Madison County Remembers...

A Publication of the Madison County Genealogical Society

Volume 25, Issue No. 105

Published at Norfolk, Nebraska

September-October 2003

From your President, John Kielty

Has everyone heard the gigantic sigh of relief this last month? The children are back in school! We all need a good routine, and sometimes the summer is too long and unorganized.

I would like to pass along a good idea, I hope you think it is a good idea too. I can't give credit to the original author. We all know the problems we encounter when we can't find an ancestor at a certain time or place. We can do a favor for future generations by recording where we were during each census. How will our future researches know where to find us?

Will they know what years you lived in California , or New Jersey? Was there a census at any time when you lived somewhere else. The last fifty years our society has been very mobile. The goal is to record the dates and locations in you life, so far. That way future researches can find you and any record that you may produced. We all have a great-grandfather we haven't found yet. Why should we put our future researchers at such a disadvantage? So record the facts of your life, you have the birth, confirmation, and marriage, and someone else will record your death. The question I am putting forth is, could someone follow you thru the census records?

Do this for some else. You could also record the information for your parents or inlaws. Imagine what a resource you could create for your family history. You could provide researchers a guide, a road map for years of fruitful work.

Last Minute Additions: Workshop

An email was received from a visitor to our library about a Genealogical Workshop to be held in Omaha by the Greater Omaha Genealogical Society. The speaker is Darlene C. Joyce. She is a nationally certified professional genealogist in Minnesota. She is a member of the Board of Directors of MN Genealogy Society and Director of the Assn. Of Professional Genealogists. Chairs a major MGS Cemetery Project. It will be held Oct. 18, 2003 from 9-4.

She will be speaking about the following subjects: Your genealogy Hobby: How to work smarter, not harder. - learn how professional genealogists organize the research process to save time and money, while improving results. Learn tips for organizing your materials; developing timelines and special data summaries that will change the way you work; how to find essential reference works; and strategies for evaluating your present information. Unlock the secrets of place research and learn the real secret to an effective family history: Will discuss strategies for finding land records; special maps; local histories; migration routes; and other valuable background info.....Internet Genealogy - the best/worst of it: tips for finding and getting the most out of some of the major genealogy websites. Gain understanding of what is free, what is not, where to find a few real bargains.

July Meeting Notes by Karen Rogat, Secretary

The Madison County Genealogical Society's met on July 19th. The secretary's and treasurers' reports were read and accepted.

The new nominee's for officers were: John Kielty – President, Ruthie Galitz – Vice President, David Zaruba - Treasurer, and Karen Rogat - Secretary. With no other candidates the entire slate was elected.

Ruthie Galitz requested that any program ideas be directed her way.

John read thet correspondence that was received over the past month. West Point will be having a workshop on October 11th. More details will be coming later.

For the August meeting, we will visit the Pierce Library for a tour and see what genealogical information they have. We will meet at the museum and car pool to Pierce.

A visiting member donated $20.00 toward the purchase of the book "Map Guide to the US Federal Census". The purchase price is $40.00. The society voted to match the $20.00 and the book will be purchased.

Nancy Zaruba stated that the library could use some shelving units above the file cabinets. These will cost about $150.00. The society voted to buy the requested shelving. We were reminded that dues are due in September, $10 individual and $15 family.

July Program For the July program everyone present shared about their research successes and research woes and other interesting genealogical tidbits.

August Program The August program was a tour to the new Pierce Public Library. Their new library has been open not quite a year. They now have a room specifically for genealogical research. In it they have a microfilm reader and another microfilm reader/printer. They have a computer with access to the internet. They have the microfilm for several churches in the Pierce area as well as the Pierce newspaper.

They have a cabinet with index cards to obituaries, weddings and births from the Pierce newspaper. Other tools available include some high school yearbooks, centennial books, and scrapbooks of local collected and indexed information. Many other useful books are also in the cabinet. Two members of the Pierce Co. Genealogical Society were present to assist us. They also have a new self service photocopier. Several items were photocopied and placed in a binder at the Elkhorn Valley Museum and Research Center listing some indexes of materials located at the Pierce Library. Lunch was eaten in Gilman Park beforehand and a good time was had by all.

Review the good/bad news regarding online census images and indexes; strategies for avoiding genealogical trash online; and the power of Internet "networking".

Writing your family history: Explore different options available from journals and scrapbooks to published books of different kinds and some other formats. Discuss planning strategies that allow you to get started right and get the project completed. Explore special resources that can make your task more enjoyable and practical tips that break a big job down into manageable steps. Handout materials for this presentation include resources that will help you put "history" in your family history, and tell genuine life stories that will interest your readers.

If interested must be preregistered (postmarked before 10-10) Cost is $30. Lunch is on your own. For more information contact the Greater Omaha Genealogical Society at PO Box 4011 Omaha, NE 68105.

Genealogy Workshop scheduled

The Elkhorn Valley Genealogy Society and the Leila Stahl Buffett Genealogy Center is sponsoring a Genealogy Workshop on Saturday Oct. 11, 2003, in West Point, Nebraska. It will be held from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. with a catered lunch for those who pre-register by September 30, 2003. The speaker will be Arlene H. Eakle, PhD. She is a national genealogy expert, co-author of Family History for Fun and Profit: The Genealogy Research Process and President and Founder of the Genealogical Institute in Tremonton, Utah.

Topics are: Basic Genealogy Research. This "nuts and bolts" session will discuss the six basic record categories and how they fit together to prove a family tree: 1) Marriage Record, supplemented by Births and Deaths where available, 2) Census Schedules, 3) Probate Files, 4) Cemetery Records, 5) Land and Tax Records, 6) County and Local Histories. Also included: substitute evidence when these basic sources are missing. Beginning-Intermediate level. How to find "lost" genealogical records and genealogy sources outside the library. Get out of the library and discover essential facts about your ancestors. Family sources and little-used local records are often overlooked because they were previously hard to find. New finding aids and research tools allow you to locate these sources. Photographs and portraits, coffin quilts and samplers, historical monuments and markers, museum collections of manuscripts and books, —how to find and use them effectively to fill in gaps on your pedigree, especially births, deaths, and places of origin. Also included: how to evaluate "family records" and use their evidence successfully. Pre-1800 Census Records. Census schedules including school censuses, census substitutes, special chronological indexes and lists—more than 30 different "census" records will be discussed in detail; what they are, how to find them, how to use their evidence to trace your ancestors before 1820. Boost your success rate in these little-used sources. Dusting off the family skeletons. Learn how you can use all your family skeletons—illegitimacy, adoption, divorce, racial intermarriages, vagrancy, desertion, bigamy, insanity, even prostitution—to identify and document your ancestry. Individual case files will be examined. A checklist of "skeletons" is also provided.

Workshop fees are $25/person or $38/couple which includes a catered lunch with a pre-registration deadline of September 30, 2003. For those registering at the door: it will be $35/person or $45/couple and this will not include the catered lunch.

For answer to questions contact: Genealogy Center at 402-372-3831 or Wynona Behling at 402-528-7212 or Joel Ernesti at 402-372-3174.

Send your pre-registration to Marlene Johnson, P. O. Box 44, West Point, NE 68788 and make the check payable to: Leila Stahl Buffet Genealogy Center.

There will be door prizes, free handouts. Books and tapes will also be available for sale.

Also received and installed is some new wire shelving above the file cabinets in the Document Closet to hold boxes. This shelving was purchased by the Madison Co. Genealogical Society and came at the perfect time to hold all of the scrapbooks recently received. Many of these need to have articles photocopied out and filed in the Family and Business files but that will have to wait for another day and another volunteer.

The Volunteers have been working hard this summer to get the People and Business files entered into the computer and labels typed and files filed. What a major accomplishment!!

Reflections of our Past

White, F. H. Sr., Sec 24

Complied by Richard Strenge

Mrs. H. C. Mains of Sioux City, arrived in our city last Thursday evening on a visit to her sister, Mrs. R. A. Malony.

Last Monday was the tenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Chittenden and Mrs. Chittenden gave her husband a surprise party in honor of the occasion. A tempting supper was served during the evening. They received nice presents in tinware. The following ladies and gentlemen were present: Messrs and Mesdames L. Brown, H. B. Hobbs, J. H. Martin, C. S. Snyder, John Scheler, Fred Odell, W. F. Trine and Miss Sonnenschein.

A. T. Reigle of Fairview, better known as "Pappy" Reigle was 80 years old last Saturday and his neighbors gave him a surprise party. Mr. Reigle has lived in that neighborhood for thirty years and is very highly respected. The party took their dinner with them. Wm. Vail, on behalf of those present presented the old gentleman with a large cane bottom chair, a silk scarf, pair of skippers and a cup and saucer. They went home hoping Mr. Reigle would live to enjoy many more birthdays. Those present were James Gibbs and wife, Henry Bryant and wife, Wm. Vail and wife, Henry Witzel and wife, David Brewer and wife, W. P. Every and wife, John Reigle and daughter, Mesdames Eil Hetrick and Peter Boze and John Manning.

Mrs. A. T. Reigle, better known as Grandma Reigle, died at her home in Fairview precinct Monday, aged 77 years. She was an old resident of the county having come here about twenty-seven years ago. She was a good neighbor and all who knew her loved her. The funeral was held yesterday and she was buried in the Fairview cemetery. She leaves beside an aged husband other relatives and a host of friends to mourn her death.
