Dedication

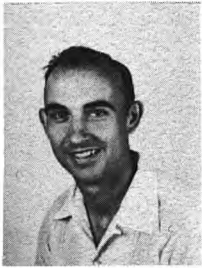

It is with deep appreciation and very great pleasure that the Annual Staff dedicates the Eaglet of 1954 to Mr. & Mrs. Glenn W. West, who for the past few years have dealt with our individual problems, upheld Clarksdale traditions and have aided us in the making of finer manhood and womanhood.

Class History

When we entered Clarksdale High School as shy little Freshmen in the fall of 1950, little did we realize that the subjects assigned to us would become so important in the following four years. By the following month we knew our way around as well as the upper classmen.

We, the eighteen scared Freshmen, Roger Yarnell, Freddie Thornton, Wayne Webb, Marion Cannon, Jerry Jarrett, Marilyn Wood, Shirley Kerns, Esther Thornton, Iletta Swartz, Evelyn Parsons, Shirley Brown, Yvonna Hawman, Alice Anderson, Betty Freeman, Martha Skillman, Dorothy Schriber, Wilma Whitman, Lois Lemasters, entered from the following grade schools: Clarksdale, Bowen, Cornelius, Fisher, Bermond, and Beachamp. We weren't classed as high schoolers until after initiation day. We were made to wear gunny sack dresses, make-up of lard and flour, and carry an intertube and a candle.

During our Freshmen year, our class officers were: Alice Anderson, President, Jerry Jarrett, Vice-President, Martha Skillman, Secretary-Treasurer, Yvonna Hawman, Reporter, Betty Freeman, Student Council, and Evelyn Parsons, Alternate Student Council. We lost one member during our Freshman year, Marilyn Wood, and gained Carolyn Antle from Bethany.

Our second year we advanced to the class of the eighteen wild and reckless Sophomores. We gained Mary Lou Mahar from Savannah, and Joyce Bishop from Lafayette. One member dropped from our class this year, Melba Woody. Our class officers were: Jerry Jarrett, President, Evelyn Parsons, Vice-President, Betty Freeman, Secretary-Treasurer, and Alice Anderson, Reporter. Two members dropped out the last half of the year, namely, Wilma Whitmer and Dorothy Schriber.

Several changes marked the beginning of our third year. We became known as the eighteen "Jolly Juniors." One member did not come back this year, Carolyn Antle. One member dropped out after school started, Marion Cannon. We gained two members, Caleb Bush and Charlotte Castle from Lafayette. Our Class officers were: Iletta Swartz, President, Roger Yarnell, Vice-President, Evelyn Parsons, Treasurer, Charlotte Castle, Secretary, and Martha Skillman, Reporter. Marilyn Wood entered the latter part of the year.

Now comes our fourth and final year. Now at the top of our High School ladder we are known as the "Sophisticated Seniors." This year we have seventeen members as two of our members, Shirley Kerns and Shirley Davidson dropped out. Our Class officers this year are: Evelyn Parsons, President, Marilyn Wood, Vice-President, Iletta Swartz, Secretary and Treasurer, and Esther Thornton, Reporter.

We hope you have enjoyed this history as much as we the Senior Class have enjoyed living it.

To the school, in general, we leave the musty pages of our books that you may own in the future (with a number of musty notes in the books).

To the Faculty, we leave the empty aspirin bottles in the office and the gray hairs they have achieved in the last four years.

To the Juniors, who will be Seniors next year, we leave our dignity and our discipline and hope they will do well with it.

To the Sophomores, we will our popularity of always making good grades and having a perfect attendance record.

To the Freshman Class, we will our broken pens, stubs of pencils, cast off notebooks, and the mounds of chewing gum we were compelled to hastily hide away.

Signed and sealed on this 20th day of May.

Class Prophecy

As I awoke this morning I tried to recall my dream of the night before about the good old school days at C.H.S. I went to the window and staring out of it, I began wondering what had happened to my school friends--where they were and what they were doing.

Gazing out of my hotel window here in New York I felt a stab of, well I guess you would say home sickness. Only one person did I know from Clarksdale, here in this big city, Lois Lemasters. I decided I would rush down to Lois's Beauty Shop and while getting my hair fixed we would try recalling our Senior Classmates; to see if we could locate them.

As we chatted together, we decided we would go to lunch and shop around a bit. I wanted to get a few clothes as I was flying to Tokyo at 12:30 A.M. to deliver some paintings that I had sold to the Imperial Museum.

We seated ourselves at a nice little booth to order our lunch. Picking up the menu, we noticed one of the ads, recommending Charlotte's Reducing Salon, Charlotte Castle, Proprietor. We wrote the address down and decided to go see her as it really was a surprise to find that she was in New York.

Nothing sounded better than listening to the juke box. We started to put our coin in the slot when the queerish sound arose from the juke box. There was a little old man sitting in the next booth who happened to mention the name of the song and we decided to look on the list of songs and see just who was doing the singing. Alice Andewasky singing "Opera Chills", it read. It then sounded like heavenly music as we knew Alice Anderson had married Andrew Andewasky of Andrew, Alabama some years ago and that she had seven little Andewasky's. That was three years ago, so no doubt her family has increased somewhat since then.

Lois and I were simply thrilled to death! We had located two of our classmates and they both seemed to be doing all right in this big world.

I had still kept in contact with Martha Skillman, of our class who became an airline stewardess. Marty has been very excited lately as she will be able to retire in a couple of months. I received a letter from her and she said she had just been back home. Marty said the folks there were really sad and upset as some of our promising boys to really be something out of our class, had finally become something, not very desirable though. His Gambling House in Las Vegas had been raided by the police and Jerry Jarrett was getting ten years on good behavior. That news really saddened Lois and I as that was the last thing we thought our Jerry would do.

She said Yvonna Hawman was still Yvonna Hawman and she was teaching the 1st and 2nd grade at Clarksdale. There are two bachelors teaching also and they say she literally chases them through the halls. My, hasn't Yvonna changed?

She mentioned in her letter also that she had come in contact with Mary Lou Mahar. Her bus had a lay over in St. Louis and Marty said Mary Lou was in the Hotel business and business seemed to be good. I asked Lois if she would go with me to meet her and she said she would be glad to. Her train would pull in to Grand Central at 5:43 P.M.

We finally finished lunch and we set out to see if we could find Charlotte's Reducing Salon. We boarded a bus and rode and rode for just ages, then transferred and rode a short distance, when we saw it. We hesitated at the door as it was really wide so no doubt she had persons attending there inclined to be large.

We stepped inside and there was a cordial welcome in the face which we recognized as that of Charlotte. She was so glad to see us she even offered us a free treatment. She told us she had someone in the other room she wanted us to meet. Low and behold inside one of those machines a head was sticking out. We knew her at once as being Shirley Davidson. She had gained terribly since we left school and her doctor sent her to Charlotte's to reduce. She said Gene and their five children were living in Sioux City, Iowa. Well, we were all so happy, we had a wonderful visit with each other. Shirley had to be cooked for another hour yet, so Lois and I decided we would shop a little, then come back and meet Marty.

In one of the most exclusive stores in town we saw some of the most stylish and darling clothes. We spotted many things we liked and were noticing the labels on the different dresses. We were astonished to find them called, "EVELYN PARSONS ORIGINALS." We will grant you both Lois and my husbands bank accounts decreased as our wardrobes increased.

We were so pleased with the way things were going we headed back to Charlotte's place. As Shirley was just finishing, I was admiring Charlotte's twins Charles and Charlene. Charlotte married Charley Champ a light weight boxer. All of a sudden Lois gasped and said to me, "Joyce, look here on the front page." The headlines stated that Wayne Webb was voted the most popular song writer of the year. We were so happy we didn't know what to do.

We all decided to go meet Marty so Shirley, Charlotte, Lois and I left and started toward Grand Central. Trying to decide what the five of us could do that evening we decided that going to the Stadium would be an excellent idea. The trains were blowing their whistles and with a toot the passengers started getting off, then we recognized Marty. She was very glad and very much surprised to see all of us.

We got a paper off the newstand and headed toward my car, my pride and joy. It was my dream that I had always wished would come true, a jet black SUPER-DUPER DELUXE BISHOP CONVERTIBLE with every accessory offered. All the girls liked it and I told them I had received it from my husband for my birthday. Going down Broadway one thing went wrong, as we were stopped for speeding 80 miles an hour in a 70 mile speed zone. Shirley and Lois were looking at the sports page when their eyes suddenly popped out and Charlotte politely poked them back in. A column read, "Miss Esther Thornton, more widely known as the second Esther Williams just swam the English Channel." We were quite surprised as Esther had never even told us she could swim while in school.

Nearing the Stadium, Lois suggested we look and see who was playing. We were more excited than ever when we learned our Roger Yarnell was the Yankee's shortstop and he would be in action that night. Roger was sharing the title of old Babe himself in his ability to hit the home runs. Being the clean-up batter he slugged a homer with the bases loaded, that being his 51st home run. The Yankees won the spectacular game and as they carried their hero off the field, they also were carrying off our hero too. Rog had been knocked out with a bat when the bat boy was overcome with excitement when his Daddy, Roger, had hit the home run. We went down to the dugout and as Roger was coming to he thought he was still out as he was astonished and surprised to see the five of us. We took him out for a bite to eat, to celebrate, naturally with his wife's permission. After telling him about how we all come about being together, we asked if he knew the whereabouts of any of our classmates. He told us Caleb Bush was a preacher; that he married Roger and his wife seven years ago. Roger said he is in the Evangelistic field at the present holding revivals. He lives in Little Rock, Arkansas now.

We had located all the boys of our graduating class now except one, Freddie Thornton. Roger told us he was manager of "Peter Pauls Pink Pills for Pale Eyed People, Inc." Marilyn Wood is his private secretary. They are both madly in love with each other so we might as well listen for wedding bells.

After a very enjoyable talk we took Roger to his huge home on the outskirts of New York. I wanted to stop by my hotel after that to get my paintings and suitcases. The girls went to the airport with Marty and me. We wanted to be sure to meet our pilot as we heard he had recently made a trip to the moon and back. Going over to him we thought it odd that he had long curly hair. As we were about to be introduced he turned around from drinking his cup of coffee and much to our amazement the he was a she, and she was our Betty Freeman. We then joined her in drinking some coffee. We had quite a talk. Iletta Swartz was the only one left of our graduating class whose whereabouts we didn't know. Betty said Iletta was still one of her best friends and that Iletta was the head professor of Mathematics at Missouri University.

The loud speaker began to blare. The flight officials were getting ready to take off. We were very scared, I mean pleased to find Betty would be piloting our plane to Tokyo. As Betty waved from the pilot seat of the plane, Marty and I waved as we went up the ramp. I threw my car keys to Lois and told her to take her home for me and that we would see them soon.

As Marty and I settled back in our seats on the plane, we felt tears edging to our eyes with the happiness we had discovered that day in learning that they were happy and prospering in this year of 1969.

Class Poem

CHARLOTTE CASTLE
ILETTA SWARTZ

Alice Anderson is not so shy, she knows just when to grab her guy;
She works real hard and looks real neat, and some of the boys think she's pretty darn sweet.

Martha Skillman a helper is she, a good friend to Alice and all of we;
She's kinda slim and kinda short, and in work and play, she's a real good sport.

Evelyn Parsons with the bright red hair, never a worry and nary a care;
She's always a studying and does real well, she knows all of the gossip, but never does tell.

Joyce Bishop is quite a gal, she's everybody's friend and everyone's pal;
She likes to draw and loves Art real well; now this is a secret, don't you tell.

Lois Lemasters is a wee little girl, you wouldn't think she could be such a pearl;
She's nice and sweet and pretty too, if you don't believe us, ask "Yho", please do.

Iletta Swartz sure has a brain, it runs just like a railroad train;
It never stops, but keeps right on chuggin', when she reaches the top she'll still be pluggin'.

Esther Thornton is quiet and kind, she's one of the sweetest girls you'll find;
She likes to help and does quite a lot, she's helped the class to get what we've got.

Jerry Jarrett, the pick of the crop, he likes to help and does a real swell job;
He never shirks, except once in a while, but he's just for fun and all for a smile.

Freddie Thornton a good pal to all, when you ask him to do something he gets on the ball.
He's a writer of tales, some false, some true, but here's one boy who'll always find something to do.

Caleb Bush, but "Buck" for short, is a teller of tales, and a real swell sport;
He works real hard to help himself, and he always tries to help everyone else.

Mary Lou Mahar a winner at heart, and in all of her studies she really is smart;
She's friendly, and kind, and helpful too, if you need any help she'll do it for you.

Betty Freeman likes to chew gum, whenever you see her she's chewing some;
She's full of pep and lots of fun, when she goes to workin' she really gets things done.

Wayne Webb is a good writer of songs, we hope he'll be famous before too long;
He's a real good actor as we all know, from the Junior Play of a year ago.

Yvonna Hawman likes all the boys, and meeting a new one is one of her joys;
She knows all the dances both old and new, some say she square dances real well too.

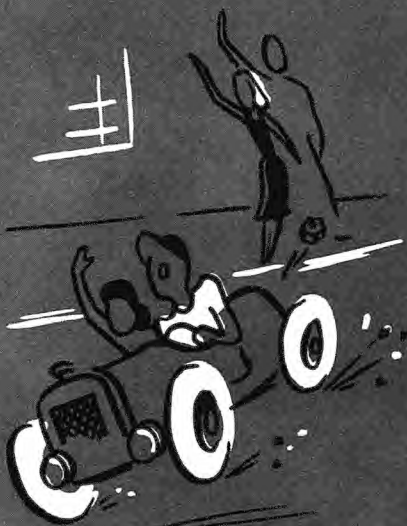

Roger Yarnell the lad with the Ford, when he's with Sharon he never gets bored;
He's really not mean, but he sure likes his fun, of boys like this, you can only find one.

Marilyn Wood as the name implies, would do anything, if she can't then she tries;
She's always so friendly, to everyone here, trying to please, everyday of each year.

Charlotte Castle is nice to everyone, she helps all of the teachers to get their work done;
Some thinks she's sour, and some thinks she's sweet, but when it comes to writing poetry, she's hard to beat.

Mr. West is our sponsor, that does all he can, to make each girl a lady, and each boy a gentleman.
