DEPARTMENTS

Professor E. A. Guerne Head of the Conservatory

HARDIN CONSERVATORY

Professor Guerne, who developed Hardin Conservatory to its present high level of excellence, has returned, after an absence of several years, to resume his position as head of the Conservatory. It is fortunate for Hardin that there has been such a famous and capable man in this important position and that he has returned to give his untiring efforts to the further development of the Conservatory. The personnel of the entire Conservatory is unusually strong this year as shown by the programs given by the different departments. The number of Conservatory students has been greatly increased as 60% of those enrolled in literary work are taking some subject at the Conservatory, besides those who came here for music alone.

Hardin always gives the students an opportunity to hear great artists. Mme. Caroline Lazzarri, contralto was one of the most charming artists Hardin has ever heard. All the music lovers of Mexico and Hardin were delighted with her excellent singing, gracious stage presence, and dramatic power. The variety of selections provided an opportunity to judge her musical and artistic interpretations.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurlow Lieurance, two American artists gave us a program of Indian melodies which Mr. Lieurance gathered from the Indian tribes to use in his compositions. He has spent a great deal of his life among the Indians collecting their tribal music, and racial characteristics in song. Mrs. Lieurance, an Indian soprano, brought us the beautiful, haunting songs in a pure, rich voice. Their program was unique and delightful.

In addition to the contact of the students with great artists, practical and personal development is sought. This is carried out by the orchestra and chorus under the able leadership of two of the Conservatory faculty.

This year the orchestra more than doubled its previous membership. It gave a splendid concert on March the twenty-seventh, consisting of difficult numbers by the best composers. There have been many opportunities for playing in public, at school, and at town functions. Under the capable leadership of Miss Pilcher the members have gained much in orchestral experience and have been able to please their audiences.

The chorus of forty members is under the direction of Miss Baker, head of the voice department. They have worked hard over music, by the better composers, and have rendered their selections in a musical and artistic manner. They sang in Chapel and gave a Christmas program and had charge of the carols then.

The Public School Music course is given to music students wishing to teach. It is a full, two year course and one of the newest and most important given at Hardin. Educators of today have found that children respond to music quickly if they are taught correctly. If America is to become a nation of musical artists, a foundation for the love and appreciation of good music must be formed in very tender years. Every form of music is studied so that the teachers may be able to appeal to the emotions of every child. The students at Hardin are studying by observation and practice teaching to do this very thing—make musical Americans out of the coming generation.

Upon completing the music work here, each student must give her graduation recital. It takes most of the senior year to prepare a program for this occasion because the highest grade of music is used. Professor Guerne is graduating two of his pupils this spring, Jean Bridges and Willie Morris. Miss Baker has Margaret Rainwater, Zelpha Piper, Winifred Evans graduating in voice. Miss Pilcher graduates Genevieve Gore in violin. The public school music department under Miss Jones gives five prospective teachers to the public schools, Sara Bartlett,

Ruth Wilkerson, Lucille Newton, Dorothy Fick, and Jean Bridges.

THE CHORUS

Miss Allene Baker Voice

The Chorus, under the supervision of Miss Baker, head of the Voice Department has had a very instructive and successful year. It has had a much larger and more talented membership than in previous years and a great deal of interest has been shown in its work.

On the 26th of March a program was given at the Baptist Church in Centralia. It proved to be such a success that the next week the same program was given in Vandalia to a larger audience.

The consummate talent of the Expression Department was very successfully displayed when under the direction of Miss Maitland Thompson, head of the Expression Department, four plays were given the evening of March 17th.

"The Maker of Dreams" a fantasy by Oliphant Downs, depicted in an original plot, that ever fascinating love of Pierrot and Pierette. The Maker of Dreams brings Pierrot to the realization that the ideal he has been seeking far and wide is the little Pierrette in his own home.

"Ashes of Roses" by Constance D'Arcy MacKay is a delightful play of the 18th century centering around Kitty Clive an actress who had attained success but with that success came the realization that life without love was a failure. The part of Kitty Clive was very cleverly interpreted by Betsy Worrell who was well supported by Francesca Bezner as an ardent suitor.

The Art Club of Hardin College was organized in 1921 by Miss Mary Shackleford, now instructor of the department. The Club has become a chapter of the American Federation of Arts and holds a place in the exhibit circle. The object of the club is the development of art education and art appreciation, not only among its members, but among the student body as a whole.

PARTIAL VIEW OF ART EXHIBIT

THE ART CLUB

This year the club has secured an exhibit from Pratt Institute which will be followed by paintings by Missouri artists, craftwork from Rhode Island School of Design, and pottery from leading American potteries. These exhibits give an excellent opportunity for detailed study of good examples of American Art.

THE COOKING LABORATORY

Miss Polly Thomas Home Economics

This is the sunny new kitchen where the girls are taught the "Tricks of the Trade" in cooking. The art and skill of grandmother's day meet with the sureness of modern scientific methods here, and neither are the losers. They have combined, rather, to form a new and valuable addition to the curriculum of the college girl of this generation.

Heris to esaser may Be get what she wants. No!

ONE CORNER OF SEWING ROOM

THE SEWING LABORATORY

Here in these pleasant surroundings, to the busy hum of sewing machines, and the brisk snip, snip, of scissors, long rolls of materials are transformed into dainty and wearable frocks and lingerie. Besides being truly an art and an accomplishment this work provides another distinctly interesting opening to the modern girl's field of activity.

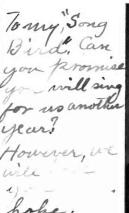

How did Dever get here. Det hite hors did 9? Die a great life 8 never werken. Lone me? Dond.

ATHLETICS

Miss Moody, the athletic director, with the cooperation of the students has made "Hardin Shine" in athletics this year. The swimming meet was the first event of interest. There were speed races, side races, candle races and all kinds of dives-swan, jack-knife, neat and duet dives. Ethel Porter won highest points and Dot Paradise second.

The Hockey season which began early in the fall opened with an inter-class tournament. The first game was played between the High School and Junior Class, the score being I to o in favor of Juniors. The following week the Juniors were victorious over the Seniors by a score of 2 to o.

The Soccer tournament also proved successful. The first game played by the High School and Juniors ended in the Juniors' favor. The next game was played by the Juniors and Seniors, and this time the Seniors "brought home the bacon".

In November when the days began to get gloomy the volley ball tournament was staged. The Juniors were victorious over the High School and the Seniors. After the Christmas holidays practise for indoor baseball was started. In the inter-class games the Seniors out-stood the High School and Juniors.

During all the tournaments, basketball practice had gone on, and at the opening of the season some very fine material had been developed. Due to the increased enrollment there was more material for an excellent ball team than ever before. At the end of six weeks practice the regular Hardin basketball team was chosen after a great rivalry for places on the squad.

The season opened Nov. 26 when the High School team met the Junior team for class championship. The High School after some brave knocks met defeat by a score of 29 to 1.

For final championship a game was played between the Juniors and Seniors in which the Juniors carried off the banner.

The first inter-collegiate game was played on December 7 with Farber, on Farber's court. At the end of the game the score stood 23 to 2 in Hardin's favor. Farber showed her ability in Basketball by winning third place in the district High School tournament.

The game between Laddonia and Hardin on December 17, was the first intercollegiate game played on the home court. After a hard fought battle the score stood 20 to 3 in favor of Hardin. Laddonia has also been one of Hardin's strongest opponents and so in this game "The Hardin Six" really showed what they could do.

Farber returned their game Feb. 4th and they must have been on the slump for they were defeated by a score of 54 to 4.

On February 11th, Hardin received her first scare of the season when she met Vandalia on Vandalia's court, but Hardin again led with a score of 20 to 14. On February 15th Laddonia was defeated with a score of 29 to 7.

Hannibal, Hardin's bitterest enemy, played a game at Hardin on Feb. 22. After a hard fought for game Hardin led by five points, the score being 16 to 11.

Central College and Hardin played at Fayette, Mo. on the 23rd. Central for the last few years was Hardin's strongest opponent. Hardin was defeated by a score of 14 to 11. This was a bitter pill for Hardin to swallow but they were not down hearted. On March 14, the Central College played a return game and were defeated by six points. On March 1, Hardin again defeated Vandalia on Hardin Central Wesleyan College defeated Hardin by a score of 16 to 12. But when the return game was played on Feb. 19th the score stood in favor of Hardin 20 to 17. This was indeed a lively game to round up the season with.

"THE BEAUTIFUL QUEEN"

What entrancing pictures these three words bring to the mind. A lovely garden, soft harmonious lights, whispering fountains, fragile fairies tucked away amid the blossoms, and in the center of it all, "The Beautiful Queen". These come from our fairy-story childhood days.

Then we see a great tourney where all the strength and nobility of the land are assembled. A gorgeous array of brilliant banners fluttering and snapping in the wind, the blare of trumpets, rattling and sparkling of armor, wondrous balconies of beautiful ladies gay and laughing with the thoughts of the combat, but above them all is the "Beautiful Queen."

Thus, always through life these three words seem to cast a spell over us. We pause in our rush, to dream and to think of "The Beautiful Queen."

The Hardin Gate; a soft snowfall And sunshine glistening over all.

"Snowflakes come in fleets Like ships over the sea."

"Musical lunch today," says Pat Foster, "lots of hominy!"

Pecan growers must lead a nutty life.

"Hardin students are just like a fire department."
"How's that?"
"Always going when the bell rings."

Senior—"I am indebted to you for all I have learned." Prof—"Don't mention such a trifle."

Dr. Oakley (in class)—"I am afraid there are not enough papers to go around and so two girls will have to double up on the same sheet."

Everybody Says:

"You'll take the lead with flashing speed, You'll be famous for your hustle If food from Morris' Grocery you'll buy— They'll give you pep and muscle."

YOUR VOICE IS YOU!

To friends and loved ones the sound of your voice is almost as welcome as your presence.

Over "long distance," especially, your voice is heard with a pleasurable thrill

The simplest, quickest and most inexpensive variety of long distance is a "station-to-station" call. Ask "long distance" for details.

Tubby Taylor—"I am worried about my complexion; look at my face."

Doctor—"My dear young lady, you should diet."

Tubby—"Ah, I never thought of that. What color do you think would suit me best?"

In the days long ago 'twas a big thrill for ma

To parade in Hardin Hall with her beau, who's now Pa.

Sis is now at that old school of fame

And unto herself has a cadet officer to tame.

Ma says that the times ain't the same and ne'er will

Ma went to be "edified," and sis goes for the thrill.
