THANKS

GIVING

GIVE THANKS

Let us give thanks for those who sow
The grain and fruit that makes us grow.

Thanks for the rain, the snow
That helped the grain and fruit to grow.

Thanks for the coming of the fall,
Thanks unto God, who gives us all.

—Anonymous

When the harvesting season is over, crops have been gathered and stored away, trees have lost their leaves and are covered with frost, there comes a time of year when we can rest and look back on the good things of the past. It is called the season of autumn, a season of thankfulness. In remembrance of this season we set aside one day each year — "THANKSGIVING DAY".

The Superintendent
Sees a New Hope

For a great many years effect has been made to assist the pupil in his learning by giving him activity using his powers of careful observation. Texts have been profusely illustrated and many books have become pictorial. No one can doubt the value of such efforts. To make such pictures of various kinds of interests seem more life like, special aids were developed. The child has been grided in experiencing lifelike situations. The stereoptican gave a cleaner view of what was called still pictures. Yet something was lacking now we have a new hope in the presentation of all phases of learning through visual aids. The use of voice professor has enlarged this field that today we present educational films carefully selected to illustrate real situations. These films are carefully fitted in to the textual material, giving the pupil a real view of topics developed in real situations. Those who observed the film "The Atmosphere" or the "Drop of Water," were able to discover what the printed text failed to put over. There is greater learning when the eye can assist in developing the thought of a discussion. Athletes study slow motion movements and frequently discover the way of doing not easily found in oral instructions. The film, AMERICA the BEAUTIFUL surely broadened the view and idea of our country by showing real life activity in field, farm, factory, and store; the technicolored scenes were beautiful almost beyond description. Such aids make us more appreciation of our great country. As we use such material, we lose our idea of "picture show" and look forward to a real illustration of the living, moving, world about us. And there is no limit to the possibilities of such instruction as a valuable factor in education. There are thousands of films now available which make subject matter a living force among us. Carefully selected films illustrating our daily lessons make our learning more real and vital.

When you look at the financial condition of most nations today, you are inclined to think the old idea that the world is flat had some merit.

Discouragement is not satisfying but quitting is.

FORMER STUDENT WRITES OF COLLEGE LIFE

To the Eaglet Staff:

I will give you a view of college from a green freshman and I do mean green. I understand that term now. Sometimes I think the purpose of college is to show you how much you do not know. I can now say that I went through that horrible process of being initiated. It was fun though. We Freshmen are now privileged to enter buildings on the campus through the front-door.

Of course we have a few lessons to get but we don't talk much about that. Our subjects are similar to the subjects that we had in high school. The faculty members are very helpful and understanding. Our classes do require some study and preparatory work. I have about three free hours each day and that time I may spend as I choose. I am spending one of them now.

I'll try to tell you a little about college life outside the administration building. We never have a dull moment. Residence Hall is a busy place as it is the recreation center. The college has a social committee which plans activities for us. We have several parties, treasure hunts, hay rides and Maryville is famous for its teas.

Our football games have been very successful so far. I don't know much about the game but I hope to learn. As yet the "Bearcats" are undefeated.

I'm afraid that this cross section of life on the campus is not too clear. I do want you to know that we have a lot of fun along with our work.

To all of you students of C. H.S. I'd like to tell you that you should always remember what study halls are really for. Of course you don't need that reminder.

A former classmate,
Margie Ann Ketchem

Nature was pretty wise. It planned two ears but only one mouth for man.

The Pilgrims

In early day of the Plymouth colony, founded in 1620 in Massachusetts, Governor William Bradford often referred to his people as "Pilgrims and strangers upon the earth." From this expression came the name for that heroic band of liberty-seekers who made new homes for themselves over three centuries ago. The Pilgrims were members of a sect that grew out of Puritanism and in England were called Separatists, because they separated from the church of England.

Driven from England the Pilgrims started their journey on September 6, 1620 on the ship the Mayflower. After a stormy voyage of sixty-seven days, the voyagers sighted Cape Cod on November 9. It was by accident that the pilgrims reached this part of the country, for their original plan had been to settle near the mouth of the Hudson River.

While the ship was in harbor at what is now Provincetown Massachusetts, the Pilgrims met in the cabin and formed what is called the Mayflower Compact and swore loyalty to the government they had framed.

After exploring the coast for several weeks they landed on Plymouth Rock on December 21, 1620.

The Indians who had originally occupied this land died a few years earlier and the Pilgrims took possession of their abandoned fields.

During the first year scarcity of food, exposure, and disease caused the loss of half the settlers including John Carver their governor. Still, they refused to despair! Electing a new governor, William Bradford, they went on with their work. When the planting season came the survivors put out several acres of corn under the direction of friendly Indians who had visited them, and taught them thesecrets of fields, forests, and streams.

When their crops were harvested in the fall, they were so thankful for their survival and bountiful harvest, they set aside one day for which to be thankful and to praise God for his bountiful mercies.

This time comes the last Thursday of November and is called Thanksgiving Day. It is also celebrated as a national holiday.

Our New School Bus

Our new school bus arrived here on Nov. 1. Mr. Wade Goff, Pres of the school Board accompanied by Mrs. Goff went to Richmond, Indiana to bring the bus to Clarksdale. The bus was put on the northeast route, the children on this route have used the old panel bus for many years, and they think the new bus is very fine.

With the new bus in operation feel that, with two 42 passenger busses, we have one of the best transportation services in the state. Two very efficient drivers, J. W. Marsh and Walter West serve us daily.

PRIMARY NOTES

Suzann Shaw has moved to St. Joseph. We are sorry to lose her from the first grade.

Perfect scores in Spelling thus far are: Grade two Janet Buster and Laurel Lee Chambers. Grade 3 Helen Gibbins, Jerry Shipps and Wayne Wigger.

The first grade has learned to count by 10's to 100. They are now learning to write all their numbers to 100.

The third grade language class is learning to use proper verb forms with singular and plural subjects.

Our room decorations for November are turkeys Indian chiefs and squaws, canoes and baskets of fruit.

INTERMEDIATE ROOM

Several from our room are enjoying the new bus.

We have put up a new thermometer in our room.

Tuesday we enjoyed a half a day holiday while the furnace was being repaired.

Several from our room visited the airplane that was forced to land in Thornton's meadow. It was marooned there from Thursday afternoon until Saturday afternoon.

Eleavor McManus brought a water plant last week. We like to watch it grow. It is quite unusual.

Mrs. Groom brought us two gold fish which we named Black-tail and Goldenrod: but they both died.

Our individual pictures came Thursday. It is great fun exchanging them.

Most of them were real good-so we are keeping many of them.

INTERMEDIATE ROOM CON'T

Monday Mr. Carpenter came and took our group pictures. We hope they are good.

One of the most inspiring and helpful of our assemblies was held last week when we were privileged to see the educational film entitled "America the Beautiful". It was in technicolor. It gave us an insight into the beauties of our country that we had not thought about. At the close of the picture America, The Beautiful was sung. We sang that song and also America. When we returned to our room, we discussed the film and every day something comes up that the film seems to explain.

Our room enrolled in the Junior Red Cross this week.

Mrs. Groom enjoyed her birthday gifts very much. She wishes to thank each one for them.

Our reading circle chart is in the form of a rainbow. As each book is read a raindrop.. Name of the reader is mounted on the rainbow. When the required number of books are read the name of the reader is written in the Book of Gold. Sharon Kay Wilhelm is the first to get her name in the book.

Shirley Bell West treated the pupils in our room last Friday to candy. We thank her for her thoughtfulness and generosity.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

Last week fourteen pupils in our room joined the Junior Red Cross. We collected $1.15 in our membership money.

Our room is now decorated with four colorful Thanksgiving posters. We all took part in making them.

CARNIVAL SUCCESS

On the evening of Oct. 24 the patrons of Clarksdale School and community filled their pockets with money along with visitors from other towns and came to the school house. What was going on? The annual school carnival.

The evening opened with a short program. The primary room taught by Mrs. Eunice Boyer gave oral readings and singing followed by a number from the Intermediate room under the direction of Mrs. Crystal Grooms. Next came a representation of Mr. Cobbs Junior High Room, Ann Hubble sang a vocal solo followed by a short skit by the students. The audience was beginning to wonder, when the curtains were drawn and what did they see??-??? Sprawled out over the floor were four hillbillies from the Ozarks. Two were asleep at first but the other two seemed to be enjoying the effects of a little brown jug. (They swore it was just cider). Finally discovering they were on a stage before a group of people, they struggled to some handy kegs and began to--shall we say make music. Following a few numbers by this group, the audience was ready to do some moving around so things started to boom. All the concessions were opened for business and the fun began. The Sophomore novelty stand put life into things by selling all those horns, sirens, yes and confetti too. With all this noise accompanied by and occasional "gobble" "gobble", from the Senior turkey it was easy to see everyone was really having a merry time. We noticed quite a crowd going into one of the rooms, when asked where they were going replied "To the Junior Prize Fight of course" Others were going to various concessions, side shows, bingo, dart throw, Penny pitch, House of Horrors, for Men Only, Ring Toss, Ball Throw, Bake Sale, and several people were going back in a dark corner to the "Old Fortune Teller", ran by the Freshmen.

The Climax of the evenings festivities came when the cash was counted and the carnival king and queen were crowned. This was a royal affair starting with a double bugle flourish followed by the marching in of the crown bearers, Suzanne Shaw and Olen Yarnell. Then came the attendants from the four classes, the last two, Jerry Arnold & Ilene Thomas from the Senior Class which made them King and Queen of the 1947 Clarksdale High School Carnival. After the coronation ceremony the door prizes, class prizes, etc. were given away and the Carnival was over.

No Doubt About It
 A man may smile and bid
 you hail
 Yet wish you with the devil;
 But when a good dog wags
 his tail
 You know he's on the level.

"Chiefie, could you lend little Pocohantas a Buck?"
 naively inquired the Indian Maiden.

Ha! Ha!

GOSSIP

It is said that Lou Etta Thornton is doing some kind of work in the library. Maybe Bill Goff will know what line of work it is. Confidentially I think she is 'nt checking out books.

Whats this I hear about Minnie Bunse & Kenny Burris. I hear that Kenny is wanting Minnie to come to town more often on Saturday nite. What about this Kenny.

*****

I hear Goldie had finger nad polish all over her coat after the game Friday. Bill did that finger nail polish help you win the game?

Maxine DeShon sure wears jewelry. Try a little harder next time and maybe you can get her ring Ronnie Goff. We understand she may part with it.

Certain neighbors of Rita Clinton wish Jim Jarrett would put a muffler on his car instead of his straight exhaust, it disturbs their sleep.

ATTENTION!!! It gives us pleasure to announce after weeks of getting information. Tommy McManus took Bernitta Swartz to a show at Maysville recently.

The different classes sure are helpful to one another. It seems the Seniors like to help the freshman with their lessons. I wonder if it was lessons- Norman Swails was helping Minnie Bunse with when he was seen setting with her study hall? What will Kenny Burris say.

It seem as though Olga Trussell is getting rather friendly with a local boy known as Billy Chambers. Drop around the drug store after school and you will see them setting, gazing in to each others eyes, in very -- much of a daze.

The basket ball tournament. sure was a great success, wasn't it Jean & Margaret Boyer Who was your curly headed friend you were seen setting with so much at the games. His name wasn't Toni was it? How about this- Buddy?

The Christmas gift drawing will be held after the Thanksgiving holidays. Cross your fingers, Maybe you'll get your friendliest friends name.

It has also been rumored that on evening Christmas party will be held before Xmas Vacation.
