and Missouri.

The Johnson Funeral Home in Hamburg was established in 1923 by O. C. (Bud) Johnson, who managed it until his death in Feb. of 1968. Marie Baker, who was associated with the home for 34 years, owned and managed it from 1968 until her death in Dec. of 1979. The house, which eventually became the Johnson Funeral Home, was an historic building erected in 1874 on land which originally belonged to Frederick Argyle, one of Hamburg's earliest residents. In 1874 the land was purchased by a Mr. Metcalf who built the brick structure which continues to stand today.

O. C. Johnson purchased the Metcalf house in 1923 and modernized it in 1936 with a new addition. The Funeral Home included: The Preparation Room, Slumber Room, Family Room, Chapel, Music Room, Reception Room, Display Room and a space for living quarters. It faithfully served the Hamburg community for many years.

IMOGENE

The funeral directors of Imogene were connected with the furniture business. The first such store and service in Imogene belonged to C. R. Hayes. It was located on Main Street at the corner of Fourth Street. It was purchased, after Mr. Hayes' death, by Michael Dempsey who had started a funeral home and was studying the mortician's trade. Newton J. Hillary (1870-1952) purchased the business from Mr. Dempsey's widow after his death in 1914. He moved the furniture store to the corner of Railroad and Fourth Streets. A small room on the north side of the building was used as his casket room. He sold his business to a Mr. Larson in 1946. Eventually, the business declined but the actual building used for the furniture-undertaking business still stands today, used as a warehouse.

RANDOLPH

Randolph at one time had its own resident mortician, a Mr. David Thomas. He came in the early 1900's and opened a drug store on the west side of main street, south of the present medical clinic. He had a horse-drawn hearse which he used until the late 1920's; never did Mr. Thomas own a motorized funeral vehicle. As far as we know, Mr. Thomas did all the care for the deceased until the winter of 1929-1930 when the drug store burned and he went out of business. No records are to be found of his years in Randolph so we must assume that the books were burned in the fire.

RIVERTON

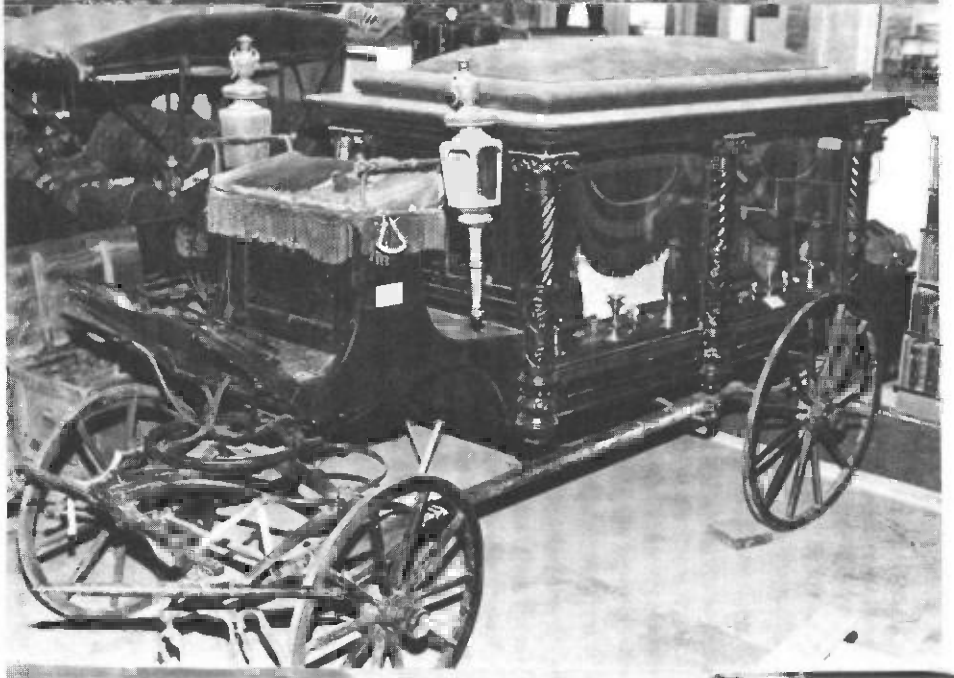

The first undertaker listed in Riverton is A. Shoemaker; the first death he recorded was in Dec. of 1884. Mr. Shoemaker served the Riverton area until 1891 when J. Marvin and Company (sic) began the work. Thomson Morgan signed burial records as undertaker from 1891 until 1895. The name of Gowdy was added to Morgan and continued until 1899. Thomson Morgan seemed to be alone from 1899 to 1901 when Sherman Smith and Arthur Sherlock took over the service.

From the early 1900's until 1908, Sherlock and Smith owned the funeral establishment and the furniture store in Riverton. In 1908, Lot Shull and his son, Kimber Clever Shull, purchased both businesses. The older Mr. Shull took care of the furniture portion and Kimber (or K. C.) became the undertaker. Winifred F Louie assisted until 1949.

K. C.'s sons, Earl and Ben, assisted their father for a number of years and both became licensed funeral directors in the 1940's. Earl joined the firm in 1946 and Ben in 1951. The present funeral home was built in 1949. The two Shull brothers continue to be active in the business and serve the community of Riverton well.

FREMONT COUNTY MORTICIANS

SIDNEY

The care of the dead during the early days in Sidney was done by a number of people. Several "undertakers" were really upholsterers and/or furniture dealers. One of the first furniture and undertaking businesses was owned in Sidney by Albert Wildberger. In the late 1880's, Mr. R. S. Crawford became the manager. On Sept. 20, 1895, Mr. Crawford became a licensed mortician for the state of Iowa. In August, 1926, Edwin Crawford, son of R. S., became the owner. Edwin's son, Robert, joined the firm in May of 1954.

The Crawford Funeral Home has been in the same location in Sidney since 1939. A new facility was built in 1963 to improve the services offered. Mr. Robert Crawford extended his funeral service to the town of Tabor in 1965. This combined new and old facility is known as the Crawford-Reeves Funeral Home. The Tabor home was expanded to its present facility in 1969.

Paul Rohde, originally of Emerson, Nebraska, joined the firm in June of 1981.

TABOR

Samuel H. Adams had a furniture store in Tabor in the 1800's where the Community Building now stands. In harmony with his business of making furniture, he was Tabor's first undertaker and made wooden coffins to care for the deceased. Mr. Adams died Feb. 26, 1910.

Next came Alexander S. Bloedel (known as Alex or A. S.) who graduated from the School of Mortuary in St. Louis, Mo., in 1907. He also had a furniture store in Tabor for 54 years. Mr. Bloedel established the first funeral home in the early 1930's in the house where Mrs. Cecil Hofmockel now resides.

Mr. Bloedel's son, Robert, assisted with the funeral home after graduation and a funeral home was established for a short time in the old "Ham" Laird house where Merrill Heard now lives. Noah (Pike) Mumpers was also a licensed embalmer who worked with Mr. Bloedel, his specialty was the embalming of children, something which Mr. Bloedel could not bring himself to do. Mr. Bloedel died in 1955.

For some eight and one-half years, Walter A. Reeves was employed by Mr. Bloedel in the undertaking business. He received his certificate of embalming from Hoenschuh-Carpenter College of Embalming in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1915. In 1923, he went into business for himself and established a funeral home in the old "Eli Reeves" house about 1935 (Mrs. Robert Bloedel now resides in this house). In 1937, Walter Reeves' son, Albert went into the business with his father. Walter retired in 1959 and died in 1968, a highly respected man in the Tabor community.

Overlapping the years of Reeves and Bloedel were the services of Stevenson and McLean, funeral directors in the Mason Building. (Mr. Reeves worked for Charles Stevenson before going into business for himself.)

In 1959, W. A. Reeves sold his funeral home to Gerald Dow, who served as funeral director with Albert Reeves assisting until 1965. Mr. Dow sold the home to Peterson and Rash of Hamburg. (Memorial cards carried the names of Dow, Peterson and Rash in 1965 and part of 1966. In 1966, it became Peterson and Rash and just the name of Peterson was used in 1967.)

In 1965, Albert Reeves began working for Robert Crawford of Sidney, who remodeled the old Gregory residence into the present Crawford-Reeves Funeral Home of Tabor where Mr. Reeves is still manager.

The citizens of Tabor appreciate the work of all these dedicated funeral directors, past and present.

CEMETERIES

From the earliest history of man, care for the dead has preoccupied the minds of people. This has continued through ancient, primitive, up to modern, highly civilized groups. Geographical locations, religious beliefs, aesthetic and sanitary conditions have all had an effect on the traditions developed. Cemeteries, as a result, may be simple, elaborate, holy or taboo.

Originally, families cared for their own dead, feeling it an obligation and last task they could do for the deceased. The ties of love beyond the grave were a widespread belief among the most primitive of people. Even when a community took over the obligation, burial was done in a jealously guarded graveyard. In some places, strangers might come to live but could not be buried in the town cemeteries.

The huge Mexican earthen and stone mounds used for burials are larger and older than those of Egypt, although the Egyptians' final resting places of their notables are undoubtedly more familiar. The prehistoric Indian Mound Builders dotted America with artificial mounds of earth which we might term the earliest of our "cemeteries".

Sanitary needs influenced the nature of cemeteries. Romans, Jews, ancient Egyptians and Chinese established their graveyards outside their city walls. The early Christians, on the other hand, used catacombs for both a burial place and a place of worship, no doubt because they were not followed into these "undesireable" areas. When religious freedom was allowed, the dead were more often buried in the church or churchyards.

In the United States there are public cemeteries, church, mutually-owned, state, federal, county, township and family sites. Some are beautifully landscaped as parks and some are tucked away in family timbers overgrown with brush. But all are precious reminders of the vital relationship between life and death; between the spiritual and physical.

BURIAL DRESS

The clothing of a corpse in garments appropriate to rank or status in life goes back to the earliest days when the feeling was that the deceased had to appear at his or her best in the future life. The American Indians followed this practice.

In the first century, the Italians buried the dead in the clothing the person wore in life. Some of the earliest English burials included shrouds of linen. In 1666, a law was passed that the shroud should be wool. It was primarily a "winding sheet" used as a covering but also used in the belief that one would have no difficulty freeing himself from such a garment on Resurrection Day.

In the records of Fremont county furniture merchants as recent as the turn of the century are mentions of the sale of shrouds. Could it be that the family wanted something of a better fabric than the clothing the person had worn in life? We can only guess. One listed in 1877 was made of cashmere.

HEARSE

The funeral processession has probably always been a part of the final farewell to the dead. The earliest Egyptians escorted the departed along the shores of a lake for a ceremony, then to the tomb for interment. The Romans used torchlight processionals and from them comes the word funeral, derived from the Latin "funeralis" meaning torches.

The bier or "bear" (as in to bear) was a hand stretcher on which a body was carried to the grave. Later, when coffins began to be used, the same type of hand-carried stretcher was used. Eventually, distances began to decree that some horse-drawn vehicle was necessary.

The word hearse comes from the French "herse", meaning harrow. The 15th century hearse was a simple iron stand which looked like a French harrow. Later it became very elaborate and looked like a Gothic church with many spikes on which candles were impaled. Fringes and ornaments were added.

The modern hearse retains slight traces of the early "harrows" exhibiting some of the fringes and trimmings reminiscent of those early conveyances.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Funeral Directors of both the early days and the present may well be the unsung heroes of our communities. They go about their work quietly, efficiently and with dignity, bringing help and comfort to the bereaved. It is a technical, specialized profession which demands dedication, sensitivity and the willingness to work long hours, frequently under difficult situations. Our sincere thanks go to those who have rendered this invaluable service to the people of Fremont County. We are including a short narrative about those who have been involved in this work knowing that many helped, whose stories were not available.

The very first morticians, or embalmers, are reported to have practiced their services on the islands off the North Coast of Africa among a tribe of people called "Gaunches". These first undertakers developed their art long before the Egyptians, and their efforts started over 5,000 years ago. The Egyptians developed the practice of protecting the bodies of the rich and noble for they felt the spirit would return to them some day.

Modern embalming methods were discovered in Germany in the 1700's but did not develop into any general useage. As far as can be discovered a similar technique was developed in the United States during the Civil War when a man named Thomas Holmes created a method of preserving the bodies of the soldiers which were being returned home. For many years, however, embalming was primarily reserved for those in important positions or the wealthy. This is still true in many parts of the world where only the rich can afford the service.

It has not been too far in the past that undertakers were not generally used. Family and friends built the coffin, washed and dressed the body, dug the grave and carried the remains to the last resting place.

Now we have become so accustomed to the skill of the modern, professional mortician that we take his work for granted. Modern materials and techniques have made embalming and related services available to all economic groups who desire it.

The present law in Iowa states that a person who is deceased must be buried within 48 hours, cremated or (in case of some particular need) kept in a refrigerated unit up to 72 hours. If none of these choices are designated, embalming must be done. Some religious faiths do not allow the practice of embalming, so they follow the requirements in the law for the alternatives.

COFFINS

The World Book Encyclopedia says that "a stone coffin or sarcophagus was used in ancient Egypt and was considered the home of the dead. The cover often shaped like the roof of a house. The Greeks used marble and decorated their coffins with elaborate carvings."

In the late 16th Century, "chested burials" were introduced for the wealthy. At about the same time a coffin was used for transportation of the bodies of the poor to their final resting place. We can assume that the "chest" was returned to be used again. In the 17th Century, the coffin came into more common useage. Cabinet makers and carpenters built the wedge-shaped boxes. Since the work was often in connection with the furniture business, the two professions became combined. In many areas this practice continues to this day.

In some cultures, a person purchases his coffin and stores it away until needed.

Elaborate and highly decorated caskets were developed in China and Japan. Modern caskets in this country go from the very simple to the elaborate and ornate. Various kinds of woods are popular: mahogany, cherry, oak and pine. Various metals are used with steel, both polished and enameled, used most often.

-If same name appears more than once on the same page, the number of times will be in parenthesis ( ) preceding the page number.

Please check the heading of each cemetery for the year the inscriptions were recorded.

Every effort has been made to insure the correctness of these records. Many hours have been spent to copy the inscriptions, transcribe, proof read and correcting the errors but being human, we know you may find a few mistakes. Therefore, no one should be held responsible for the contents.
