Volume I

The territory out of which Buchanan County was formed in 1838 is a part of the Platte Purchase acquired from the Iowa, Sac and Fox Indians in 1836. It was named after James Buchanan who was a prominent diplomat and adherent of Andrew Jackson at the time it was formed.

St. Joseph is the county seat. Buchanan County is bounded on the north by Andrew County; on the east by DeKalb and Clinton Counties; on the south by Platte County, and on the west by the Missouri River, which curves eastward at St. Joseph.

The first settlers came from Clay County, and Platte Township was the scene of the first struggles of the pioneers. Absalom Enyard came in 1836; and Pleasant Yates, Isaac Farris, Levi Jackson, John Johnson, Robert Prather, Phillip Walker and Robert Wilson in 1837. Among the earliest settlers that came to Crawford Township, was O. M. Spencer. Dr. Silas McDonald the first physician in the county, came in 1838.

Hiram Roberts came to Bloomington Township in 1836. Then came Cornelius Roberts, Isom Gardner, Amos Horn, John Underwood, Holland Jones, Thomas Hickman, William Hickman, William Ballow, Matt Geer, Hardin Hamilton, Mrs. Sally Davis, Thomas Hill, Francis Drake Bowen, Stephen Field, James Hamilton and Isaac Van Hoozier in 1837.

Robert M. Stewart, who became Governor of the State, came the next year. Rush Township was settled in 1837 by William Allison, John Allison and James Canter. Peter Price and Isaac Lower were the first settlers of Wayne Township. Center Township was settled by Richard Hill, Jesse Reames, Zachariah Waller, Elijah W. Smith, Thomas Moore, Lucas Dawson and John Martin in 1837.

Agency Township was settled in 1837 by James and Robert Gilmore, Samuel Poteet and William McDowell. In 1839 Robert Gilmore established a ferry over the Platte River which continued to be operated until the county built the present wagon bridge in 1868. Ishmael Davis in 1837 was one of the first settlers in Tremont Township, and R. T. Davis was the first white child born in the county. Calvin James, of barbecue fame located in Marion Township in 1837.
