NODAWAY COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

December 1984

The fifth annual NCGS Workshop, "Tracing Cultural Movements in Missouri", was held October 20th on the NWMSU campus in Maryville. The three speakers gave a comprehensive view of the Geography, Culture and the Natural Resources that influenced the migration patterns. A special thanks to the members of our society who led the study groups and prepared the very informative booklet given to each participant. Many thanks to Wilma Outs and Tom Carneal, who steered us through this project from applying for the grant to the successful culmination of the Workshop.

As families gather for the Holidays, don't miss the opportunity for asking questions about ancestors and getting bits of oral history on tape, identifying old photos while someone can still remember them. Jot down familiar anecdotes you've heard a dozen times but never recorded. They may not be historically accurate, but possibly will give you important leads to the truth.

For the New Year we offer this reprint from the December 1981
SMOKE SIGNALS ---

"My resolutions are 1) Organize and 1) List my sources. My earliest research, especially, is bereft of sources, and while I had a good reason (I hope) for considering it accurate, where did it come from in the first place? Perhaps many of us might want to resolve to improve our recording so that someday they may be of more use (and legibility) to someone besides ourselves." (Gayle Bond)

The next Genealogy work night will be held Thursday, January 31, 1985. The primary focus will be on Pennsylvania and Virginia. We would appreciate members bringing any books they have pertaining to those states and sharing them with us that evening.

Our annual class for beginning genealogists will be held on Monday evenings starting February 25, 1985, continuing for 6 weeks. Further details will be given at future society meetings and through local media. Society members are urged to attend the classes and assist our beginners.

Excerpts from the obituary of W. F. King, copied from Hopkins Journal

William Franklin King was born August 13, 1863 near Stanford, In. and passed away at his home in Hopkins, Mo., Nov. 29, 1945, aged 82 years, three months and 27 days.

He was the son of the late James F. and Sarah Nellinger King. At the age of 12 years, Mr. King and his brother, Jake King, who was 17 years old, drove a team and wagon from Indiana to Missouri along with a train of immigrants. They brought their household goods while the remainder of the family came through on the train.

The King family settled on a farm in the Lily White school district, north of Clearmont, Mo. They lived there for one year, then moved to the Sunrise neighborhood north of Maryville, where Mr. King grew to manhood.

On March 4, 1883, he married Emma Buzzard, who survives him. To this union were born four children, Mrs. Delia Baldwin of the home, Harry A. of Maryville, Edgar F., who died July 3, 1943 and a daughter who died in infancy.

In 1900 Mr. and Mrs. King moved southwest of Hopkins where they lived until the spring of 1914, when because of ill health Mr. King was forced to retire and they moved to Hopkins which is the present home.

Mr. King united with the Highland Christian church in 1910, later moving his membership to the Christian church of Hopkins. He was an active church worker and served the local church as superintendent of the Sunday School, as a deacon and as a member of the church board.

He was a member of the IOOF lodge, joining at Pickering in March, 1894. He transferred his membership to Hopkins where he was also a member of the Modern Woodman lodge.

Besides his wife and children he is survived by one brother Andrew H. King of St. Joseph, MO., fifteen grandchildren and twenty-three great grandchildren.

Mr. King was a good neighbor, a kind and understanding father and a tender and thoughtful companion. He had several long years of suffering but bore his illness with humble patience and endurance.

Mr. King was the grandfather of Ruth McClurg whose generation chart is on the following page.
